Outright Split Hinted

Soviet-Red China Row Seen Bitter And Out Of Hand

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The row between Russia and Red China over Communist strategy for communizing the world has become so intensive neither the Soviet nor the Chinese leaders have the power to put an end to it.

U.S. officials said that the dispute could lead to an outright split between the two huge Communist powers although they do not think this is at all probable, at least in the forseeable future.

What they do expect is a continuation of the bitter argument which has produced a sharp ideological division between Moscow and Peiping with a steady but slow worsening of relations between the two Communist governments.

The U.S. policy toward this cold war within the Red bloc is to sit by and see what happens; officials feel that any open effort to exploit the Communist differences would probably backfire.

Evidence is found in a Moscow broadcast to China last week that the Soviet leaders may now be trying to reach over the heads of the Red Chinese leaders and persuade the Chinese rank and file Communists that Soviet policy is right.

The broadcast, made in the classical Mandarin Chinese which is widely understood in China, demanded in effect that Communists everywhere recognize the primary position of the Soviet Communist party in leading the Red international movement.

Considerable interest also was aroused here in an editorial from the Chinese Communist newspaper Peoples Daily that made a bitter attack on President Kennedy's State of the Union message.

Among other things the editorial indicated that the Chinese Reds are building up a new anti-American campaign—at a time when Soviet Premier Khrushchev still is talking about peaceful coexistence with the Western powers.

Kennedy has put his stakes on a split of the Socialist camp," the editorial said. "He and his ilk gloated over the dark clouds that temporarily overcast the Socialist camp; they openly indicated that the prospects were more encouraging than previously to the Western world."

What intrigued the government experts was the admission that "dark clouds temporarily overcast the Socialist camp." Just how dark they are is something that even the best informed men in the U.S. government are unsure of.

But the tendency in official quarters here is to discourage any hope of any real weakening in the Communist bloc or any early gain for the rest of the world from the dispute.

The reason is that Moscow and Peiping are really arguing about the best way to try to bring the rest of the world under control.

General Due Quiz Today On Speech

Trudeau's Anti-Red Speech Censored, Senator Charged

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau testified today that changes made by censors in some of his anti-Communist speeches have "caused me to wonder" but have not prevented me from getting across my basic message."

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate group investigating muzzling charges against the Pentagon questions today one of the officers whose anti-Communist speeches were censored, Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau.

Censoring of Trudeau's speeches by the Defense Department was one of the main examples cited by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., in forcing the investigation by a special Senate Armed Services subcommittee.

Thurmond complained of 10 instances in which, he said, anti-Communist statements had been stricken from speeches by the military to public groups.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said later that all 10 had been cut from speech texts written by Trudeau. The secretary added that Trudeau had made 54 speeches in the year.

Trudeau will be followed on the witness stand by Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

A letter from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suggesting a change in the policy on the censoring of speeches was inserted in the record as the hearings began Tuesday.

"I question the desirability of requiring the topmost government officials, whether military or civilian, to submit to censorship of content—as distinguished from security matters—prior to their utterance," Eisenhower said.

This was done under his and preceding administrations, the former president said, but added that after thoughtful reconsideration, "I incline to the view that when responsible and respected officials feel compelled to submit to censorship, we are smothering the concept of personal responsibility under the practice of heavy-minded and unjustified staff supervision."

But he also said there must be a "rule of reason" in applying policies.

Retired Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, former chief of naval operations, warned against "too much emphasis" on censorship of military men's speeches.

OUSTED LEFTIST leader Antoine Gizenga waves as he is escorted under guard from the United Nations plane that flew him to Leopoldville from Stanleyville. Gizenga was arrested by the army Jan. 14 after a battle at his Stanleyville residence. The U.N. turned Gizenga over to Congo authorities late Monday. Premier Cyrille Adoula indicated he plans to try the former vice president on charges not yet specified. (UPI Telephoto)

Castro Link To Red Bloc Condemned

Argentina, Brazil Join In Common Front On Proposal

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—Latin America's two most powerful nations joined today in a common front proposing hemispheric coexistence with Cuba while condemning Prime Minister Fidel Castro for embracing communism.

The agreement between Argentina and Brazil, who have led rival blocs at the inter-American foreign ministers conference, came in the early morning hours in advance of the conference's first full-dress public debate.

Argentina and Brazil pushed ahead with a compromise proposal to bar Fidel Castro's government from a voice in deliberations of the Organization of American States on the ground that the revolutionary regime does not represent the Cuban people. The door would be left open for Cuba to return to the hemispheric fold should Castro change his ways or should an anti-Communist government emerge in Cuba.

Isolation from the OAS is a penalty far milder than the diplomatic and economic sanctions President Kennedy's team had hoped for when it came to the Inter-American foreign ministers' meeting. Despite fears of congressional anger that would produce opposition to Alliance for Progress appropriations, the U.S. delegation could do little in the face of the opposition from Brazil, Mexico, Argentina and Chile to stiff penalties.

A joint proposal to isolate the Castro government from OAS activities was reported worked out early today after a three-hour conference of the foreign undersecretaries of Argentina, Brazil, Mexico, Chile, Ecuador, Bolivia and Haiti, a group which has come to be known here as the "outer seven."

The proposal was to be submitted today to the seven nations' foreign ministers and then to the Central American delegations for their concurrence before its introduction before the conference.

Merger Plan Revealed By Two Airlines

American, Eastern Seek Stockholder And U.S. Approval

NEW YORK (AP) — American Airlines and Eastern Air Lines will combine into the nation's biggest system if stockholder and government approval is forthcoming.

They announced plans Tuesday to merge.

The consolidated line would be called American Airlines, erasing the name of the pioneer Eastern Air Lines from the roster of American carriers.

The proposal to create a system with $900 million in assets, 39,000 employes and 400 aircraft will be submitted to stockholders of both companies and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board, which has generally encouraged mergers, had no immediate comment.

There was no mention in the announcement of Eddie Rickenbacker, 71, famed World War I air ace who is chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee of Eastern.

An Eastern Air Lines spokesman said only that Rickenbacker would continue to hold those posts as long as Eastern remained an entity.

The merger would be another step in the quickening scramble to tie together competing transportation lines in an effort to pull out of a financial morass.

United Air Lines and heavily-in-debt Capital Airlines merged last May, making United the biggest of the domestic carriers. On the rail front, the New York Central and Pennsylvania systems agreed last week to merge. Other proposed combinations are being pushed.

Wellsville Resident Sentenced On Perjury

Michael (Mike) Provenzano, 38, of 1210 Commerce St., Wellsville, was sentenced to 1-10 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Tuesday after his request for probation was refused.

Provenzano pleaded guilty to perjury Sept. 25 in connection with his divorce trial.

Provenzano and the late Atty. William Lodge of Columbiana were indicted secretly by the September Grand Jury after the Wellsville man claimed the attorney had induced him to lie in testimony in the divorce case. The attorney took his own life while awaiting trial.

Final House Action Set On Postal Boost

Cent Hike On Letter Receives Tentative OK By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has tentatively approved a bill raising postage a penny per letter and increasing "junk mail" rates. Final action is expected today.

The House added $79.2 million to a rate increase bill worked out by the Kennedy administration and House Democratic leaders, producing a measure that would bring in $700 million if accepted by the Senate. There is some doubt on that score, however.

The bill raises first class and air mail rates by a penny, to 5 and 8 cents, for a total increase in those categories of $455 million. It also calls for $53 million more in the rates paid by newspapers and magazines, $171 million more in third-class rates—those used mostly by direct mail advertisers—and about $20 million more in miscellaneous increases.

All increases would be effective next July 1.

It was in third-class rates the administration got more than it asked for. The administration and the House leadership, in a compromise bill, had asked for third-class increases totaling $93 million, which would have covered about 85 per cent of the handling cost of such mail.

2-Way Crash On Lisbon St. Hurts Drivers

Motorist Will Face Charge Following Hospital Release

A Dresden Ave. man was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol as the aftermath of a collision on Lisbon St. Tuesday that injured him and another motorist and demolished both cars, police reported.

A halted 1959 four-door sedan driven by Norman Delaney, 46, of Williams Ave., Fisher Park, was hit from the rear at Lisbon St. and N. Shady Ln. by a 1952 sedan operated by Thomas J. Sullivan, 44, of 770 Dresden Ave., officers said.

Sullivan, facing a drunken driving charge, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with bruises of the nose and chest and abrasions of the knees. His Municipal Court hearing will be delayed pending his release from the hospital.

Delaney was released from the hospital after treatment for bruises of the right shin and abrasions of both hands.

Delaney told police he was halted for a traffic signal about 11:30 a. m. when he heard tires squealing to the rear. He said he attempted to get out of the way, but his car was struck from the rear by Sullivan's.

Sullivan told police he applied his brakes but was unable to stop in time. Patrolman William A. Devon, who investigated, measur-

25,000 Statements On Taxes Due Mailing

LISBON — Over 25,000 statements will be mailed out by Friday covering over 43,000 parcels of real estate for the first - half collection of 1961 taxes, according to Treasurer Vincent C. Judge.

All tax statements will carry a closing date of March 7. "They are mailed as an aid to the collection, any failure to receive the statement gives no legal defense against penalties," taxpayers were warned.

The full year's taxes have been estimated at $5,474,765, with a delinquent listing of $371,775. With 100 per cent collection — which never happens — the county would receive a total of $5,846,540, Judge said.

Rocket Failure Cited

Effort To Launch 5 Satellites Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Rocket failure today ruined an attempt to boost five satellites into orbit simultaneously to probe a number of space mysteries.

The space quintuplets hurtled into the sky at 4:30 a.m. cradled snugly in the nose of an 80-foot Thor-Able-Star rocket. The first stage of the 55-ton rocket performed normally and observers at the Cape saw the second stage ignite.

But 20 minutes after launch the Defense Department announced that the upper stage failed to build up sufficient thrust after ignition and the entire rocket assembly plunged in the Atlantic Ocean far downrange.

Officials said the $3.5-million vehicle fell into the sea "well south of Cuba."

The failure wrecked the United States' most ambitious multiple payload experiment to date. Attempts have been made previously to send three satellites aloft with one booster, but never as many as five.

The five satellites were to have been sprayed into orbit by spring devices much like the pellets from a shotgun charge. Because of this, project officials nicknamed the project "Buckshot."

This was to have been the first of three major U.S. space efforts scheduled this week. On Friday, an Atlas-Agena rocket is slated to hurl a Ranger 3 payload to the moon to take closeup television pictures and land an instrument package on the lunar surface.

The attempt to orbit astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. is set for Saturday.

Doomed by today's failure were: SR-4 (for Solar Radiation 4) to study X-ray radiation from the sun and possibly learn how storms raging across the sun's face affect space near earth.

Injun II to examine the relationship between the outer Van Allen radiation belt and auroral phenomena such as "northern lights."

Lofti II (for Low Frequency Trans-Ionospheric) to study radio wave propagation in the ionosphere in an experiment aimed at devising better earth and space radio communications systems.

Secor (for Sequential Collation of Range) to test techniques for future satellites which will map the earth.

Surcal (for Space Surveillance System Calibration) to study mea of improving the Navy's satellite detection system stetching across the Southern United States.

Warren's City Income Tax Boosted To 1%

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — City Council has doubled the city income tax from one half cent to one cent per $1 of earnings effective Feb. 1. The new rate will be continued until Dec. 31, 1966.

Councilmen passed the measure as an emergency by a 9-1 vote. The action was taken Tuesday to provide funds for Warren's share of a $51-million general improvements program, recently offered by the Trumbull County Regional Planning Commission.

The income tax boost places Warren's rate in the same bracket as Girard, Niles, McDonald and Youngstown.

Signs Point To Orbit Trip On Saturday

Astronaut Follows 'D-Minus 3' Plan Awaiting Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Relaxed and with a fresh crewcut, astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. today followed his "D-minus 3" routine with all signs pointing to an attempt to orbit him around the earth on Saturday.

The schedule three days before flight usually calls for rest, relaxation, sun and exercise, sleep and reading and a few technical meetings. There is also a change in diet, to begin eating foods creating little body waste.

Within about 24 hours, experts had located and repaired a leak in the oxygen flow system in Glenn's capsule, putting in a new valve and ducting. This fault had forced a postponement in his flight, once set for today.

Glenn personally checked out the life-supporting systems in the capsule Tuesday. His back-up pilot, M. Scott Carpenter, flew a pretended three-orbit, 4½-hour mission in space.

Second Baptist Case

Minister Must Vacate Parsonage In East End

The Rev. R. L. Latimore must vacate the parsonage of the Second Baptist Church, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff ruled Tuesday afternoon after hearing three hours of testimony and argument in an eviction action brought against the veteran minister by the Board of Trustees of the East End church.

But the case was decided solely upon the three basic points of law governing any eviction action and its outcome does not settle the argument over whether or not Rev. Latimore still is pastor of the church he has served for 15 years, the judge announced in his ruling to a packed courtroom.

Queried later, the judge said the minister has approximately 10 days to vacate the premises. The action was brought against Rev. Latimore by Hunston Richardson, acting as chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Atty. Lawrence W. Smith appeared for the plaintiff and Atty. Bernard Fineman represented the defendant. The case stretched from 10 a. m. until the noon recess, resumed again shortly after 1 and continued until 2, when the judge announced his ruling. An overflow crowd packed the courtroom throughout.

The plaintiff's case was based on the minutes of a church business meeting at which a motion was enacted to declare the pulpit vacant. In addition, the plaintiff presented evidence that the minister was served with notice to vacate the parsonage. A receipt signed by Rev. Latimore acknowledging that the notice had been served, also was presented

Second Files In Clerk Race

Theodore Zagula Is Hancock Candidate

Theodore J. Zagula, 43, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 filed Tuesday as a Democratic candidate in the May 8 primary for clerk of Hancock County Circuit Court.

Zagula, who resides on Route 66, is an independent insurance agent with an office in Newell.

He is the second to enter the race for the nomination of clerk. Dan Grossi of Weirton filed earlier. The post has been filled for 18 years by Lou H. Hill of Weirton.

Born and reared in Chester, Zagula is a lifetime resident of the county. He was unsuccessful in a bid for the nomination to the House of Delegates in the 1958 primary.

Zagula is a member of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church and the Holy Name Society of New Cumberland, and American Legion Post 121 of Chester.

He served six and a half years in the Army in the European Theater in World War II. Zagula is married and has a daughter.

Candidates have until midnight Feb. 3 to file for the primary. Voters will also nominate candidates for the posts of county clerk, member of the House of Delegates, Clay District commissioner, and two seats on the Board of Education from Grant District.

Final House Action Set On Postal Boost

Cent Hike On Letter Receives Tentative OK By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has tentatively approved a bill raising postage a penny per letter and increasing "junk mail" rates. Final action is expected today.

The House added $79.2 million to a rate increase bill worked out by the Kennedy administration and House Democratic leaders, producing a measure that would bring in $700 million if accepted by the Senate. There is some doubt on that score, however.

The bill raises first class and air mail rates by a penny, to 5 and 8 cents, for a total increase in those categories of $455 million. Warren's City Income Tax Boosted To 1%

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — City Council has doubled the city income tax from one half cent to one cent per $1 of earnings effective Feb. 1. The new rate will be continued until Dec. 31, 1966.

Councilmen passed the measure as an emergency by a 9-1 vote. The action was taken Tuesday to provide funds for Warren's share of a $51-million general improvements program, recently offered by the Trumbull County Regional Planning Commission.

The income tax boost places Warren's rate in the same bracket as Girard, Niles, McDonald and Youngstown.

Signs Point To Orbit Trip On Saturday

Astronaut Follows 'D-Minus 3' Plan Awaiting Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Relaxed and with a fresh crewcut, astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. today followed his "D-minus 3" routine with all signs pointing to an attempt to orbit him around the earth on Saturday.

The schedule three days before flight usually calls for rest, relaxation, sun and exercise, sleep and reading and a few technical meetings. There is also a change in diet, to begin eating foods creating little body waste.

Within about 24 hours, experts had located and repaired a leak in the oxygen flow system in Glenn's capsule, putting in a new valve and ducting. This fault had forced a postponement in his flight, once set for today.

Glenn personally checked out the life-supporting systems in the capsule Tuesday. His back-up pilot, M. Scott Carpenter, flew a pretended three-orbit, 4½-hour mission in space.

Second Baptist Case

Minister Must Vacate Parsonage In East End

The Rev. R. L. Latimore must vacate the parsonage of the Second Baptist Church, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff ruled Tuesday afternoon after hearing three hours of testimony and argument in an eviction action brought against the veteran minister by the Board of Trustees of the East End church.

But the case was decided solely upon the three basic points of law governing any eviction action and its outcome does not settle the argument over whether or not Rev. Latimore still is pastor of the church he has served for 15 years, the judge announced in his ruling to a packed courtroom.

Queried later, the judge said the minister has approximately 10 days to vacate the premises. The action was brought against Rev. Latimore by Hunston Richardson, acting as chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Atty. Lawrence W. Smith appeared for the plaintiff and Atty. Bernard Fineman represented the defendant. The case stretched from 10 a. m. until the noon recess, resumed again shortly after 1 and continued until 2, when the judge announced his ruling. An overflow crowd packed the courtroom throughout.

The plaintiff's case was based on the minutes of a church business meeting at which a motion was enacted to declare the pulpit vacant. In addition, the plaintiff presented evidence that the minister was served with notice to vacate the parsonage. A receipt signed by Rev. Latimore acknowledging that the notice had been served, also was presented

Theodore Zagula Is Hancock Candidate

Theodore J. Zagula, 43, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 filed Tuesday as a Democratic candidate in the May 8 primary for clerk of Hancock County Circuit Court.

Zagula, who resides on Route 66, is an independent insurance agent with an office in Newell.

He is the second to enter the race for the nomination of clerk. Dan Grossi of Weirton filed earlier. The post has been filled for 18 years by Lou H. Hill of Weirton.

Born and reared in Chester, Zagula is a lifetime resident of the county. He was unsuccessful in a bid for the nomination to the House of Delegates in the 1958 primary.

Zagula is a member of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church and the Holy Name Society of New Cumberland, and American Legion Post 121 of Chester.

He served six and a half years in the Army in the European Theater in World War II. Zagula is married and has a daughter.

Candidates have until midnight Feb. 3 to file for the primary. Voters will also nominate candidates for the posts of county clerk, member of the House of Delegates, Clay District commissioner, and two seats on the Board of Education from Grant District.

Bill At Passage Stage

Special Grants To Schools Loom In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Senate had up for passage today a bill to provide special grants to counties to tide them over while their regular state school aid allocations are catching up with enrollment increases.

Based on present enrollment figures, 30 counties with growing school enrollments would be eligible for the supplemental grants.

The Department of Education and the Board of School Finance proposed the bill and are asking a $400,000 special appropriation to put it into effect.

In the regular distribution of state aid to the county school systems, which now runs more than $58 million a year, there can be a lag of as much as 19 months between an enrollment increase and the time when it is first reflected in a higher aid allocation.

The pending bill is designed to help counties during the period when they are meeting the expenses of enrollment increases but are not yet receiving regular aid based on the higher enrollment.

The supplemental aid allocations would be calculated on the basis of November enrollment each year and would be distributed the following January. For each additional pupil, as compared to the previous year, the county would get a supplemental grant equal to its calculated per-pupil share of regular aid.

If the bill were in effect now, the following counties would be eligible for $393,524 in grants to cover growth of 2,865 in enrollment from November 1960 to November 1961:

Berkeley, Brooke, Cabell, Calhoun, Doddridge, Gilmer, Greenbrier, Hancock, Hardy, Jackson, Jefferson, Kanawha, Lewis, Lincoln, Marshall, Mason, Mercer, Mineral, Morgan, Pleasants, Pocahonta, Putnam, Randolph, Roane, Summers, Taylor, Upshur, Wayne, Wood and Wirt.

Multiple Sclerosis Is Topic Of Speaker For Quota Club

Mrs. Helen Fadeley of Salem, a representative of the Tru-Ma-Col Multiple Sclerosis Chapter, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday night with Miss Phyllis Crook of W. 5th St. Twenty-five attended.

Introduced by Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, program chairman, she told of what is being done locally by the three-county group of volunteer workers. She screened a filmstrip, "In Sickness and In Health," narrated by actress Joan Crawford. A question-and-answer period followed.

Miss Crook, president, conducted business. Miss Gladys DeBolt was acting secretary.

A contribution of $25 was given to the Quota International Fellowship Fund in memory of Miss Myrtle Finnie, the first death in the membership.

The group will also send a donation to the "Meals for Millions" international project with the money going to Haiti. The annual contributions to the Hospital Twig were received.

Dr. Edith Gilmore was named chairman of the nominating committee with Mrs. Hilda McEwen and Miss Justine Miller. Mrs. Dorothy Horsley was named remembrance chairman to fill an unexpired term.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Gladys Smith and Mrs. Clara Hall, associate hostesses. The buffet table was centered with an arrangement of pink and white carnations flanked by pink tapers in crystal holders. The president poured. Mrs. Gladys Lemon was a guest.

Mrs. Charlotte Shaffer of Toledo, governor of the 6th District, will be guest speaker at the dinner meeting Feb. 13 at the Travelers Hotel. Mrs. Marie Hayes will be in charge of arrangements.

If Progress Could Be Bought

It is easy to get the idea that the United States is struggling uphill with its program of progress for Latin America.

In the current meeting at Punta del Esta in Uruguay there also is strong resistance to U.S. ideas for hastening the casting out of Castro in Cuba.

In the background of the Alliance for Progress, the multi-billion-dollar plan for neatening up Latin America with U.S. funds and technical know-how seems to be having an uphill struggle, too. People in a position to know say this may be one of the worst bloopers of the still young Kennedy administration. They say the Alliance for Progress has confronted Latin American governments with specifications for progress that are beyond their reach.

We have been reading the Declaration to the Peoples of America, which is the official statement issued last August by the special meeting of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council at the Ministerial Level held in Punta del Este—and no wonder there's an uphill pull to get the Alliance for Progress in motion.

THE DECLARATION says the members of the alliance pledge themselves to reform their tax laws, "demanding more from those who have most, to punish tax evasion severely and to redistribute the national income in order to benefit those who are most in need, while. . . promoting savings and investment and reinvestment of capital." Is the United States going to do this too?

It says they will wipe out illiteracy—and this in countries whose illiteracy rates range upward to 85 per cent of their populations.

It says they will wipe out unemployment, a miracle that even our own Secretary of Labor Goldberg is backing away from because he doesn't know where to begin.

It says they will maintain monetary policies that will provide an adequate basis for economic development, a tender point in the United States at present, because the Kennedy administration is being accused of putting its political finger in the eye of some of this country's would-be economic developers.

And by way of a really sweeping statement, it says "the countries of Latin America agree to devote a steadily increasing share of their own resources to economic and social development, and to make the reforms necessary to assure that all share fully in the fruits of the Alliance for Progress."

THIS IS THE kind of statement that is too rich and drippy for even the sauve diplomats and political careerists who call the governmental turn in Latin America. Government service for them is not so much a challenge to give everybody a share in the fruits of progress as it is to cope with opponents who are trying to ease them out of power with violence if necessary.

Yet, in the face of all this, the United States is trying to tell its American neighbors how to dispose of Castro in Cuba. Is it any wonder if our neighbors sometimes murmur to one another behind their clenched fists, "Is there anything these damned Yanquis admit they can't buy with money?"

The money in this instance is one billion dollars on the line, plus another 10 billion by 1971. Don't bet Latin America won't get it.

Not Quite A Royal Appointment

Clare Boothe Luce has had a romp in a current magazine with the subject of Jacqueline Kennedy's clothes designers, which reminds some of us who wouldn't know one designer from another that this sort of thing could get out of hand.

Nothing can keep women from eyeing each other in private wars over clothes. But if they used their claws too aggressively we the people could pull their claws out by the roots with laws forbidding citizens of the United States from taking advantage of the White House.

Under monarchy it's a racket to claim goods and services are being purveyed to the throne by special appointment. It's one of the ways royalty manages to keep down overhead. But there's no need for it in the United States, least of all in the case of the Kennedys.

According to Mrs. Luce, Mrs. Kennedy always should show a strong preference for American clothes designers and give the brushoff to French designers.

All that remains to be done now to Mrs. Luce is for a snoop to catalogue her wardrobe to see whether she practices what she preaches—and that, presumably, will be done. But it's a matter between the two ladies, unless it gets out of hand.

The matter between all ladies and the rest of us who don't care what label is sewed in a garment as long at it doesn't look like a feed bag made over to order on a sewing machine on the kitchen table is this:

If you ladies and the men designers ever get into a girly-type fight over who gets credit for our First Lady's wardrobe, with squealing and pouting and scratching and biting, we the people will pass a law forbidding anyone to acknowledge he is doing anything by "appointment" to the White House.

Lower Honored

Floyd Lower's long record of community service reached new heights at Miami Beach Tuesday when the Columbiana County agriculture agent was installed as national president of the Ruritan Clubs of America.

To head this organization made up of farmers, businessmen and professional men in rural and suburban areas — the sixth-ranking civic group in the nation and the first in growth percentage — is a significant honor for Lower and the county he has served for 38 years.

Anyone acquainted with this quietly efficient and capable leader knows he will serve Ruritan well.

This new laurel for Lower enhances his stature within the service club and on the national scene. But to the farmers, businessmen and others in contact with the county extension office at Lisbon, Lower's chief attribute will remain his continuing dedication to his job over three and a half decades.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Been trying to understand the President's $92.53 billion budget for almost a week and the doctor says we will get over the dizzy spell in a few months. Lot of money is going for trip to the moon but this seems foolish, since the budget has already gone higher.

It covers everything from better break for Hiawatha's descendants, Indus Valley, sick hogs and Sioux Indians having trouble in peapatch, up to making better nesting places for waterfowl. (Watch this last idea. Give a duck, whooping crane or Canadian goose better nesting security and it will want shorter flying day, a bonus for egg laying and coffee break between wing flappings.)

President is for extended "recreational opportunities, relating to fish and wild life." (We are still betting he can never get a salmon, rainbow trout, park grizzly bear or woodpecker appreciative enough to enter a voting booth.)

Request for money to protect wild life, is first indication Democrats hope to stop the "Twist," through federal interference. But maybe president is just after pedestrians at busy crossings, and TV script writers.

Money is also wanted for "encouragement of better small-arms marksmanship by civilians." This shows White House has been watching all those stray shots in "Gunsmoke, "Laramie" "Highway Patrol" and "Rawhide."

Looks like New Frontier will penetrate the states of Skyzalimitania, Moremoolah and Outer Spendolia.

Nothing will be needed to balance budget except help of astrologists, fortune tellers, rabbits' feet, luxury postage stamps, loss of voices by Mike Quill and Jimmy Hoffa and government support of four-leaf clovers.

New Frontier may have luxury motels at crossroads, built-in swimming pools in covered wagons and credit cards when hiring Indian guides. Educational needs are emphasized and, as we see it, at least a billion should be spent fast for a College of High Mathematics so people could read a budget message and comprehend 10 per cent of it.

UNDER THE FIVE-HOUR DAY it will take a tough worker to ask "Could I get a little time off?"

With 100-horsepower outboard motors now on market, the trend seems certain toward a boat that will give occupants sensation they are rounding moon when just rounding channel buoy.

Just heard story of customer found in cabin.

Motorboat Show cruiser two days after show closed, and who gave as his excuse "I was just waiting for the tide to rise."

Deer were encountered on Pebble Beach golf links the other day. (On, Donder! On, Comet! On, Duffer and Hacker!)

Cleanup drives get curious reflection in New York when anti-litter campaign in subways sought publicity through train featuring cocktail bar, champagne, wall-to-wall carpeting, etc. New York, which just put automated train in operation, was so to speak, followed by a "bubble-matic" or "Whoosh-button" type. It may have set anti-litter campaigns back ten years.

Who can succumb to spirit of champaigne while lurching around a curve? Or watch the bubbles sparkle while hanging onto strap?

Odd Facts

Teen-agers today are taller and bigger than in yesteryear. Recent figures for boys 15 to 16 show an average increase in height of 1.8 inch and a gain of 10 pounds in weight over the past 40 years. For boys 17 to 19, the gain was 1.6 inch and about 10 pounds. Girls 15 to 16 showed an average height increase of 0.6 inch, add a gain of a little over 1¼ pound, but the 17-to-19 age group had a gain of only 0.4 inch in height and a weight loss of three pounds.

Vatican City, the independent papal state situated within the commune of Rome, Italy, was created Feb. 11, 1929. With an area of 108.7 acres and an average population of about 1,000. Vatican City has its own railway station, newspapers, postal facilities, coinage, and radio and television systems.

The first log cabin in America was built by some Swedish settlers near Wilmington, Del. These settlers landed in 1683, built a town mostly of log cabins, and named it Christinaham, after their queen. Later the name of the town was changed to Wilmington.

FBI Smashes Mob Tradition

By Victor Riesel

PITTSBURGH

A lethal legend has been wiped out by the FBI. Mob tradition was smashed the other day, when the "bureau" quite quickly solved a crime syndicate killing. A labor leader had been murdered. Traditionally, there's a hit (an attack), a run, the escape into the night or a crowd and the hired killers can report no errors to their clients in another city.

Victor Riesel

During my trip across the brutally freezing Midwest, I learned it was different in the case of the three-month-old mystery of the slaying of John (Jack) Kilpatrick. He led a small independent union. He crusaded. He worked with the federal grand juries in Chicago.

He was shot behind the ear on Oct. 20. J. Edgar Hoover's agents soon saturated the case.

The bureau men discovered that the Chicago crime combine had hired three Detroit hoods to make the "hit" in Chicago itself.

PULLING GUNMEN in from another city is SOP (Standard Operating Procedure). They are hired by "cutouts" men who can't be identified with the original client. But it was the misfortune of these guns-for-hire that the FBI crowded them. Not only did the bureau's own intelligence network learn that there were three hoods involved—but the federals identified them, names, addresses, sheets (records), et al.

The FBI even learned the price for the hit on Kilpatrick, the 55-year-old president of the United Industrial Workers of America and head of its Local 300. The foray's tab was $4,000 to eliminate the courageous Chicagoan. Kilpatrick had been attempting to keep his own units out of the crime syndicate's hands.

He was also using his organizations as an operating base to drive hoods from control of independent units in 12 Chicago area factories.

All this the FBI obtained in a written confession from one of the trigger trio. He "copped a plea" —meanmg he said he was willing to testify against the others. I understand his share of the tab was to be $1,000.

A second muscle man was to get another grand (thousand) and the gunman himself was priced in at $2,000. In spite of three rehearsals, the gunman messed himself up a bit during the actual execution. There was blood on his clothes.

THIS WAS embarrassing even in impolite society. So the trigger man went to the home of a friend in the suburbs. There he and his host cut up the bloodied clothes so minutely that they could flush them down the kitchen drain. So say those who have seen an FBI report on the probe.

The bureau moved in its technicians. They not only got into the drain, they went into the sewer. Soon the FBI men had sufficient evidence to pin their man.

J. Edgar Hoover's people then turned their findings over to the Chicago police, because there had been no federal violation.

The FBI's absorption with the businesslike professional slaying of Jack Kilpatrick had sprung from his cooperation with a federal grand jury. Now, grim and tragic though it was—this taking of a man's life by men for hire —the "hit" was nonetheless a local crime.

TECHNICALLY, that is. By the standards of our truck-sized loophole law, that is.

There ought to be a law, it seems to me, without having consulted J. Edgar Hoover. It should give the FBI jurisdiction over violence against all such crusades of all the Kilpatricks of the land.

True, his was a small union. But an injury to one is an injury to all. In his field Kilpatrick had been fighting against one Angelo Inciso, from whose controlled setup of independent unions Kilpatrick had split off his own group.

Incisco has been convicted of taking $420,000 in illegal insurance payments from employers. This money was to cover the welfare and health of his members.

Instead, in a court of law, Inciso was convicted of stealing their security. Inciso is out on appeal, living well. Kilpatrick who fought this is dead.

If that's not the federal government's jurisdiction, then it is time it was. There ought to be a law.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — A program of old - fashioned songs, with Mrs. Don Smith leader, was enjoyed by members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Orchard Grove Ave. Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mrs. George Bowyer was renamed president of the Friendly Art Club.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hobbs of Maine Blvd. left for Texas to spend the remainder of the winter.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Keith McCutcheon, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon of Thompson Ave., was promoted to the rank of captain in the Marine Corps.

Miss Mary Edna Boyd, director of nurses at City Hospital, addressed a group of junior and senior girls interested in nursing.

Twenty - one East Liverpool merchants participated in a city-wide program of encouraging purchasers to carry their own packages in an effort to conserve existing tire supplies in the face of the war emergency's rubber shortage.

TEN YEARS AGO — Burglars carried away 10 customers' suits valued at $500 or more from the Patterson Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. Plant at E. 3rd & Walnut Sts.

Frank E. Foreman, John M. Gamble, Albert Lockhart and Robert F. Curran, all of East Liverpool, enlisted in the Navy.

Refugee Flood

The flood of refugees into Hong Kong has been a mixed blessing for the small British Colony on the broad face of Red China.

"Hong Kong Has Many Faces," in National Geographic Magazine, describes the progress and problems of that bustling metropolis. The author, assistant editor John Scofield, recently returned from a lengthy tour of the Orient.

Refugees and their doings are still the biggest single fact about Hong Kong, the author writes. Their energy, skill and money are found in the clattering textile mills, new hotels, housing developments and factories which turn out everything from canned fried rice and plastic flowers to shoes, steel and ships.

"To the jet - borne visitor from the West," he says, "Hong Kong beckons as the world's most alluring bargain counter."

The semi - tropical, tax-free port offers Swiss watches at less than Swiss prices, duty -exempt cameras, silks from Thailand and Chinese antiques. Custom-tailored suits of Italian cloth or British tweed can be made in less than a day at one-third what they would cost in the United States.

In the past decade, more than a million refugees have fled Communist China. The result is what Gov. Sir Robert Black described as Hong Kong's most serious problem — "the press of population" in an area of 398 square miles.

The animal with the thickest skin is the whale. Some have been killed whose skins measured as much as two feet thick.

President's Popularity

By David Lawrence

Public Backs Kennedy In First Year

The latest Gallup Poll is the talk of the town. It isn't merely because the rating at the end of the first 12 months is higher for President Kennedy than it was for the last three presidents after their first year but because of a peculiar emergence of what was referred to as a religious factor in the last campaign.

David Lawrence

For the poll shows that 88 per cent of the Catholics manifested approval as contrasted with 73 per cent of the Protestants.

Just why Catholics should differ from Protestants in their appraisal after the first year of a president who happens to be a Catholic is not explained, especially since it has been taken for granted recently in political circles that Mr. Kennedy had alienated many of his supporters among Catholics because of his adamant opposition to federal aid to private or parochial schools.

Perhaps the key is to be found in a natural pride among Catholics that President Kennedy has shown himself to be a man of sincerity and earnest application to duty and indeed this is doubtless one reason why among all voters he has attained a high rating in the Gallup Poll.

Thus, for instance, the poll shows that while 87 per cent of the Democrats expressed a favorable opinion of Mr. Kennedy, as many as 58 per cent of the Republicans and 75 per cent of the Independents did likewise.

The question posed in the poll was: "Do you approve or disapprove of the way Kennedy is handling his job as president?" Many people who would say "yes" in answer might say the opposite if asked specifically whether in an election held right now they would cast their ballot for him.

There's quite a difference between applauding a man's conscientious effort to perform the duties of the presidential office and passing judgment on the specific steps a president has taken in domestic and international policy.

On the whole, as the citizen answers the Gallup Poll's question, he would be likely to give Mr. Kennedy an "A" for effort. The "way he has handled his job" could mean the image that the public has obtained of an earnest young man, anxious to learn while beset with a multitude of nerve-racking problems.

INTERNATIONALLY speaking, for example, Mr. Kennedy has certainly maintained the basic principles of American foreign policy, though it remains to be seen how he will eventually deal with the Cuban problem.

On domestic issues, Mr. Kennedy has hardly had a chance yet to mark out his course. Many of the recommendations he has made are subject to criticism but the public generally is not aware of the pitfalls of his economic policies. They will be only if such policies bring on another recession and more unemployment.

Businessmen, who know from experience the consequences that may flow from some of the unsound theories which Mr. Kennedy with the best of intentions has accepted from the hands of his advisers, would rather wait a year or more before coming to conclusions about the Kennedy administration.

They still can't believe he will swallow the economic fallacies that characterized the New Deal's 7 - year failure to "prime the pump" in the biggest depression in our history.

But, for all practical purposes, the Gallup Poll seems an accurate measure of the trend of public opinion as a whole.

The favorable image which the county has of President Kennedy is largely due to one of the most powerful and comprehensive publicity campaigns ever untertaken by an American president. Not even Theodore Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt, who were masters of the ways of getting publicity, can compare with him for Mr. Kennedy has a politician's conviction that a favorable press is nine-tenths of the battle for votes.

It should not for a moment be inferred from this that the press is slanted in its news reports. On the contrary, these have been as objective as could be desired. But the difference from the preceding administration is that Mr. Kennedy makes news that has to be reported — and so does his energetic wife. Youth is a novelty in the White House, and that in itself makes news.

Every time such innovations as water skiing or horseback riding are introduced or a new emphasis is given to arts and music, it makes news for the women's pages.

THE PRESIDENT is a keen student of publicity. He doesn't ask anyone to commend him but merely to give his side a fair presentation. This is all that's really necessary, especially when the opposition is so weak, disorganized and unperceptive that it doesn't make enough news to offset the administration's efforts.

Granting that a favorable image of President Kennedy has been produced by the barrage of publicity he has gotten in his first year, it also can be traced to his policy of caution in international affairs — the branch of his job which has had much of the limelight in the last 12 months.

The time to judge a president is at the end of his term and not at the end of his first year. This writer recalls how William Howard Taft was inaugurated in March 1909 after receiving the second largest electoral vote ever given a president up to that time, and enjoyed popularity during his first year. In fact, he was a likeable personality anyway, but at the end of four years his party had split apart on economic issues, and his faction got only eight votes in the Electoral College in his bid for re-election.

It's more important always to know what the employment and economic condition of the country will be when a presidential election rolls around. That's usually the key issue and it had more to do with Nixon's defeat than is generally accepted by political observers.

I think the best idea for insuring people against the high cost of prolonged and unpredictable illness is private insurance coverage, with provisions for the federal government to pay premiums for indigent insurees.

One of my culinary regrets is that I waited too long before learning to enjoy Devonshire Cream on baked potatoes. I refuse to refer to this delicacy as "sour cream" a loathesome phrase that recalls childhood encounters with cream that had soured because of inadequate refrigeration and pasteurization.

I find it's easy to get a rise out of sports buffs by telling them pediatricians are injecting gland goop into babies, to produce the first 8-foot basketball player and the first 500-pound football player.

There are days when the least important thing in the world seems to me to be what is going on in places like Dutch New Guinea, where nothing of any importance ever went on before and is unlikely to go on now—about 364 days a year.

Everybody regards railroad mergers as a sign that something went wrong with railroad business when airlines took away the passenger crop, but what are people supposed to think about airline mergers? All mergers are for the same reason. Managers are trying to cut costs of operation.

I do not expect to enjoy anything on television more than I enjoyed the slow-motion sequences of circus aerial acts in the DuPont-sponsored "Circus," with narration by my favorite clown, Emmett Kelly.

There always have been three classes of workers in the United States—skilled, semi-skilled and common. As requirements for holding a job have risen a fourth class has been added—the unemployable, many of them formerly unteachables when attending school.

I find increasing evidence that my faith in government by compromise, conciliation and compassion is not widely shared. Most people despise this concept and sniff at it in practice, because they prefer to operate on a dictatorship principle, as long as they are giving orders.

I have never made up my mind what I think of Dean Rusk, secretary of state. But I will say without qualification that if all baldies looked like Rusk baldness would be fashionable.

If Progress Could Be Bought

It is easy to get the idea that the United States is struggling uphill with its program of progress for Latin America.

In the current meeting at Punta del Esta in Uruguay there also is strong resistance to U.S. ideas for hastening the casting out of Castro in Cuba.

In the background of the Alliance for Progress, the multi-billion-dollar plan for neatening up Latin America with U.S. funds and technical know-how seems to be having an uphill struggle, too. People in a position to know say this may be one of the worst bloopers of the still young Kennedy administration. They say the Alliance for Progress has confronted Latin American governments with specifications for progress that are beyond their reach.

We have been reading the Declaration to the Peoples of America, which is the official statement issued last August by the special meeting of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council at the Ministerial Level held in Punta del Este—and no wonder there's an uphill pull to get the Alliance for Progress in motion.

THE DECLARATION says the members of the alliance pledge themselves to reform their tax laws, "demanding more from those who have most, to punish tax evasion severely and to redistribute the national income in order to benefit those who are most in need, while. . . promoting savings and investment and reinvestment of capital." Is the United States going to do this too?

It says they will wipe out illiteracy—and this in countries whose illiteracy rates range upward to 85 per cent of their populations.

It says they will wipe out unemployment, a miracle that even our own Secretary of Labor Goldberg is backing away from because he doesn't know where to begin.

It says they will maintain monetary policies that will provide an adequate basis for economic development, a tender point in the United States at present, because the Kennedy administration is being accused of putting its political finger in the eye of some of this country's would-be economic developers.

And by way of a really sweeping statement, it says "the countries of Latin America agree to devote a steadily increasing share of their own resources to economic and social development, and to make the reforms necessary to assure that all share fully in the fruits of the Alliance for Progress."

THIS IS THE kind of statement that is too rich and drippy for even the sauve diplomats and political careerists who call the governmental turn in Latin America. Government service for them is not so much a challenge to give everybody a share in the fruits of progress as it is to cope with opponents who are trying to ease them out of power with violence if necessary.

Yet, in the face of all this, the United States is trying to tell its American neighbors how to dispose of Castro in Cuba. Is it any wonder if our neighbors sometimes murmur to one another behind their clenched fists, "Is there anything these damned Yanquis admit they can't buy with money?"

The money in this instance is one billion dollars on the line, plus another 10 billion by 1971. Don't bet Latin America won't get it.

Not Quite A Royal Appointment

Clare Boothe Luce has had a romp in a current magazine with the subject of Jacqueline Kennedy's clothes designers, which reminds some of us who wouldn't know one designer from another that this sort of thing could get out of hand.

Nothing can keep women from eyeing each other in private wars over clothes. But if they used their claws too aggressively we the people could pull their claws out by the roots with laws forbidding citizens of the United States from taking advantage of the White House.

Under monarchy it's a racket to claim goods and services are being purveyed to the throne by special appointment. It's one of the ways royalty manages to keep down overhead. But there's no need for it in the United States, least of all in the case of the Kennedys.

According to Mrs. Luce, Mrs. Kennedy always should show a strong preference for American clothes designers and give the brushoff to French designers.

All that remains to be done now to Mrs. Luce is for a snoop to catalogue her wardrobe to see whether she practices what she preaches—and that, presumably, will be done. But it's a matter between the two ladies, unless it gets out of hand.

The matter between all ladies and the rest of us who don't care what label is sewed in a garment as long at it doesn't look like a feed bag made over to order on a sewing machine on the kitchen table is this:

If you ladies and the men designers ever get into a girly-type fight over who gets credit for our First Lady's wardrobe, with squealing and pouting and scratching and biting, we the people will pass a law forbidding anyone to acknowledge he is doing anything by "appointment" to the White House.

Lower Honored

Floyd Lower's long record of community service reached new heights at Miami Beach Tuesday when the Columbiana County agriculture agent was installed as national president of the Ruritan Clubs of America.

To head this organization made up of farmers, businessmen and professional men in rural and suburban areas — the sixth-ranking civic group in the nation and the first in growth percentage — is a significant honor for Lower and the county he has served for 38 years.

Anyone acquainted with this quietly efficient and capable leader knows he will serve Ruritan well.

This new laurel for Lower enhances his stature within the service club and on the national scene. But to the farmers, businessmen and others in contact with the county extension office at Lisbon, Lower's chief attribute will remain his continuing dedication to his job over three and a half decades.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Been trying to understand the President's $92.53 billion budget for almost a week and the doctor says we will get over the dizzy spell in a few months. Lot of money is going for trip to the moon but this seems foolish, since the budget has already gone higher.

It covers everything from better break for Hiawatha's descendants, Indus Valley, sick hogs and Sioux Indians having trouble in peapatch, up to making better nesting places for waterfowl. (Watch this last idea. Give a duck, whooping crane or Canadian goose better nesting security and it will want shorter flying day, a bonus for egg laying and coffee break between wing flappings.)

President is for extended "recreational opportunities relating to fish and wild life." (We are still betting he can never get a salmon, rainbow trout, park grizzly bear or woodpecker appreciative enough to enter a voting booth.)

Request for money to protect wild life, is first indication Democrats hope to stop the "Twist," through federal interference. But maybe president is just after pedestrians at busy crossings, and TV script writers.

Money is also wanted for "encouragement of better small-arms marksmanship by civilians." This shows White House has been watching all those stray shots in "Gunsmoke, "Laramie" "Highway Patrol" and "Rawhide."

Looks like New Frontier will penetrate the states of Skyzalimitania, Moremoolah and Outer Spendolia.

Nothing will be needed to balance budget except help of astrologists, fortune tellers, rabbits' feet, luxury postage stamps, loss of voices by Mike Quill and Jimmy Hoffa and government support of four-leaf clovers.

New Frontier may have luxury motels at crossroads, built-in swimming pools in covered wagons and credit cards when hiring Indian guides. Educational needs are emphasized and, as we see it, at least a billion should be spent fast for a College of High Mathematics so people could read a budget message and comprehend 10 per cent of it.

UNDER THE FIVE-HOUR DAY it will take a tough worker to ask "Could I get a little time off?"

With 100-horsepower outboard motors now on market, the trend seems certain toward a boat that will give occupants sensation they are rounding moon when just rounding channel buoy.

Cleanup drives get curious reflection in New York when anti-litter campaign in subways sought publicity through train featuring cocktail bar, champagne, wall-to-wall carpeting, etc. New York, which just put automated train in operation, was so to speak, followed by a "bubble-matic" or "Whoosh-button" type. It may have set anti-litter campaigns back ten years.

Who can succumb to spirit of champaigne while lurching around a curve? Or watch the bubbles sparkle while hanging onto strap?

Odd Facts

Teen-agers today are taller and bigger than in yesteryear. Recent figures for boys 15 to 16 show an average increase in height of 1.8 inch and a gain of 10 pounds in weight over the past 40 years. For boys 17 to 19, the gain was 1.6 inch and about 10 pounds. Girls 15 to 16 showed an average height increase of 0.6 inch, add a gain of a little over 1¼ pound, but the 17-to-19 age group had a gain of only 0.4 inch in height and a weight loss of three pounds.

Vatican City, the independent papal state situated within the commune of Rome, Italy, was created Feb. 11, 1929. With an area of 108.7 acres and an average population of about 1,000, Vatican City has its own railway station, newspapers, postal facilities, coinage, and radio and television systems.

The first log cabin in America was built by some Swedish settlers near Wilmington, Del. These settlers landed in 1683, built a town mostly of log cabins, and named it Christinaham, after their queen. Later the name of the town was changed to Wilmington.

FBI Smashes Mob Tradition

By Victor Riesel

PITTSBURGH

A lethal legend has been wiped out by the FBI. Mob tradition was smashed the other day, when the "bureau" quite quickly solved a crime syndicate killing. A labor leader had been murdered. Traditionally, there's a hit (an attack), a run, the escape into the night or a crowd and the hired killers can report no errors to their clients in another city.

Victor Riesel

During my trip across the brutally freezing Midwest, I learned it was different in the case of the three-month-old mystery of the slaying of John (Jack) Kilpatrick. He led a small independent union. He crusaded. He worked with the federal grand juries in Chicago.

He was shot behind the ear on Oct. 20. J. Edgar Hoover's agents soon saturated the case.

The bureau men discovered that the Chicago crime combine had hired three Detroit hoods to make the "hit" in Chicago itself.

PULLING GUNMEN in from another city is SOP (Standard Operating Procedure). They are hired by "cutouts" men who can't be identified with the original client. But it was the misfortune of these guns-for-hire that the FBI crowded them. Not only did the bureau's own intelligence network learn that there were three hoods involved—but the federals identified them, names, addresses, sheets (records), et al.

The FBI even learned the price for the hit on Kilpatrick, the 55-year-old president of the United Industrial Workers of America and head of its Local 300. The foray's tab was $4,000 to eliminate the courageous Chicagoan. Kilpatrick had been attempting to keep his own units out of the crime syndicate's hands.

He was also using his organizations as an operating base to drive hoods from control of independent units in 12 Chicago area factories.

All this the FBI obtained in a written confession from one of the trigger trio. He "copped a plea" —meaning he said he was willing to testify against the others. I understand his share of the tab was to be $1,000.

A second muscle man was to get another grand (thousand) and the gunman himself was priced in at $2,000. In spite of three rehearsals, the gunman messed himself up a bit during the actual execution. There was blood on his clothes.

THIS WAS embarrassing even in impolite society. So the trigger man went to the home of a friend in the suburbs. There he and his host cut up the bloodied clothes so minutely that they could flush them down the kitchen drain. So say those who have seen an FBI report on the probe.

The bureau moved in its technicians. They not only got into the drain, they went into the sewer. Soon the FBI men had sufficient evidence to pin their man.

J. Edgar Hoover's people then turned their findings over to the Chicago police, because there had been no federal violation.

The FBI's absorption with the businesslike professional slaying of Jack Kilpatrick had sprung from his cooperation with a federal grand jury. Now, grim and tragic though it was—this taking of a man's life by men for hire —the "hit" was nonetheless a local crime.

TECHNICALLY, that is. By the standards of our truck-sized loophole law, that is.

There ought to be a law, it seems to me, without having consulted J. Edgar Hoover. It should give the FBI jurisdiction over violence against all such crusades of all the Kilpatricks of the land.

True, his was a small union. But an injury to one is an injury to all. In his field Kilpatrick had been fighting against one Angelo Inciso, from whose controlled setup of independent unions Kilpatrick had split off his own group.

Incisco has been convicted of taking $420,000 in illegal insurance payments from employers. This money was to cover the welfare and health of his members.

Instead, in a court of law, Inciso was convicted of stealing their security. Inciso is out on appeal, living well. Kilpatrick who fought this is dead.

If that's not the federal government's jurisdiction, then it is time it was. There ought to be a law.

Refugee Flood

The flood of refugees into Hong Kong has been a mixed blessing for the small British Colony on the broad face of Red China.

"Hong Kong Has Many Faces," in National Geographic Magazine, describes the progress and problems of that bustling metropolis. The author, assistant editor John Scofield, recently returned from a lengthy tour of the Orient.

Refugees and their doings are still the biggest single fact about Hong Kong, the author writes. Their energy, skill and money are found in the clattering textile mills, new hotels, housing developments and factories which turn out everything from canned fried rice and plastic flowers to shoes, steel and ships.

"To the jet - borne visitor from the West," he says, "Hong Kong beckons as the world's most alluring bargain counter."

The semi - tropical, tax-free port offers Swiss watches at less than Swiss prices, duty -exempt cameras, silks from Thailand and Chinese antiques. Custom-tailored suits of Italian cloth or British tweed can be made in less than a day at one-third what they would cost in the United States.

In the past decade, more than a million refugees have fled Communist China. The result is what Gov. Sir Robert Black described as Hong Kong's most serious problem — "the press of population" in an area of 398 square miles.

President's Popularity

Public Backs Kennedy In First Year

The latest Gallup Poll is the talk of the town. It isn't merely because the rating at the end of the first 12 months is higher for President Kennedy than it was for the last three presidents after their first year but because of a peculiar emergence of what was referred to as a religious factor in the last campaign.

David Lawrence

For the poll shows that 88 per cent of the Catholics manifested approval as contrasted with 73 per cent of the Protestants.

Just why Catholics should differ from Protestants in their appraisal after the first year of a president who happens to be a Catholic is not explained, especially since it has been taken for granted recently in political circles that Mr. Kennedy had alienated many of his supporters among Catholics because of his adamant opposition to federal aid to private or parochial schools.

Perhaps the key is to be found in a natural pride among Catholics that President Kennedy has shown himself to be a man of sincerity and earnest application to duty and indeed this is doubtless one reason why among all voters he has attained a high rating in the Gallup Poll.

Thus, for instance, the poll shows that while 87 per cent of the Democrats expressed a favorable opinion of Mr. Kennedy, as many as 58 per cent of the Republicans and 75 per cent of the Independents did likewise.

The question posed in the poll was: "Do you approve or disapprove of the way Kennedy is handling his job as president?" Many people who would say "yes" in answer might say the opposite if asked specifically whether in an election held right now they would cast their ballot for him.

There's quite a difference between applauding a man's conscientious effort to perform the duties of the presidential office and passing judgment on the specific steps a president has taken in domestic and international policy.

On the whole, as the citizen answers the Gallup Poll's question, he would be likely to give Mr. Kennedy an "A" for effort. The "way he has handled his job" could mean the image that the public has obtained of an earnest young man, anxious to learn while beset with a multitude of nerve-racking problems.

INTERNATIONALLY speaking, for example, Mr. Kennedy has certainly maintained the basic principles of American foreign policy, though it remains to be seen how he will eventually deal with the Cuban problem.

On domestic issues, Mr. Kennedy has hardly had a chance yet to mark out his course. Many of the recommendations he has made are subject to criticism but the public generally is not aware of the pitfalls of his economic policies. They will be only if such policies bring on another recession and more unemployment.

Businessmen, who know from experience the consequences that may flow from some of the unsound theories which Mr. Kennedy with the best of intentions has accepted from the hands of his advisers, would rather wait a year or more before coming to conclusions about the Kennedy administration.

They still can't believe he will swallow the economic fallacies that characterized the New Deal's 7 - year failure to "prime the pump" in the biggest depression in our history.

But, for all practical purposes, the Gallup Poll seems an accurate measure of the trend of public opinion as a whole.

The favorable image which the county has of President Kennedy is largely due to one of the most powerful and comprehensive publicity campaigns ever untertaken by an American president. Not even Theodore Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt, who were masters of the ways of getting publicity, can compare with him for Mr. Kennedy has a politician's conviction that a favorable press is nine-tenths of the battle for votes.

It should not for a moment be inferred from this that the press is slanted in its news reports. On the contrary, these have been as objective as could be desired. But the difference from the preceding administration is that Mr. Kennedy makes news that has to be reported — and so does his energetic wife. Youth is a novelty in the White House, and that in itself makes news.

Every time such innovations as water skiing or horseback riding are introduced or a new emphasis is given to arts and music, it makes news for the women's pages.

THE PRESIDENT is a keen student of publicity. He doesn't ask anyone to commend him but merely to give his side a fair presentation. This is all that's really necessary, especially when the opposition is so weak, disorganized and unperceptive that it doesn't make enough news to offset the administration's efforts.

Granting that a favorable image of President Kennedy has been produced by the barrage of publicity he has gotten in his first year, it also can be traced to his policy of caution in international affairs — the branch of his job which has had much of the limelight in the last 12 months.

The time to judge a president is at the end of his term and not at the end of his first year. This writer recalls how William Howard Taft was inaugurated in March 1909 after receiving the second largest electoral vote ever given a president up to that time, and enjoyed popularity during his first year. In fact, he was a likeable personality anyway, but at the end of four years his party had split apart on economic issues, and his faction got only eight votes in the Electoral College in his bid for re-election.

It's more important always to know what the employment and economic condition of the country will be when a presidential election rolls around. That's usually the key issue and it had more to do with Nixon's defeat than is generally accepted by political observers.

Pastor Must Quit Property

in evidence, along with testimony that he still was occupying the parsonage.

The case for the defense was based to a large extent on the contention that the motion to declare the pulpit vacant apparently was rescinded in action at later meetings. But attempts to introduce evidence on the later meetings were defeated by defense motions — upheld by the judge—that the case could not be tried on questions of equity—the rights and wrongs and the whys and the wherefores in the background.

In his ruling, Judge Chertoff explained from the bench that the case could be decided on only three points, or any other so-called "forcible entry and detainer" case. They are, the judge said: 1. Does the plaintiff have a right to possession of the premises? 2. Was the defendant served notice to vacate. and 3. Has he continued to occupy the premises.

"In the court's opinion, this is a very regrettable action," the judge commented at the outset of his ruling. "I don't like to see this matter brought into court. We are all children of God and it's regrettable that the court has to decide a case of this kind. But I will not shirk my duty. Some will feel I am right and some will feel I am wrong when the decision is in.

"This is a case simply of forcible entry and detainer. It's purely statutory, unknown at common law, to provide a summary, extraordinary way to recover possession of real estate. It's designed to compel the party out of possession to resort to law rather than force to seek a remedy.

"The right to possession is the sole question. Whether he is legally the minister is not in the case.

"I want it particularly understood that I am not ruling on whether Rev. Latimore is or is not the pastor. I tried to tell counsel that this is not a function of this court.

"The statute allows a forcible entry and detainer action when the plaintiff has a right of possession," the judge continued, citing the three points that govern such action.

"The court can be guided only by the evidence that has been presented," the judge continued. "The evidence is that on Sept. 28 a resolution was passed to vacate the church and the parsonage. The court feels the trustees have a right to hire or fire.

"The sole question is whether the church has a right to possession. The court finds the church does have a right of possession and Rev. Latimore is detaining the property from the trustees."

That, in effect, was a finding for the plaintiff and instructions to the minister to vacate the parsonage, but most of those in the audience were unaware of the implications and did not understand a ruling had been made when the judge left the bench.

Mrs. Mamie Taylor was the only witness who testified at length for the defense, which sought to show a resolution to declare the pulpit vacant later was rescinded.

At a meeting on Nov. 2, it was voted to strike from the minutes of the Sept. 28 meeting the resolution declaring the pulpit vacant, Mrs. Taylor testified. She said the resolution was stricken from the minutes by a standing vote, with 21 affirmative and 11 negative.

Mrs. Beatrice Henderson, assistant secretary, was the first witness called by the defense, but Bailiff Wilbert Taylor searched the hall and reported she could not be found. Then Mrs. Taylor was called.

In sustaining Atty. Smith's objections to the defense testimony, the judge declared that "the function of the church in equitable matters cannot be raised." He added he was "bound by law" in issuing the ruling.

As the defense rested, Atty. Smith submitted his case without argument, but Atty. Fineman made a final statement to the court.

"The court has said its hands are tied, as well as those of counsel," he said. "Whether we're right or wrong in general is one thing, but they have to show a present need to the premises greater than that of Rev. Latimore. As pastor, he has a right to live in the parsonage and no one has a right to order him out. If he were properly dismissed, even I would agree he has no right to stay."

Then Atty. Fineman argued that many questions had been raised about whether or not the church finally adopted a resolution declaring the pulpit vacant. There were conflicting opinions from various persons who attended the meetings at which the action was taken, he said.

"I ask the court to consider the evidence in the light of these questions: Has he been dismissed properly or does he have a right to stay? What is his status? Is he pastor or is he not? There appears to be a question right down the line whether the resolution was passed or not passed."

Another airing of the church dissension is set Thursday at 1 p. m. in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

The court will hear a petition filed by two deacons and two members of the congregation seeking an injunction against the church and seven of its trustees. The petition seeks removal of a padlock from the door of the church. The petition claims the padlock has been on the door since early January.

ed 36 feet of skid marks. Firemen were called to the scene to flush away spilled gasoline.

Another driver was cited as an aftermath of a similar collision Tuesday at 4:06 p. m. in the 1100 block of St. Clair Ave., police said.

T. F. Smith, 18, of Richardson Ave. was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his 1955 sedan hit the rear of a halted 1958 sedan operated by Mrs. Rose S. Volino, 29, of Apples Corners, officers said.

Mrs. Volino told police her auto was halted in the traffic lane when it was hit from the rear by Smith's. Smith told police he was on the way for repair work on the right front wheel cylinder of his brake system at the time of the collision.

Patrolmen Lloyd Garvey, Orin Smith and Paul Blevins investigated. They reported investigation showed the brake pedal of Smith's car went all the way to the floor without taking hold.

Smith, a junior in high school, pleaded guilty to the police charge when arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

The court suspended his operator's permit for 30 days and ordered him to pay the $7.50 costs.

The judge lectured Smith sternly, pointing out another youthful driver lost his life in a St. Clair Ave. accident early Tuesday.

"We don't know how it happened, but as a result he is not here anymore," the judge said. "When you're driving an auto, your first mistake can be your last. For your own benefit, I'm going to suspend your license."

A mishap on Broadway near E. 6th St. Tuesday at 2:50 p. m. involved 1957 sedans driven by Neal C. Curron, 35, of Ravenna and Joseph Harris, 61, of 475 14th St., Wellsville, police said.

Curron's car was halted when hit by Harris' backing auto, police said. Harris told police he was jockeying for position at a parking spot and did not notice that Curron's car had halted behind him.

There was damage to the right rear quarter panel of Curron's auto. The Harris car was undamaged.

President To Spend Weekend With Father

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy plans to spend the weekend with his convalescing father in Palm Beach, Fla.

The White House, in announcing the President's plans, said Mrs. Kennedy and their two children, Caroline and John Jr., will accompany him.

in evidence, along with testimony that he still was occupying the parsonage.

The case for the defense was based to a large extent on the contention that the motion to declare the pulpit vacant apparently was rescinded in action at later meetings. But attempts to introduce evidence on the later meetings were defeated by defense motions — upheld by the judge—that the case could not be tried on questions of equity—the rights and wrongs and the whys and the wherefores in the background.

In his ruling, Judge Chertoff explained from the bench that the case could be decided on only three points, or any other so-called "forcible entry and detainer" case. They are, the judge said: 1. Does the plaintiff have a right to possession of the premises? 2. Was the defendant served notice to vacate. and 3. Has he continued to occupy the premises.

"In the court's opinion, this is a very regrettable action," the judge commented at the outset of his ruling. "I don't like to see this matter brought into court. We are all children of God and it's regrettable that the court has to decide a case of this kind. But I will not shirk my duty. Some will feel I am right and some will feel I am wrong when the decision is in.

"This is a case simply of forcible entry and detainer. It's purely statutory, unknown at common law, to provide a summary, extraordinary way to recover possession of real estate. It's designed to compel the party out of possession to resort to law rather than force to seek a remedy.

"The right to possession is the sole question. Whether he is legally the minister is not in the case.

"I want it particularly understood that I am not ruling on whether Rev. Latimore is or is not the pastor. I tried to tell counsel that this is not a function of this court.

"The statute allows a forcible entry and detainer action when the plaintiff has a right of possession," the judge continued, citing the three points that govern such action.

"The court can be guided only by the evidence that has been presented," the judge continued. "The evidence is that on Sept. 28 a resolution was passed to vacate the church and the parsonage. The court feels the trustees have a right to hire or fire.

"The sole question is whether the church has a right to possession. The court finds the church does have a right of possession and Rev. Latimore is detaining the property from the trustees."

That, in effect, was a finding for the plaintiff and instructions to the minister to vacate the parsonage, but most of those in the audience were unaware of the implications and did not understand a ruling had been made when the judge left the bench.

Mrs. Mamie Taylor was the only witness who testified at length for the defense, which sought to show a resolution to declare the pulpit vacant later was rescinded.

At a meeting on Nov. 2, it was voted to strike from the minutes of the Sept. 28 meeting the resolution declaring the pulpit vacant, Mrs. Taylor testified. She said the resolution was stricken from the minutes by a standing vote, with 21 affirmative and 11 negative.

Mrs. Beatrice Henderson, assistant secretary, was the first witness called by the defense, but Bailiff Wilbert Taylor searched the hall and reported she could not be found. Then Mrs. Taylor was called.

In sustaining Atty. Smith's objections to the defense testimony, the judge declared that "the function of the church in equitable matters cannot be raised." He added he was "bound by law" in issuing the ruling.

As the defense rested, Atty. Smith submitted his case without argument, but Atty. Fineman made a final statement to the court.

"The court has said its hands are tied, as well as those of counsel," he said. "Whether we're right or wrong in general is one thing, but they have to show a present need to the premises greater than that of Rev. Latimore. As pastor, he has a right to live in the parsonage and no one has a right to order him out. If he were properly dismissed, even I would agree he has no right to stay."

Then Atty. Fineman argued that many questions had been raised about whether or not the church finally adopted a resolution declaring the pulpit vacant. There were conflicting opinions from various persons who attended the meetings at which the action was taken, he said.

"I ask the court to consider the evidence in the light of these questions: Has he been dismissed properly or does he have a right to stay? What is his status? Is he pastor or is he not? There appears to be a question right down the line whether the resolution was passed or not passed."

Another airing of the church dissension is set Thursday at 1 p. m. in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

The court will hear a petition filed by two deacons and two members of the congregation seeking an injunction against the church and seven of its trustees. The petition seeks removal of a padlock from the door of the church. The petition claims the padlock has been on the door since early January.

Traffic

ed 36 feet of skid marks. Firemen were called to the scene to flush away spilled gasoline.

Another driver was cited as an aftermath of a similar collision Tuesday at 4:06 p. m. in the 1100 block of St. Clair Ave., police said.

T. F. Smith, 18, of Richardson Ave. was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his 1955 sedan hit the rear of a halted 1958 sedan operated by Mrs. Rose S. Volino, 29, of Apples Corners, officers said.

Mrs. Volino told police her auto was halted in the traffic lane when it was hit from the rear by Smith's. Smith told police he was on the way for repair work on the right front wheel cylinder of his brake system at the time of the collision.

Patrolmen Lloyd Garvey, Orin Smith and Paul Blevins investigated. They reported investigation showed the brake pedal of Smith's car went all the way to the floor without taking hold.

Smith, a junior in high school, pleaded guilty to the police charge when arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

The court suspended his operator's permit for 30 days and ordered him to pay the $7.50 costs.

The judge lectured Smith sternly, pointing out another youthful driver lost his life in a St. Clair Ave. accident early Tuesday.

"We don't know how it happened, but as a result he is not here anymore," the judge said. "When you're driving an auto, your first mistake can be your last. For your own benefit, I'm going to suspend your license."

A mishap on Broadway near E. 6th St. Tuesday at 2:50 p. m. involved 1957 sedans driven by Neal C. Curron, 35, of Ravenna and Joseph Harris, 61, of 475 14th St., Wellsville, police said.

Curron's car was halted when hit by Harris' backing auto, police said. Harris told police he was jockeying for position at a parking spot and did not notice that Curron's car had halted behind him.

There was damage to the right rear quarter panel of Curron's auto. The Harris car was undamaged.

Event To Be Thursday

Exchange Student Due Before Hancock 4-H

Haymond R. (Butch) Luzadder, West Virginia's 1961 International Farm Youth Exchange student to Germany, will speak on his experiences for Hancock County's 4-H Club members Thursday night at 7:30 in Swaney Memorial Library in New Cumberland.

Luzadder, 23, of Taylor County will also screen slides of his foreign visit.

A graduate of West Virginia University with a degree in forestry, young Luzadder has been active in 4-H work for many years.

He has earned his 4-H charting pin and is a member of the West Virginia 4-H All-Stars, an honorary group. He attended the National 4-H Club Congress in 1959.

While at WVU, he was active in the Forestry Club, the Dairy Science Club, the Agriculture Club and the University 4-H Club.

IFYE is a program for selected youth from the U. S. and other countries to reside in a foreign land for a brief period and allows direct family contact for each delegate, according to Mrs. Ruth McPherson, county 4-H Club agent.

HAYMOND LUZADDER
He Studied In Germany.

Since 1948, almost 60 countries have participated in the exchange program. Luzadder will travel throughout West Virginia for two and a half months to tell of his experiences, Mrs. McPherson said.

Conference

A Chilean spokesman reported all differences within the outer seven had been resolved but declined to give details. It was understood the proposal would draw a difference between the Cuban government and Cuba as a nation because Brazil and some other nations contend Cuba is still geographically in the American family and cannot be read out of the organization.

Few if any delegates looked for any change in Cuban policies as a result of the conference's action, and Cuban delegates scoffed at the idea of the Havana regime being shelved in the OAS.

"We just do not care about that trash," said a member of Castro's delegation.

Any action taken by the conference unanimously is certain to be hailed publicy as a signal victory for the anti-Communist cause. The argument was heard that even holding such a meeting on Cuban subversion would have been politically too risky six months ago, before the Alliance for Progress program was adopted and before Castro publicly embraced Marxism-Leninism.

Privately many observers wonder whether the United States will emerge with a result which could prove worse than nothing.

Cuba already has been excluded from the OAS Defense Committee and deliberations of any other sensitive OAS body. U.S. sources say the proposed quarantine will not exclude the Castro regime from such humanitarian activities as hemispheric health and sanitation consultations. Therefore, while on the record Cuba may be eliminated from OAS bodies, actually nothing will happen which was not the case before.

Observers speculate that the whole business could boomerang by giving the Castro regime excuse to heap ridicule on the OAS as now constituted and to point out that the Inter-American alliance has been powerless to take any action with teeth in it against the Communist government of Havana.

The conference continued to produce public violence at various Latin-American points.

Sixty-five miles from this Atlantic beach resort and its diplomatic visitors, thousands of pro-Castro demonstrators marched through the main street of Montevideo shouting "Cuba si! Yankees nt!" The demonstration apparently was linked to a meeting of Latin-American leftist leaders set to open in the Uruguayan capital today.

In Venezuela, a country that has broken with Cuba, the toll from two days of clashes in Caracas climbed to 13 dead and more than 30 wounded.

An authoritative source said Defense Minister Gen. Jose Antonio Briceno Linares had called on marine and parachute units to reinforce troops and police who fought pitched battles with snipers and machine gunners in Caracas Tuesday. Army patrols were ordered into Caracas after a bomb blew out a section of the front wall of the U.S. Embassy Monday.

More bombs exploded in scattered sections of Caracas and eight buses were reported burned. More than 200 persons were believed under arrest.

The clashes accompanied a nationwide railway strike called in defiance of President Romulo Betancourt's anti-Castro government.

In Maracaibo, Venezuela, American evangelist Billy Graham was hustled out the back door of the state legislative hall after a crowd shouting "Yankee non! Castro si!" pounded on the front door during a speech he was making to the assembly. Graham later preached to a crowd of 4,000 at a baseball park without interference.

Farm Bureau, American Legion, Methodist Church and several professional societies.

He was elected last fall to the Ohio extension workers' "Hall of Fame."

Ruritan is a service group for farmers, businessmen and professionals in rural and suburban areas. Founded at Holland, Va., in 1928 it is now organized in 19 states.

Columbiana County has 13 clubs of the 40 in Eastern Ohio; the newest was established at Canfield this month.

Lower served as extension agent for two years in Carroll County before coming to Lisbon in 1923.

John Baker, president, and Fred Leughmyer are attending the convention as delegates from the Southern Ruritan Club. Baker sent a telegram Tuesday night to Raymond S. Rolley of Wellsville, informing him of Lower's election.

Governor To Speak

NEW CUMBERLAND — Gov. W. W. Barron will speak on "Why a Democracy" at a public meeting in the high school Feb. 6 at 7 p. m., sponsored by the Senior Women's Club. The public may attend.

Church Women Name Chairman For Prayer Day

Mrs. Roy Richards was named chairman for the annual observance of World Day of Prayer at the meeting of the Executive Board of the Council of United Church Women Tuesday afternoon in the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The downtown service will be held March 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Calvary Methodist Church. The East End service will be held in the afternoon at the Second United Presbyterian Church. The theme is "For God So Loved the World."

Mrs. Frank Mitcheson, president, conducted business. Mrs. John Keller offered prayer.

Mrs. Howard Pearce read the minutes and Mrs. Essie Arkward the financial report.

Invitations will be extended to other churches for membership in the council.

11,000 Dogs Licensed

LISBON — A total of 11,000 dog licenses have been issued up to 11 a. m. today, according to Auditor Kenneth Bell. There are still about seven boxes of mail from outlying registrars which remain to be opened so the total of licenses issued before the deadline Saturday may go over the 12,000 anticipated, Bell said.

Exchange Student Due Before Hancock 4-H

Haymond R. (Butch) Luzadder, West Virginia's 1961 International Farm Youth Exchange student to Germany, will speak on his experiences for Hancock County's 4-H Club members Thursday night at 7:30 in Swaney Memorial Library in New Cumberland.

Luzadder, 23, of Taylor County will also screen slides of his foreign visit.

A graduate of West Virginia University with a degree in forestry, young Luzadder has been active in 4-H work for many years.

He has earned his 4-H charting pin and is a member of the West Virginia 4-H All-Stars, an honorary group. He attended the National 4-H Club Congress in 1959.

While at WVU, he was active in the Forestry Club, the Dairy Science Club, the Agriculture Club and the University 4-H Club.

IFYE is a program for selected youth from the U. S. and other countries to reside in a foreign land for a brief period and allows direct family contact for each delegate, according to Mrs. Ruth McPherson, county 4-H Club agent.

HAYMOND LUZADDER
He Studied In Germany.

Since 1948, almost 60 countries have participated in the exchange program. Luzadder will travel throughout West Virginia for two and a half months to tell of his experiences, Mrs. McPherson said.

Conference

A Chilean spokesman reported all differences within the outer seven had been resolved but declined to give details. It was understood the proposal would draw a difference between the Cuban government and Cuba as a nation because Brazil and some other nations contend Cuba is still geographically in the American family and cannot be read out of the organization.

Few if any delegates looked for any change in Cuban policies as a result of the conference's action, and Cuban delegates scoffed at the idea of the Havana regime being shelved in the OAS.

"We just do not care about that trash," said a member of Castro's delegation.

Any action taken by the conference unanimously is certain to be hailed publicy as a signal victory for the anti-Communist cause. The argument was heard that even holding such a meeting on Cuban subversion would have been politically too risky six months ago, before the Alliance for Progress program was adopted and before Castro publicly embraced Marxism-Leninism.

Privately many observers wonder whether the United States will emerge with a result which could prove worse than nothing.

Cuba already has been excluded from the OAS Defense Committee and deliberations of any other sensitive OAS body. U.S. sources say the proposed quarantine will not exclude the Castro regime from such humanitarian activities as hemispheric health and sanitation consultations. Therefore, while on the record Cuba may be eliminated from OAS bodies, actually nothing will happen which was not the case before.

Observers speculate that the whole business could boomerang by giving the Castro regime excuse to heap ridicule on the OAS as now constituted and to point out that the Inter-American alliance has been powerless to take any action with teeth in it against the Communist government of Havana.

The conference continued to produce public violence at various Latin-American points.

Sixty-five miles from this Atlantic beach resort and its diplomatic visitors, thousands of pro-Castro demonstrators marched through the main street of Montevideo shouting "Cuba si! Yankees nt!" The demonstration apparently was linked to a meeting of Latin-American leftist leaders set to open in the Uruguayan capital today.

In Venezuela, a country that has broken with Cuba, the toll from two days of clashes in Caracas climbed to 13 dead and more than 30 wounded.

An authoritative source said Defense Minister Gen. Jose Antonio Briceno Linares had called on marine and parachute units to reinforce troops and police who fought pitched battles with snipers and machine gunners in Caracas Tuesday. Army patrols were ordered into Caracas after a bomb blew out a section of the front wall of the U.S. Embassy Monday.

More bombs exploded in scattered sections of Caracas and eight buses were reported burned. More than 200 persons were believed under arrest.

The clashes accompanied a nationwide railway strike called in defiance of President Romulo Betancourt's anti-Castro government.

In Maracaibo, Venezuela, American evangelist Billy Graham was hustled out the back door of the state legislative hall after a crowd shouting "Yankee non! Castro si!" pounded on the front door during a speech he was making to the assembly. Graham later preached to a crowd of 4,000 at a baseball park without interference.

Anniversary Is Observed By Newell Women's Club

Fifty attended the program marking the 25th anniversary of the Newell Women's Club Monday night in the American Legion home.

Guests included Mrs. Helen Chandler of Chester, one of the founders, Mrs. Nessie Dunlop of East Liverpool, president of the City Federation, and nine past presidents.

Mrs. Chandler read a history of the club organized in 1937, while Mrs. Dunlop commended the unit for its work over the last quarter-century.

Letters of congratulations were read from two past presidents unable to attend — Mrs. Thelma McEldowney and Mrs. H. R. Schneidmiller.

Past presidents introduced by Miss Betty Buben, president, were Mrs. Willard Enochs, Mrs. Clyde Cozzens, also a charter member, Mrs. John Robison, Mrs. Albert Logston, Mrs. Edward Carson, Mrs. Leonard Copestick, Mrs. Walter Collins, Mrs. James Ryan and Mrs. George Cawthon.

Three former members, Mrs. Billie Martin, Mrs. Margaret May and Miss Rhea Nathaniel, also were present.

The "Sweet Adelines" sang during the program. They were introduced by Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner. A gift was presented to Mrs. Chandler.

Decorations were in a theme of red, white and silver and favors were ashtrays stamped with a silver seal and the number 25. Each received individual cakes.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ann Cawthon, Mrs. Betty Rector, Mrs. Joan Martin, Mrs. Nancy Mosher, and Mrs. Barbara Stevens.

Mrs. Gertrude Stephens was general chairman of the anniversary meeting.

Miss Buben conducted business. It was announced there are three local entries in the Vogue sewing contest. The local winner will advance to district competition.

Several members are planning to visit Juvenile Court in Lisbon.

Next meeting is Feb. 12.

Anniversary Is Observed By Newell Women's Club

Fifty attended the program marking the 25th anniversary of the Newell Women's Club Monday night in the American Legion home.

Guests included Mrs. Helen Chandler of Chester, one of the founders, Mrs. Nessie Dunlop of East Liverpool, president of the City Federation, and nine past presidents.

Mrs. Chandler read a history of the club organized in 1937, while Mrs. Dunlop commended the unit for its work over the last quarter-century.

Letters of congratulations were read from two past presidents unable to attend — Mrs. Thelma McEldowney and Mrs. H. R. Schneidmiller.

Past presidents introduced by Miss Betty Buben, president, were Mrs. Willard Enochs, Mrs. Clyde Cozzens, also a charter member, Mrs. John Robison, Mrs. Albert Logston, Mrs. Edward Carson, Mrs. Leonard Copestick, Mrs. Walter Collins, Mrs. James Ryan and Mrs. George Cawthon.

Three former members, Mrs. Billie Martin, Mrs. Margaret May and Miss Rhea Nathaniel, also were present.

The "Sweet Adelines" sang during the program. They were introduced by Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner. A gift was presented to Mrs. Chandler.

Decorations were in a theme of red, white and silver and favors were ashtrays stamped with a silver seal and the number 25. Each received individual cakes.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ann Cawthon, Mrs. Betty Rector, Mrs. Joan Martin, Mrs. Nancy Mosher, and Mrs. Barbara Stevens.

Mrs. Gertrude Stephens was general chairman of the anniversary meeting.

Miss Buben conducted business. It was announced there are three local entries in the Vogue sewing contest. The local winner will advance to district competition.

Several members are planning to visit Juvenile Court in Lisbon. Next meeting is Feb. 12.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My mother-in-law is a sweet person but she's so easy going that our kids walk all over her.

The problem is this: "Nana" (they call her that) phones me every day and offers to sit with the children. I'm running out of excuses. The last time she sat, our 5-year-old stayed up til 2 a.m. to watch TV. He slept half the next day and missed Sunday school.

The 7-year-old drank a quart of rum punch, stuffed himself with sardines, olives, candy and popcorn and was sick for two days.

My husband says a woman who has raised four of her own must be competent. I say most "Nanas" let grandchildren get away with things they'd never put up with in their own children.

You can see the spot I'm in. Please help.—HEMMED IN.

Dear Hemmed: Let your mother-in-law enjoy her grandchildren when you're around but don't give her the responsibility of sitting with them.

Her permissiveness undermines your good work and it confuses the children. Simply tell "Nana" that you want her as a guest. And stick to your guns.

Double Jeopardy

Dear Ann: This is the same old story. I never thought it could happen to me — but it did and I need help.

I'm married, have two children and a lovely home. I've been seeing a married man for three years. Jim and I are madly in love. My husband and Jim's wife have no idea and we can't bring ourselves to tell them.

You probably won't believe this but Jim and I never have gone beyond hand-holding and kissing.

Please don't tell me to stop seeing him. He's all I live for. What is the future for us? — STAR GAZER.

Dear Gazer: First — You're right about my not believing the 3-year-hand-holding bit. I don't.

Second — my crystal ball is on the fritz but maybe I can give you a clue to the future — based on thousands of letters from men and women who have shared this problem.

You and Jim can slip around until someone catches you, then the roof will fall in on both your houses. Or you eventually could lose your sense of balance and agree to dump your respective families for each other. You'll discover that stolen love loses it's Zowie when it's made legal.

People who put their passions and selfish desires first — and run out on their responsibilities — rarely find the happiness they seek.

Mop-Top Betsy

Dear Ann: My 17-year-old Betsy always has worn her hair short. It was not only neat but distinctive. She's a large girl and short-cropped hair was perfect for her.

Recently she let her hair grow long. Now she wears it frizzed out like a feather duster. I hate her hair this way but she ingores my wishes. I've half decided to order her to cut it. My husband says I shouldn't. Where do you stand?—M.X.

Dear M. X.: With your husband. There are times when a mother must insist on certain things but a hair style isn't important enough to trigger a battle.

The more you attack the hair-do the more she'll have to defend it. You've already given it more attention than it deserves. Keep quiet.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Retarded Children's Council Names Committee On Levy

A committee to promote the proposed two-tenths of a mill levy to operate the retarded children's school at Elkton was named at a meeting of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council Tuesday night at the school.

Named to the committee were John Billiter, Dave Simich and Harold Martsolf of Salem and Russ Phillis and Jim Morris of Lisbon.

William Hiscox of Lisbon, president, reported on the move by the county commissioners to place the levy on the May primary ballot.

The commissioners authorized the levy vote Monday to provide needed funds for the operation of the school, which has been placed by a new state law under the jurisdiction of the County Welfare Department.

It was announced literature and information concerning the problem of the retarded will be placed at the school to be available for parents and any others interested. Mrs. Frances Sloan of Columbiana is in charge.

The publicity committee for the levy will plan a speakers' program for county organizations along with press information.

About 24 attended the meeting. Next is Feb. 27.

OH, MY ACHING BACK
Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain —you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.
Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains, 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation, 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.
Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. Large, economy size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Parents At Midland Urged To Aid Cub Scout Program

An appeal for more "parents participation" in order to continue the Cub Scout program in Midland was made today by Richard Arndt, cub master of the Midland Pack 415. He said that support by the mothers and fathers has been unsatisfactory for sometime.

The attendance at special meetings called by the cub master and at the monthly pack meetings has been very discourating not only to the few adults who are trying to keep the Cub Scout movement together but also to the young boys."

A special meeting was called Sunday to make plans for the annual Blue and Gold dinner in February but the attendance was so poor it was impossible to do anything, he said. Arndt had contacted the parents before the meeting and urged them to attend.

Another attempt will be made for better attendance at the pack meeting Friday at 7 p. m. at the Steelworkers Building. Unless there is a good response, the Cub Scout movement in Midland will be forced to dissolve, Arndt said.

The program being planned for the meeting will include various skits by the cubs. The theme will be "Nights of Yore."

Eligible to join the troop are boys 8 to 10½ years of age. The troop is sponsored by the Midland American Legion Post 481.

Chamber Will Send 3 To UOVDC's Meeting

Alvin T. Babb, president, C. W. Ashbaugh, first vice president, and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager, will represent the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council Thursday night at 6:30 at the Steubenville Country Club.

Chamber representatives from throughout the UOVDC's six-county area have been invited to the dinner session to talk over the organization's work and discuss selection of a successor for Walter L. Myers Jr., executive manager, who resigned Dec. 31.

The meeting was called by Dr. E. B. Weinman of Steubenville, president of the UOVDS. He said the council now is interviewing applicants for Myers' post. The council has members in Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont Counties in Ohio and Hancock and Brooke in West Virginia.

Apartment Building Planned In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — A project agreement has been signed for construction of a 400 - apartment building at East 12th Street and Chester Avenue in the Erieview district.

A suit attacking the Erieview project must be settled before title to property involved can be delivered.

Community Type Meeting Planned In Beaver Local

A "community" meeting for Beaver Local School District residents — to "get acquainted" and to learn each other's viewpoints and problems — is being contemplated as a project by the five parent-teacher organizations.

Plans for the project were reviewed by George VanHorne, executive head, at a meeting of the Public School PTA Monday night, and the group endorsed the proposal.

Tentative plans call for the first meeting in the spring with a speaker from the state Department of Education to be obtained by VanHorne. A room is to be set aside for entertaining children with movies so parents will be free to attend.

Presidents of the parent-teacher groups are serving on the committee planning the event. They are Clayton Aughinbaugh of the Public School, Robert Charlton of West Point, Charles Seinerth of Rogers, Ernest Gonter of Elkton and John Duffy of Calcutta.

These general meetings would be held twice a year.

Wellsville K. Of C. To Make Youth Trip

Plans to attend the final meeting of the youth campaign Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Pick-Ohio Hotel at Youngstown were outlined at a meeting of Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507 Tuesday night.

John Kozora, grand knight, John Barborak and John Cataldo and Leonard DeFalco, team leaders, will attend.

The building committee reported it met Sunday to discuss completion of the remodeling program. Kozora reported on the district meeting held last week at Lisbon.

It was announced reservations still are open for a spaghetti dinner Sunday, from 1 to 3 p. m. Mrs. John Trainer and Mrs. Hugh McCarron are in charge of reservations.

Fr. Gerald Curran, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church, will screen slides following the next meeting Tuesday night at 8. A special lunch will be served with Mrs. John Barborak as cook.

Midland Youth Center Sets Valentine Dance

The Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center will hold its sixth anniversary and annual Heart Hop, Saturday, Feb. 10, Mrs. William Spisak, director, said.

The center will also be open Friday evening Feb. 9, following the Lincoln High home basketball game.

The Heart Hop will be in the valentine theme and in the form of a Mardi Gras. Parents and others will be invited to visit the center on the occasion.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My mother-in-law is a sweet person but she's so easy going that our kids walk all over her.

The problem is this: "Nana" (they call her that) phones me every day and offers to sit with the children. I'm running out of excuses. The last time she sat, our 5-year-old stayed up til 2 a.m. to watch TV. He slept half the next day and missed Sunday school.

The 7-year-old drank a quart of rum punch, stuffed himself with sardines, olives, candy and popcorn and was sick for two days.

My husband says a woman who has raised four of her own must be competent. I say most "Nanas" let grandchildren get away with things they'd never put up with in their own children.

You can see the spot I'm in. Please help.—HEMMED IN.

Dear Hemmed: Let your mother-in-law enjoy her grandchildren when you're around but don't give her the responsibility of sitting with them.

Her permissiveness undermines your good work and it confuses the children. Simply tell "Nana" that you want her as a guest. And stick to your guns.

Double Jeopardy

Dear Ann: This is the same old story. I never thought it could happen to me — but it did and I need help.

I'm married, have two children and a lovely home. I've been seeing a married man for three years. Jim and I are madly in love. My husband and Jim's wife have no idea and we can't bring ourselves to tell them.

You probably won't believe this but Jim and I never have gone beyond hand-holding and kissing.

Please don't tell me to stop seeing him. He's all I live for. What is the future for us? — STAR GAZER.

Dear Gazer: First — You're right about my not believing the 3-year-hand-holding bit. I don't.

Second — my crystal ball is on the fritz but maybe I can give you a clue to the future — based on thousands of letters from men and women who have shared this problem.

You and Jim can slip around until someone catches you, then the roof will fall in on both your houses. Or you eventually could lose your sense of balance and agree to dump your respective families for each other. You'll discover that stolen love loses it's Zowie when it's made legal.

People who put their passions and selfish desires first — and run out on their responsibilities — rarely find the happiness they seek.

Mop-Top Betsy

Dear Ann: My 17-year-old Betsy always has worn her hair short. It was not only neat but distinctive. She's a large girl and short-cropped hair was perfect for her.

Recently she let her hair grow long. Now she wears it frizzed out like a feather duster. I hate her hair this way but she ingores my wishes. I've half decided to order her to cut it. My husband says I shouldn't. Where do you stand?—M.X.

Dear M. X.: With your husband. There are times when a mother must insist on certain things but a hair style isn't important enough to trigger a battle.

The more you attack the hair-do the more she'll have to defend it. You've already given it more attention than it deserves. Keep quiet.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Retarded Children's Council Names Committee On Levy

A committee to promote the proposed two-tenths of a mill levy to operate the retarded children's school at Elkton was named at a meeting of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council Tuesday night at the school.

Named to the committee were John Billiter, Dave Simich and Harold Martsolf of Salem and Russ Phillis and Jim Morris of Lisbon.

William Hiscox of Lisbon, president, reported on the move by the county commissioners to place the levy on the May primary ballot.

The commissioners authorized the levy vote Monday to provide needed funds for the operation of the school, which has been placed by a new state law under the jurisdiction of the County Welfare Department.

It was announced literature and information concerning the problem of the retarded will be placed at the school to be available for parents and any others interested. Mrs. Frances Sloan of Columbiana is in charge.

The publicity committee for the levy will plan a speakers' program for county organizations along with press information.

About 24 attended the meeting. Next is Feb. 27.

Heart Attack Fatal

ELKTON, Va. (AP) — Chester C. Housh, 75, a leader in the nation's turkey industry and a former president of the National Turkey Federation, died Tuesday of a heart attack. He also was president of East Point Turkeys of Elkton.

If the scallops you've bought are of uneven size, cut the large ones into halves or thirds to make uniform.

Community Type Meeting Planned In Beaver Local

A "community" meeting for Beaver Local School District residents — to "get acquainted" and to learn each other's viewpoints and problems — is being contemplated as a project by the five parent-teacher organizations.

Plans for the project were reviewed by George VanHorne, executive head, at a meeting of the Public School PTA Monday night, and the group endorsed the proposal.

Tentative plans call for the first meeting in the spring with a speaker from the state Department of Education to be obtained by VanHorne. A room is to be set aside for entertaining children with movies so parents will be free to attend.

Presidents of the parent-teacher groups are serving on the committee planning the event. They are Clayton Aughinbaugh of the Public School, Robert Charlton of West Point, Charles Seinerth of Rogers, Ernest Gonter of Elkton and John Duffy of Calcutta.

These general meetings would be held twice a year.

Parents At Midland Urged To Aid Cub Scout Program

An appeal for more "parents participation" in order to continue the Cub Scout program in Midland was made today by Richard Arndt, cub master of the Midland Pack 415. He said that support by the mothers and fathers has been unsatisfactory for sometime.

The attendance at special meetings called by the cub master and at the monthly pack meetings 'has been very discourating not only to the few adults who are trying to keep the Cub Scout movement together but also to the young boys."

A special meeting was called Sunday to make plans for the annual Blue and Gold dinner in February but the attendance was so poor it was impossible to do anything, he said. Arndt had contacted the parents before the meeting and urged them to attend.

Another attempt will be made for better attendance at the pack meeting Friday at 7 p. m. at the Steelworkers Building. Unless there is a good response, the Cub Scout movement in Midland will be forced to dissolve, Arndt said.

The program being planned for the meeting will include various skits by the cubs. The theme will be "Nights of Yore."

Eligible to join the troop are boys 8 to 10½ years of age. The troop is sponsored by the Midland American Legion Post 481.

Chamber Will Send 3 To UOVDC's Meeting

Alvin T. Babb, president, C. W. Ashbaugh, first vice president, and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager, will represent the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council Thursday night at 6:30 at the Steubenville Country Club.

Chamber representatives from throughout the UOVDC's six-county area have been invited to the dinner session to talk over the organization's work and discuss selection of a successor for Walter L. Myers Jr., executive manager, who resigned Dec. 31.

The meeting was called by Dr. E. B. Weinman of Steubenville, president of the UOVDS. He said the council now is interviewing applicants for Myers' post. The council has members in Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont Counties in Ohio and Hancock and Brooke in West Virginia.

Apartment Building Planned In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — A project agreement has been signed for construction of a 400 - apartment building at East 12th Street and Chester Avenue in the Erieview district.

A suit attacking the Erieview project must be settled before title to property involved can be delivered.

Wellsville K. Of C. To Make Youth Trip

Plans to attend the final meeting of the youth campaign Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Pick-Ohio Hotel at Youngstown were outlined at a meeting of Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507 Tuesday night.

John Kozora, grand knight, John Barborak and John Cataldo and Leonard DeFalco, team leaders, will attend.

The building committee reported it met Sunday to discuss completion of the remodeling program. Kozora reported on the district meeting held last week at Lisbon.

It was announced reservations still are open for a spaghetti dinner Sunday, from 1 to 3 p. m. Mrs. John Trainer and Mrs. Hugh McCarron are in charge of reservations.

Fr. Gerald Curran, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church, will screen slides following the next meeting Tuesday night at 8. A special lunch will be served with Mrs. John Barborak as cook.

Midland Youth Center Sets Valentine Dance

The Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center will hold its sixth anniversary and annual Heart Hop, Saturday, Feb. 10, Mrs. William Spisak, director, said.

The center will also be open Friday evening Feb. 9, following the Lincoln High home basketball game.

The Heart Hop will be in the valentine theme and in the form of a Mardi Gras. Parents and others will be invited to visit the center on the occasion.

Officers' Installation Held For Beauceant Assembly

Officers were installed at the meeting of Social Order of Beauceant Assembly 71 Monday night at the Masonic Temple. About 100 attended.

Mrs. John Sims was inducted as president; Mrs. Homer Hoffman, first vice president; Mrs. Harold Wallace, second vice president; Mrs. Eric Young, preceptress; Mrs. George Miller, recorder, and Mrs. Fred Stevens, treasurer.

Appointive officers installed were Mrs. Thomas Wolfe, oracle; Mrs. John Starr, marshal; Mrs. Paul Allen, assistant; Mrs. John Parsons, standard bearer; Mrs. Everett May, color bearer; Mrs. Lawrence Brokaw, daughter of the household; Mrs. Charles Atkinson, director of music; Mrs. Wilmer Justison, mistress of wardrobe; Mrs. Albert Winland, chaplain; Mrs. Ralph Hoffman, inside guard, and Mrs. Americo Radeschi, outside.

Sir Knights Templar formed the color guard for the entrance march. The retiring officers wore formal gowns and those of the incoming group were attired in the traditional robes.

Mrs. Alfred Bayley was installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Earl Roush, Mrs. Nora Calhoun, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Glenn Tittle, Mrs. Neil Patchin and Mrs. William Kress.

Mrs. Wilson presented Mrs. Wolfe with the past president's jewel and Mrs. Winland gave the retiring officers gifts from the lodge.

Mrs. Sims introduced her husband, John Sims; her mother, Mrs. Ethel Urie, and her daughter, Mrs. David Lanam, both of Wellsville. Delegations from visiting assemblies were also introduced.

Standing committees named were Mrs. Winland, executive and instructor; Mrs. Young, paraphernalia; Mrs. Albert McLain, examining; Mrs. Roush, benevolence; Mrs. Hoffman, visiting, finance and entertainment; Mrs. Patchin, blind foundation and necrology; Mrs. Miller, flowers and jewels; Mrs. Harley Conley, telephone; Mrs. Wallace, publicity, and past presidents, reception.

Other committee heads are Mrs. John Starr, kitchen; Mrs. Allen, diningroom; Mrs. Roush, decoration, and Mrs. Conley, registration.

Some 50 attended a dinner in the grillroom preceding the rites. The Dia Konia Class of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church served the meal. The Rev. Gene Toot, associate minister, gave the invocation. Mrs. Sims presented Mrs. Bayley, installing officer, with a red rose corsage.

The speakers' table was decorated with an arrangement of red and white carnations flanked by white tapers in crystal candelabra. The other tables featured red crosses and gold crowns placed on gold doilies.

Following the program, a buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. Stanley Rose, assisted by Mrs. Ed Curry, Mrs. Charles Allison and Mrs. Lester Smith.

Officers' practice will be held Feb. 16. Charter members and past presidents will be honored at the next meeting Feb. 26.

Wintersville Dentist Files For Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Robert R. Price, a dentist of Wintersville, near Steubenville, obtained petitions today to seek the Democratic nomination for Congress-at-large in the May Primary election.

Price, 35, is the son of the late Robert Price, former mayor of Amsterdam, Jefferson County. It is Dr. Price's first bid for public office. He is married and has three children.

Six others have announced for the Democratic nomination for Congress-at-large.

Choir Parents To Sponsor Trip

Plans were discussed to sponsor a trip for the senior members before graduation when the ELHS Choir Parents met Tuesday evening in the choir room of the Memorial Auditorium.

A committee was named to assist E. King Mathews, choir director, in planning the trip.

The annual spring choir dance will be held April 13 and the spring concert April 27. The high school will be represented at the county music festival Feb. 23 at Beaver Local.

The parents plan to purchase 80 new robes for the choir and Mathews will contact various companies, with hopes the selection can be made in time for the meeting Feb. 27.

Reports were given by Mrs. Mary Hughey on the sale of tea bags. It was decided to re-order later in the year. Mrs. Clarence Bryan, basketball program chairman, reported on the sale of advertisement for the program, which is the group's major fund-raising project each year.

Edward Gill, president, presided.

8 Killed, 83 Injured When Hotel Collapses

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Rescue squads today continued a frantic search for more victims in the ruins of a nearly completed resort hotel that collapsed at nearby Pineda, killing at least eight workmen and injuring 83.

Estimates of the number of workers in the eight-story hotel at the time of the two-stage collapse Tuesday varied between 140 and 200. One official said he feared as many as two dozen more victims would be found.

Industry Group Has Card Party

A public card party, sponsored by the Industry volunteer fire department auxiliary, was held Friday night in the Industry fire hall.

Winners in 500 included Mrs. Lloyd McCoy, Joseph Rasillo, James McClaskey, Miss Patty Montgomery and Mrs. Charles Piquet, and others were Mrs. Steve Rosepiler, pinochle; Mrs. James Knight, bridge, and Mrs. George Flair and Miss Janet Montgomery, bunco.

Special prizes were awarded Mrs. John Jamrozik, Mrs. William Tichy, Mrs. Alex Newdomski, Mrs. Sam Hawthorne, Mrs. Steve Suchanec, Mrs. Robert Cowan and Miss Karen Newdomski.

Mrs. Allen Leiffer was chairman and Mrs. Jamrozik, co-chairman. Mrs. Louis Phillips was hostess.

The auxiliary will meet Feb. 13 at 8 p. m. in the fire hall. Mrs. Jamrozik, president, will preside.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nuzzo of the TV Tower Rd. are visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Valetti, of Pittsburgh.

Charges Dismissed For Wellsville Tavern

The Ohio State Liquor Control Board at Columbus today announced that a charge of selling intoxicating liquor to minors against the owners of the New Bolero Cafe, 307 Main St., Wellsville, has been dismissed.

The case was heard and decided Jan. 11. The alleged violation was filed June 16, 1961, by Wellsville officials.

Listed as the owners are James Vincent Corbisello, Phillip Corbisello, Dominic Corbisello and Benjamin Corbisello.

Officers' Installation Held For Beauceant Assembly

Officers were installed at the meeting of Social Order of Beauceant Assembly 71 Monday night at the Masonic Temple. About 100 attended.

Mrs. John Sims was inducted as president; Mrs. Homer Hoffman, first vice president; Mrs. Harold Wallace, second vice president; Mrs. Eric Young, preceptress; Mrs. George Miller, recorder, and Mrs. Fred Stevens, treasurer.

Appointive officers installed were Mrs. Thomas Wolfe, oracle; Mrs. John Starr, marshal; Mrs. Paul Allen, assistant; Mrs. John Parsons, standard bearer; Mrs. Everett May, color bearer; Mrs. Lawrence Brokaw, daughter of the household; Mrs. Charles Atkinson, director of music; Mrs. Wilmer Justison, mistress of wardrobe; Mrs. Albert Winland, chaplain; Mrs. Ralph Hoffman, inside guard, and Mrs. Americo Radeschi, outside.

Sir Knights Templar formed the color guard for the entrance march. The retiring officers wore formal gowns and those of the incoming group were attired in the traditional robes.

Mrs. Alfred Bayley was installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Earl Roush, Mrs. Nora Calhoun, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Glenn Tittle, Mrs. Neil Patchin and Mrs. William Kress.

Mrs. Wilson presented Mrs. Wolfe with the past president's jewel and Mrs. Winland gave the retiring officers gifts from the lodge.

Mrs. Sims introduced her husband, John Sims; her mother, Mrs. Ethel Urie, and her daughter, Mrs. David Lanam, both of Wellsville. Delegations from visiting assemblies were also introduced.

Standing committees named were Mrs. Winland, executive and instructor; Mrs. Young, paraphernalia; Mrs. Albert McLain, examining; Mrs. Roush, benevolence; Mrs. Hoffman, visiting, finance and entertainment; Mrs. Patchin, blind foundation and necrology; Mrs. Miller, flowers and jewels; Mrs. Harley Conley, telephone; Mrs. Wallace, publicity, and past presidents, reception.

Other committee heads are Mrs. John Starr, kitchen; Mrs. Allen, diningroom; Mrs. Roush, decoration, and Mrs. Conley, registration.

Some 50 attended a dinner in the grillroom preceding the rites. The Dia Konia Class of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church served the meal. The Rev. Gene Toot, associate minister, gave the invocation. Mrs. Sims presented Mrs. Bayley, installing officer, with a red rose corsage.

The speakers' table was decorated with an arrangement of red and white carnations flanked by white tapers in crystal candelabra. The other tables featured red crosses and gold crowns placed on gold doilies.

Following the program, a buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. Stanley Rose, assisted by Mrs. Ed Curry, Mrs. Charles Allison and Mrs. Lester Smith.

Officers' practice will be held Feb. 16. Charter members and past presidents will be honored at the next meeting Feb. 26.

Wintersville Dentist Files For Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Robert R. Price, a dentist of Wintersville, near Steubenville, obtained petitions today to seek the Democratic nomination for Congress-at-large in the May Primary election.

Price, 35, is the son of the late Robert Price, former mayor of Amsterdam, Jefferson County. It is Dr. Price's first bid for public office. He is married and has three children.

Six others have announced for the Democratic nomination for Congress-at-large.

Choir Parents To Sponsor Trip

Plans were discussed to sponsor a trip for the senior members before graduation when the ELHS Choir Parents met Tuesday evening in the choir room of the Memorial Auditorium.

A committee was named to assist E. King Mathews, choir director, in planning the trip.

The annual spring choir dance will be held April 13 and the spring concert April 27. The high school will be represented at the county music festival Feb. 23 at Beaver Local.

The parents plan to purchase 80 new robes for the choir and Mathews will contact various companies, with hopes the selection can be made in time for the meeting Feb. 27.

Reports were given by Mrs. Mary Hughey on the sale of tea bags. It was decided to re-order later in the year. Mrs. Clarence Bryan, basketball program chairman, reported on the sale of advertisement for the program, which is the group's major fund-raising project each year.

Edward Gill, president, presided.

8 Killed, 83 Injured When Hotel Collapses

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Rescue squads today continued a frantic search for more victims in the ruins of a nearly completed resort hotel that collapsed at nearby Pineda, killing at least eight workmen and injuring 83.

Estimates of the number of workers in the eight-story hotel at the time of the two-stage collapse Tuesday varied between 140 and 200. One official said he feared as many as two dozen more victims would be found.

Merger Vote Approved For School Areas

The Beaver County Board of Education Tuesday night approved petitions of Ambridge and South Heights Boroughs to vote May 8.

The board also took action to transfer South Heights from Unit 5 in the county plan to Unit 16 to make the merger possible. Copes of the resolutions were ordered sent to the boards involved.

Mark Hilliker, acting as presiding officer, administered the oath of office to Andrew Flesher of Harmony Township, replacing Robert Hannigan of New Sewickley Township as a member.

Considerable time was spent discussing plans for a proposed school directors and secretaries school Feb. 28 at Rochester High School. But since no criteria arrived from the State Department relative to Act 561, the reorganization bill, nothing further could be done to inform school directors about the proposed meeting.

The board discussed planning a bus drivers' school in the summer.

Expenditures for the special services program in the amount of $26,212.37 were approved for January, leaving a balance of $17,254.32 with an allocation from the state, between now and the next payroll, to cover expenditures for the second half of the current year.

The board received from the state an approved budget for second semester special classes in the amount of $209,556.65, including transportation and instructional costs.

A letter of appreciation was authorized to be sent to Reliable Motor Parts Co. of Beaver Falls for a generous donation to be used for special services to the handicapped.

Next meeing will be Feb. 27 in the superintendent's office at the Beaver County Courthouse at Beaver.

REV. C. D. VOGEL
Not Unfamiliar With Duties.

Minister Heads North Hancock Red Cross Unit

The Rev. C. Donald Vogel of Chester, new chapter chairman of the North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter, is not unfamiliar with the work of the national service organization.

The minister of the First United Presbyterian Church became well acquainted with the Red Cross during active duty in the marine Corps in both World War II and the Korean conflict.

Rev. Vogel returned Saturday from two weeks in Washington, where he attended a leadership school of the Bureau of Naval Personnel. He is a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve and serves as chaplain at the Navy and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center in Steubenville. He came to Chester in October 1960.

Loyal Congo, U.N. Forces In Katanga

LEOPOLDVILLE, th Congo (AP) — Loyal Congolese government troops and a team of U.N. administrators have been flown to the north Katanga town of Kongolo, where troops on New Year's Day massacred 19 white Roman Catholic priests.

The contingent of 160 Congolese troops radioed that the Kongolo airfield was safe for the arrival of Gen. Victor Lundula, the Congo army's eastern commander, who was to fly there today with two Red Cross reprsentatives.

The first message gave no details of the situation in the town, but it was believed the troops who shot the priests before a crowd of terrified schoolchildren had pulled out of the town.

Mothers March Chairmen Set

Chairmen for the Mothers March next Tuesday for the March of Dimes drive in several nearby Pennsylvania communities have been announced by the Beaver County Chapter office at Beaver.

They include Mrs. Frank Moore for Greene Township and Hookstown; Mrs. Paul Brandon, Georgetown; Mrs. Laco Shreve and Mrs. Homer Gifford, co-chairman, Industry; Mrs. Albert Hays, Ohio View, and Mrs. Robert L. Drake, Shippingport.

Mrs. Moore, general chairman in her area, named Mrs. John Petkovich as Hookstown chairman. She said volunteers will collect for the fund drive this week, starting today.

The March of Dimes campaign began Jan. 2 and ends next Wednesday. The National Foundation aids polio patients and defective and rheumatoid children. Funds go for patient aid and research.

Gas Project Nearly Done

Ohio Valley Gas Co. has nearly completed the installation of a pipeline to extend natural gas service to the Hammondsville - Irondale areas.

Harold R. Sneddon, East Liverpool division manager, said today the $220,200 project is about 90 per cent completed.

Wirt & Starn of Wooster, contractors, were to begin moving in heavy equipment today to extend the pipeline across two streams along Route 213 not far from Yellow Creek.

This phase is about all that remains to be done on the project. This had been delayed while the contractor obtained necessary permits to move drag-line equipment over state and county roads.

The first crossing is in Huyghevile along Route 213 where a small stream from the Hollow Rock area empties into Little Yellow Creek.

The second crossing is about two miles farther along Route 213 at Bridge No. 55.

The contractor has already laid the pipeline across two other streams in Hammondsville—one near the center of the small community and the other close to a concrete bridge near the new Stanton Local High School that is under construction.

The main line extends from a point along Route 213 as Yellow Creek to Hammondsville. There, a section continues along Route 213 to the new high school, and the main swings north to Irondale to service that community and several brick manufacturing plants.

Kennedy Seeks Ike's Support On Trade Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy hopes to draw heavily on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for support of the new international trade program he is sending to Congress Thursday.

Administration officials are girding for what may be a four-months struggle to win authority for the President to negotiate tariff cuts in dealing with the European Common Market.

It is Kennedy's intention to plug this program as a nonpartisan approach toward a pressing and complex economic problem.

In line with this he hopes Eisenhower will help influence Republicans to go along, just as the former president gave him some aid last year in getting authorization for the long-range development loan program.

Eisenhower heartened administration leaders with a statement last month in which he gave guarded approval for action which would provide "sufficient flexibility" for tariff negotiations to reduce restraints on U.S. exports.

On the other hand, the administration harbors the suspicion former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential nominee, may wind up critical of the Kennedy proposals. So far, Nixon has made no public comment.

Army To Shut Down 3 Ohio Installations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three Army installations in Ohio, including Ft. Hayes at Columbus, will be shut down as unnecessary to current and future needs

The Ravenna Arsenal and the Plum Brook Depot at Sandusky will be inactivated by next June, the Department of the Army announced Tuesday. Ft. Hayes will be abandoned some time before July 1, 1965.

The Columbus installation presently serves as headquarters for the 20th U.S. Army Corps, as an Army Reserve and National Guard training center and as the location of several Army support activities.

New Violence Fatal To 16 In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Sixteen persons were reported killed and 80 wounded Tuesday in left-wing violence in which military police battled snipers.

Bombs exploded in scattered parts of the city and eight buses were burned during the fighting in the second day of clashes brought on by leftist agitators against the government of President Romulo Beancourt.

Twenty-three persons have been killed and more than 100 injured in the disorders which coincided with the meeting of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers at Punta del Este, Uruguay, to consider action against Fidel Castros Cuba.

Liquor Board Studies Permit Transfer Bids

SALEM — Applications for transfer of liquor permits of three Salem residents are being processed by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control in Columbus.

John E. and Katherine Hendron, 441 S. Ellsworth Ave., ask transfer of four permits to Louis A. Mattevi of Hendron's Tavern.

Mattevi of the Hotel Lape asks transfer of a D-5 (night club permit) to the Hendrons.

Loyal Congo, U.N. Forces In Katanga

LEOPOLDVILLE, th Congo (AP) — Loyal Congolese government troops and a team of U.N. administrators have been flown to the north Katanga town of Kongolo, where troops on New Year's Day massacred 19 white Roman Catholic priests.

The contingent of 160 Congolese troops radioed that the Kongolo airfield was safe for the arrival of Gen. Victor Lundula, the Congo army's eastern commander, who was to fly there today with two Red Cross reprsentatives.

The first message gave no details of the situation in the town, but it was believed the troops who shot the priests before a crowd of terrified schoolchildren had pulled out of the town.

Mothers March Chairmen Set

Chairmen for the Mothers March next Tuesday for the March of Dimes drive in several nearby Pennsylvania communities have been announced by the Beaver County Chapter office at Beaver.

They include Mrs. Frank Moore for Greene Township and Hookstown; Mrs. Paul Brandon, Georgetown; Mrs. Laco Shreve and Mrs. Homer Gifford, co-chairman, Industry; Mrs. Albert Hays, Ohio View, and Mrs. Robert L. Drake, Shippingport.

Mrs. Moore, general chairman in her area, named Mrs. John Petkovich as Hookstown chairman. She said volunteers will collect for the fund drive this week, starting today.

The March of Dimes campaign began Jan. 2 and ends next Wednesday. The National Foundation aids polio patients and defective and rheumatoid children. Funds go for patient aid and research.

Gas Project Nearly Done

Ohio Valley Gas Co. has nearly completed the installation of a pipeline to extend natural gas service to the Hammondsville - Irondale areas.

Harold R. Sneddon, East Liverpool division manager, said today the $220,200 project is about 90 per cent completed.

Wirt & Starn of Wooster, contractors, were to begin moving in heavy equipment today to extend the pipeline across two streams along Route 213 not far from Yellow Creek.

This phase is about all that remains to be done on the project. This had been delayed while the contractor obtained necessary permits to move drag-line equipment over state and county roads.

The first crossing is in Huyghe-ville along Route 213 where a small stream from the Hollow Rock area empties into Little Yellow Creek.

The second crossing is about two miles farther along Route 213 at Bridge No. 55.

The contractor has already laid the pipeline across two other streams in Hammondsville—one near the center of the small community and the other close to a concrete bridge near the new Stanton Local High School that is under construction.

The main line extends from a point along Route 213 as Yellow Creek to Hammondsville. There, a section continues along Route 213 to the new high school, and the main swings north to Irondale to service that community and several brick manufacturing plants.

Kennedy Seeks Ike's Support On Trade Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy hopes to draw heavily on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for support of the new international trade program he is sending to Congress Thursday.

Administration officials are girding for what may be a four-months struggle to win authority for the President to negotiate tariff cuts in dealing with the European Common Market.

It is Kennedy's intention to plug this program as a nonpartisan approach toward a pressing and complex economic problem.

In line with this he hopes Eisenhower will help influence Republicans to go along, just as the former president gave him some aid last year in getting authorization for the long-range development loan program.

Eisenhower heartened administration leaders with a statement last month in which he gave guarded approval for action which would provide "sufficient flexibility" for tariff negotiations to reduce restraints on U.S. exports.

On the other hand, the administration harbors the suspicion former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential nominee, may wind up critical of the Kennedy proposals. So far, Nixon has made no public comment.

Army To Shut Down 3 Ohio Installations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three Army installations in Ohio, including Ft. Hayes at Columbus, will be shut down as unnecessary to current and future needs

The Ravenna Arsenal and the Plum Brook Depot at Sandusky will be inactivated by next June, the Department of the Army announced Tuesday. Ft. Hayes will be abandoned some time before July 1, 1965.

The Columbus installation presently serves as headquarters for the 20th U.S. Army Corps, as an Army Reserve and National Guard training center and as the location of several Army support activities.

New Violence Fatal To 16 In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Sixteen persons were reported killed and 80 wounded Tuesday in left-wing violence in which military police battled snipers.

Bombs exploded in scattered parts of the city and eight buses were burned during the fighting in the second day of clashes brought on by leftist agitators against the government of President Romulo Beancourt.

Twenty-three persons have been killed and more than 100 injured in the disorders which coincided with the meeting of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers at Punta del Este, Uruguay, to consider action against Fidel Castros Cuba.

Liquor Board Studies Permit Transfer Bids

SALEM — Applications for transfer of liquor permits of three Salem residents are being processed by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control in Columbus.

John E. and Katherine Hendron, 441 S. Ellsworth Ave., ask transfer of four permits to Louis A. Mattevi of Hendron's Tavern.

Mattevi of the Hotel Lape asks transfer of a D-5 (night club permit) to the Hendrons.

Driver Fined After Chase

A Portersville R. D. 2 man was fined $35 and costs at a hearing Tuesday night before Midland Justice of the Peace George Griffin after leading Midland police on a high-speed chase early yesterday into Ohioville.

William Anthony Haney, 25, was fined $10 and costs each on three charges, lack of an operator's license, going too fast for conditions and driving the wrong way on a one-way street, and $5 and costs for going through a stop sign. He pleaded guilty and was released from Midland Jail after paying the fines and costs.

Midland police spotted Haney Tuesday at 4:40 a. m. at 4th St. and Midland Ave. He took off up one-way 3rd St. onto Woodlane Ave. and over the Midland Heights Hill Rd., Route 168.

Police said they chased the car at speeds of 70 to 75 miles per hour. Haney went to Fairview and turned right at the crossroad and at Fairview School, turned left onto Blackhawk Rd.

Police said that when the car approached the intersection of Ridgemont and Lisbon Rd., it hit an embankment and caught fire. Police used their fire extinguisher to put out the blaze.

Michael Haydin, Ohioville officer, was notified. Haney received a cut chin in the crash and was treated first at the Crucible Emergency Hospital and later at Rochester General Hospital.

Relative To Review Circulation

Annual Audit Completed

C. J. Walczak, left, is shown conversing with Marvin J. Roberts, circulation manager, as the annual audit of the paid circulation of The East Liverpool Review was completed here Tuesday.

Walczak is one of 70 field auditors of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.

The bureau is a voluntary, cooperative and non-profit association founded in 1914 by advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers to assure dependable circulation statements for media buyers and to give publishers full credit for legitimate circulation statements.

Members are located in the United States, Canada, Bermuda, El Salvador, Mexico and Puerto Rico.

Publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies who are bureau members pay all costs and elect the 31 directors who guide bureau policy. Although publisher members pay more than 91 per cent of the total expense, the majority voice is given to advertising buyers. The bureau's board chairman always is an advertiser or advertising agency member.

4-H To Hold Rink Party

Plans to sponsor a public skating party were approved when the Hancock County 4-H Leaders Association met Tuesday night in the Agricultural Extension office in New Cumberland.

The event to raise funds for summer camp will be held Feb. 15 at the Melody Lane rink in Hookstown, Mrs. Mary Schladen, president, reported.

The association has purchased a large coffee urn for $22 for use at summer camp or for other 4-H activities.

Total membership in the county's 22 4-H clubs has reached 465, it was reported.

Mrs. Schladen of Lawrenceville has compiled a list of committees for 1962 to plan such events as observance of National 4-H week, Demonstration Day, 4-H Sunday and style review.

A new committee added includes Mrs. Kendra Johnston, Mrs. Paula Jones and Mrs. Helen Parr, all of Weirton, for the regional clothing school March 27.

Mrs. Julian Wilson of Newell led devotions. Lunch was served by the Elwood Club of Newell. Thirty attended. Next meeting is Feb. 27.

Prior to business, Mrs. Ruth McPherson, county 4-H agent, spoke and screened movies on "What Are 4-H Clubs?"

Business Lunch Appears Safe As Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The traditional business lunch or dinner seemed safe today as a full income tax deduction — but the prospects were dimmer for a round of night clubs with a customer.

The House Ways and Means Committee, looking for more revenue from tighter tax laws, Tuesday ordered a legislative section drafted that would permit deduction of only 50 per cent of most business entertainment expenses—and require proof of the expenses.

Such draft orders usually mean substantial agreement in the committee, which handles tax matters.

The version the committee ordered prepared for a final vote presumably would tax much business entertainment money which is exempt under present law, although there were no firm estimates. It falls considerably short of President Kennedy's recommendations, which would have completed eliminated deductions for most business expenses.

Graham Dodges Pro-Castro Mob, Talks To 4,000

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham preached to a crowd of 4,000 at a baseball park here Tuesday night after ducking out of the back door of a hall to avoid a pro-Castro mob.

Graham was spirited out of the state legislative hall by local officials when his speech to them was interrupted by a crowd banging on the front door and chanting, "Yankee no! Castro yes!"

Several legislators said they thought the crowd was out to overthrow the local government, not to get Graham. Pro-Castro elements in Caracas, the Venezuelan capital, have been rioting daily since the start of the Punta Del Este conference.

Graham is making a tour of five Latin American countries.

Engineers Chief Sees No Reason To Air Canal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Col. Bert de Melker, Pittsburgh chief of the U.S. Army Engineers, says he sees no necessity for further hearings at present on a proposed canal to link Lake Erie with the Ohio River.

Col. de Melker said Tuesday the requests he has received from congressmen for further hearings have been answered.

The Engineers, he said, are now reviewing a report prepared by the Engineers in 1939, in which the currently proposed canal route was recommended out of six alternate routes.

The review, he said, might take 18 months to 2 years. If it indicated a need for public hearings they would be held, he said.

De Melker said two hearings recently in Youngstown, Ohio, had not produced much new information, but they did give everyone a chance to express his views on the project.

Auxiliaries At Lisbon To Aid Dimes Drive

LISBON — Auxiliaries of the American Legion and VFW Posts will hold a house-to-house canvas for the annual March of Dimes Monday at 6:30 p. m., according to John Snyder Jr., Lisbon campaign chairman.

Coin containers have been placed in most stores and business establishments and donations may be left at the Firestone Bank or the Farmers Bank.

The American Legion will not hold a Block of Dimes drive on village streets this year, Snyder said.

Water Board Eyes Repairs

decided Tuesday to request Council for authority to advertise for bids on material for repair of a leak in one of the basins of the low service reservoir on Thompson Ave.

Council will be asked to enact legislation authorizing the board to call for bids on a sand and cement mixture to be used in the repair, Supt. Donald T. Duke said. The leak is in the wall of the smaller of the two concrete basins that comprise the reservoir, he said.

The leak, considered small, is discharging water at approximately the same volume as a quarter-inch service line, the superintendent said. A concrete and sand mixture was used last year for repair of the walls of the high service reservoir on Huston Hill.

The board also decided to purchase $337,000 worth of insurance on the buildings and their contents at the sewage treatment plant. Since Nov. 1, the board has been responsible for administration of the sewage system.

Previously, the insurance coverage was in force only on the motors and machinery at the plant, Duke related.

Lions At Cumberland Will Aid Dimes Drive

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Lions Club will conduct its annual "Father's March" for the March of Dimes Feb. 1 at 7 p. m.

Plans for aiding in the campaign were announced at a dinner meeting Tuesday night in the Swaney Memorial Library.

Dr. Joseph Favara of Rome, Italy, spoke on school systems of his native country. He is visiting Hancock County schools.

Rt. 2 At Moundsville To Open After Slide

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Road Commission reported that W. Va. 2 south of Moundsville would be reopened to all traffic at 6 p.m. today after being closed by a rock and earth slide.

The slide occurred Monday about one mile south of Moundsville. It covered the highway and ripped out about 300 feet of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks.

The leak, considered small, is discharging water at approximately the same volume as a quarter-inch service line, the superintendent said. A concrete and sand mixture was used last year for repair of the walls of the high service reservoir on Huston Hill.

The board also decided to purchase $337,000 worth of insurance on the buildings and their contents at the sewage treatment plant. Since Nov. 1, the board has been responsible for administration of the sewage system.

Previously, the insurance coverage was in force only on the motors and machinery at the plant, Duke related.

Newell Group Plans Team

The South Side Athletic Club met Tuesday night and copies of rules and regulations for entering its Hot Stove League were given a Newell delegation headed by Arthur DeLong.

Steve Belich resigned as commissioner of the 13-15 age group and Leland Poe of Hookstown was appointed to the unexpired term.

John Nash, treasurer, reported that after paying bills, the club has a starting balance of $460.39. Jack McCarrell reported that all yearbook material is in order.

A committee was set up with Charles Ryland as chairman to straighten out boundary lines of each district before time for contract signing.

All contracts of boys must be turned in to Daniel Wright, secretary, by March 31. A colt league team was discussed but nothing definite was worked out.

William (Bud) Green, president, presided at the meeting at American Legion Post 952 near Hookstown. Next meeting is Feb. 6 at the Legion home.

Democrats Pick Staff At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — George Malena, 492 N. Market St., was elected president of the Democratic Club at a meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Malena, a maintenance worker at the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., and a fireman and city Civil Defense director, succeeds Robert Wichert.

Others named were Byron Cope, vice president; Mrs. James Knight, secretary; Mrs. T. S. Hawk, treasurer, and Mrs. Cope and Mrs. Paul Geiger Jr., trustees.

Malena named committees. Plans were made for a membership drive and for a candy sale in February. Lunch was served.

Initiation Planned

Ohio Elks Head Due At City Lodge Rites

Martin W. Feigert of Van Wert, president of the Ohio Elks' Association, will visit local Elks Lodge 258 Thursday night at 8.

An initiation of nine candidates will be held in his honor in keeping with a request from the Grand Lodge activities committee that a State Association President's Class be initiated in January.

Feigert has been a member of the Elks for 32 years. He is the state representative from Van Wert County and serves on several committees. He is interested in boys rehabilitation, is active in Boy Scouts, the YMCA and the Star Commonwealth for Boys at Van Wert. He is expected to arrive here at 7.

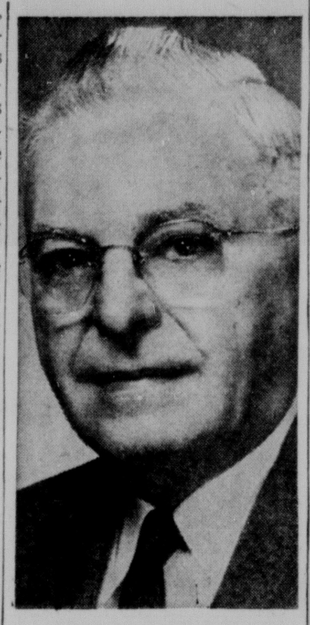
The Ohio Elks Association, founded in 1898, is comprised of 98 lodges and has a membership of 58,000. It was the first state association organized in the Grand Lodge.

Samuel B. Webber, exalted ruler, will preside. The committee in charge includes Thomas F. Maley, secretary, Roy W. Rinehart, John M. Eccleston, Joseph W. Chetwynd, James H. Noble and Fred Shaw. A lunch will be served by the house committee.

Notices of the initiation have been sent 20 lodges in the state, five in West Virginia and three in Pennsylvania.

Other members of the state group expected to attend include N. A. Bartram of Youngstown Lodge 55, first vice president; Robert N. Antram of Alliance Lodge 467, secretary - treasurer; Lawrence R. Derry of Barnesville Lodge 1699, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and Michael B. Letzelter of Steubenville Lodge 231, president of the Past Exalted Rulers Association.

Gene St. Myer of Martins Ferry Lodge 895, district deputy grand exalted ruler of the Ohio Southeast District, will represent the Grand Lodge.



M. W. FEIGERT
President Of Association.

The local initiation team, coached by Eccleston, will visit the Rochester Lodge tonight for a ceremony.

12 Make Application For Cumberland Post

NEW CUMBERLAND — Town Council has received the applications of 12 persons for the newly-created post of assistant water works and sewage clerk.

Council created the position Jan. 10 to remove some of the burden from Mrs. Mary Lou Newburn, clerk, who handles all the town's clerical work alone.

Council will review the applications and make a decision on employment of a new clerk at a later meeting.

Check Case Is Continued

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a continuance until Thursday at 9 a. m. in the case of Daniel Matthews, 19, of East Palestine R. D. 1, who police said has admitted passing 22 bad checks totaling more than $700.

Matthews' hearing had been scheduled this morning, but the judge granted the continuance at the request of Atty. Robert Hartford of East Palestine, who was retained overnight as the defendant's counsel. Matthews' $5,000 bond was continued.

Matthews faces a preliminary hearing on only one charge, alleging that he passed a worthless $25 check Nov. 15 at Loblaw's Market. He admitted passing the string of bad checks after he was taken into custody Monday afternoon by Patrolman Orin C. Smith, officers said.

Police said Patrolmen Paul Lemal and William A. Devon joined in the investigation, which disclosed that Matthews had passed checks in East Liverpool, East Palestine, Wellsville, Columbiana, Lisbon and Youngstown.

Officers said more of Matthews' checks still are dribbling into headquarters. Police are compiling a list which they said will be turned over to Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw.

Two were added to the list this morning. Mrs. Mary Lowe, operator of a market in LaCroft, said shw cashed a $10 check for Matthews which later bounced. Police also were advised that Matthews had cashed checks at the A. J. Olsen Co. store on E. 5th St.

In his statement, Matthews identified D. M Ogilvie & Co. as one of the stores at which he cashed checks, but later it developed he had confused Ogilvie's with Olsen's, officers said.

Irish moss, specified sometimes in old-fashioned recipes, has to be soaked in cold water, then heated to 140 degrees or above to dissolved. The moss "gels" liquid mixtures.

Trial As Adult Slated For Salineville Youth

SALINEVILLE — A 17-year-old village youth, charged with breaking and entering along with Dennis Ray Beadnell of R. D., was certified to the Carroll County Common Pleas Court at a Juvenile Court hearing Tuesday at Carrollton.

Beadnell, 20, was bound over to the Carroll Grand Jury at a preliminary hearing Monday for the entering at the village water works office Friday night in which a safe was pried open but nothing taken.

The Juvenile Court yesterday ruled the youth should stand trial as an adult, and set his bond at $1,000. The pair was taken into custody Saturday by Police Chief Cleo Mellott and Carroll County Sheriff Dean Yeager. The office is located just inside the Carroll line.

$40 Million In 15 Years

'Success Begins At Home'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Success begins at home," said Jeno F. Paulucci, who in 15 years built a borrowed $2,500 into a $40-million food empire.

"No matter how depressed the area you live in may seem, if you look around you can find idle resources you can develop. Growth is possible anywhere."

Jeno is the son of an immigrant Italian miner in Minnesota's hard-hit Mesabi iron range.

At 13 he earned $2.50 a week in a grocery store and remembers "sometimes I had to take my pay in spotted fruits and vegetables."

At 17 he became a wholesale grocery salesman, slept in his car at night, ate his own food samples to cut down expenses.

At 27 he borrowed $2,500 to grow beansprouts. His office was a rented quonset hut, and the first year he took in $400,000. This year he expects to gross exactly 100 times that figure — or $40 million.

At 43, Jeno has become far more than America's beansprout king. As president of the Chun King Corp., headquartering in Duluth, Minn., he is the nation's largest manufacturer of American-Oriental foods.

He also packages Italian delicacies. He has a food empire that stretches from Minnesota to Florida. He has six plants, some 1,600 employes, a fleet of 40 trailer trucks. He raises or processes everything from mushrooms to blueberries, wild rice to celery — on more than 700,000 acres.

He even markets potting soil, sod and moss. He has just started a nationwide chain of Chinese drive-in restaurants.

One thing led to another for Paulucci, a slender, blue-eyed man with a passion for growth.

"Just as a farmer must plow something back into his soil, so must a businessman. He must create a service, or make something grow where nothing grew before," he says.

"There is a tremendous satisfaction in building a business against odds in a geographical area where other industries have failed.

"You turn a handicap into an advantage — that's one of the great secrets. It unlocks your mind and makes you alert and creative. Handicaps strengthen your organization."

Things May Start Humming At Zoo In Cleveland Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — Things may start humming when Celia, an attractive young widow, gets together with a popular bachelor from Milwaukee today.

At least the Cleveland Zoo hopes so. The subjects are streamer-tailed hummingbirds and they are rare. Celia, the Cleveland gal, is said to be the only one of her species to have been hatched and successfully raised in captivity. She arrived in May, 1959.

Celia's mom died four months later. Things have been rough since — or until the Milwaukee male entered the picture.

Celia was introduced to a mate in March, 1960, and set about building makeshift nests, laying eggs on the floor and generally behaving like a scatter - brained bride.

But, alas, the groom died last July and with him went the Cleveland Zoo's hopes of breeding a second generation of internationally famous streamer - tails. The eggs were not hatched.

Milwaukee's Washington Park Zoo sent its male hummer Tuesday. He arrived by passenger plane, feeling a bit droopy. But he perked up once he was placed in a new cage with room to move his 6-inch streamer tail. He spent his first day here eating.

The pair will be introduced today. If they can hum a sweet tune, wedding bells may be ringing.

Creek To Be Dredged Before Blasting Ice

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Miami Conservancy District and Warren County officials plan to dredge the bed of Twin Creek before making another attempt to blast the ice jam that forced several residents to leave their homes near Franklin Monday.

Blasting operations were halted after authorities decided the flood above the ice jam would cause less damage than the suddenly-released waters would do to downstream areas.

Infant Suffocates In Plastic Device

CINCINNATI (AP)—Terry Louis Elmer, 4½ months, apparently suffocated in a plastic bag Tuesday.

The Clermont County sheriff's office said the lad's mother, Mrs. Anna Elmer of Loveland, told them the family had been using a plastic bag in place of a rubber sheet in his crib and that she found Terry with the bag pulled over his head.

Awards Set At ONA Rally

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The Ohio Newspaper Association's first national public service award will be presented to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, at the ONA's annual convention banquet Feb. 9 in the Deshler Hilton Hotel here.

The award will be received by the assistant FBI director, Cartha D. DeLoach, who also will be the banquet speaker, discussing "The Press and National Security."

The award and talk will highlight a series of awards to be presented at the banquet, including certificates and $100 checks to Ohio's two outstanding newspaperboys in 1961 and presentation of the Governor's Award to three outstanding Ohioans and a college sports team by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Th enewspaperboy presentations will be made by Chief Justice Carl W. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The 29th annual ONA convention will open Thursday, Feb. 8, with a press conference with Stanley J. Bowers, tax commissioner of Ohio, at the hotel and a tour of the sales tax division facilities. A reception Thursday night will feature a Latin - American theme.

Friday morning will be devoted to separate sessions for daily and weekly newspapers aimed at improvement of newspapers for the benefit of readers and advertisers.

The annual Hooper Newspaper Show will be held Friday morning, also, with the judges taking part in a special panel discussion following presentation of awards to prize - winning newspapers.

The luncheon speaker Friday will be Charles Tingley, director of the ANPA Research Institute at Easton, Pa., who will discuss the latest developments in newspaper research and what the future may bring in the field of newspaper publishing and production. Election of members of the ONA board of trustees also will take place at the luncheon, along with presentation of community service and general excellence plaques to winning weekly newspapers.

Afternoon sessions Friday will be devoted to questions to be considered at roundtable discussion groups.

The program for Saturday will include a breakfast program featuring United Press International awards to Ohio State's football All-Americans, Bob Ferguson and Mike Ingram.

To Vote On Levy

AMELIA, Ohio (AP)—Voters in the West Clermont School District get a third chance Feb. 20 to vote on an 8-mill operating levy on which the future operation of the area's schools may depend. The levy has been defeated in two previous elections.

Trotsky Widow Dies

PARIS (AP) — Natalia Sedov Trotsky, 79, widow of Leon Trotsky, the Russian revolutionary leader, died Tuesday. Mrs. Trotsky, who had been seriously ill for some time, was born in Russia and met Trotsky in 1902 in Paris. They were married shortly afterward and from that time her life was mostly a series of exile homes. Trotsky was slain in Mexico in 1940.

At 13 he earned $2.50 a week in a grocery store and remembers "sometimes I had to take my pay in spotted fruits and vegetables."

At 17 he became a wholesale grocery salesman, slept in his car at night, ate his own food samples to cut down expenses.

At 27 he borrowed $2,500 to grow beansprouts. His office was a rented quonset hut, and the first year he took in $400,000. This year he expects to gross exactly 100 times that figure — or $40 million.

At 43, Jeno has become far more than America's beansprout king. As president of the Chun King Corp., headquartering in Duluth, Minn., he is the nation's largest manufacturer of American-Oriental foods.

He also packages Italian delicacies. He has a food empire that stretches from Minnesota to Florida. He has six plants, some 1,600 employes, a fleet of 40 trailer trucks. He raises or processes everything from mushrooms to blueberries, wild rice to celery — on more than 700,000 acres.

He even markets potting soil, sod and moss. He has just started a nationwide chain of Chinese drive-in restaurants.

One thing led to another for Paulucci, a slender, blue-eyed man with a passion for growth.

"Just as a farmer must plow something back into his soil, so must a businessman. He must create a service, or make something grow where nothing grew before," he says.

"There is a tremendous satisfaction in building a business against odds in a geographical area where other industries have failed.

"You turn a handicap into an advantage — that's one of the great secrets. It unlocks your mind and makes you alert and creative. Handicaps strengthen your organization."

Things May Start Humming At Zoo In Cleveland Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — Things may start humming when Celia, an attractive young widow, gets together with a popular bachelor from Milwaukee today.

At least the Cleveland Zoo hopes so. The subjects are streamer-tailed hummingbirds and they are rare. Celia, the Cleveland gal, is said to be the only one of her species to have been hatched and successfully raised in captivity. She arrived in May, 1959.

Celia's mom died four months later. Things have been rough since — or until the Milwaukee male entered the picture.

Celia was introduced to a mate in March, 1960, and set about building makeshift nests, laying eggs on the floor and generally behaving like a scatter - brained bride.

But, alas, the groom died last July and with him went the Cleveland Zoo's hopes of breeding a second generation of internationally famous streamer - tails. The eggs were not hatched.

Milwaukee's Washington Park Zoo sent its male hummer Tuesday. He arrived by passenger plane, feeling a bit droopy. But he perked up once he was placed in a new cage with room to move his 6-inch streamer tail. He spent his first day here eating.

The pair will be introduced today. If they can hum a sweet tune, wedding bells may be ringing.

Creek To Be Dredged Before Blasting Ice

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Miami Conservancy District and Warren County officials plan to dredge the bed of Twin Creek before making another attempt to blast the ice jam that forced several residents to leave their homes near Franklin Monday.

Blasting operations were halted after authorities decided the flood above the ice jam would cause less damage than the suddenly-released waters would do to downstream areas.

Infant Suffocates In Plastic Device

CINCINNATI (AP)—Terry Louis Elmer, 4½ months, apparently suffocated in a plastic bag Tuesday.

The Clermont County sheriff's office said the lad's mother, Mrs. Anna Elmer of Loveland, told them the family had been using a plastic bag in place of a rubber sheet in his crib and that she found Terry with the bag pulled over his head.

Awards Set At ONA Rally

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The Ohio Newspaper Association's first national public service award will be presented to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, at the ONA's annual convention banquet Feb. 9 in the Deshler Hilton Hotel here.

The award will be received by the assistant FBI director, Cartha D. DeLoach, who also will be the banquet speaker, discussing "The Press and National Security."

The award and talk will highlight a series of awards to be presented at the banquet, including certificates and $100 checks to Ohio's two outstanding newspaperboys in 1961 and presentation of the Governor's Award to three outstanding Ohioans and a college sports team by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Th enewspaperboy presentations will be made by Chief Justice Carl W. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The 29th annual ONA convention will open Thursday, Feb. 8, with a press conference with Stanley J. Bowers, tax commissioner of Ohio, at the hotel and a tour of the sales tax division facilities. A reception Thursday night will feature a Latin - American theme.

Friday morning will be devoted to separate sessions for daily and weekly newspapers aimed at improvement of newspapers for the benefit of readers and advertisers.

The annual Hooper Newspaper Show will be held Friday morning, also, with the judges taking part in a special panel discussion following presentation of awards to prize - winning newspapers.

The luncheon speaker Friday will be Charles Tingley, director of the ANPA Research Institute at Easton, Pa., who will discuss the latest developments in newspaper research and what the future may bring in the field of newspaper publishing and production. Election of members of the ONA board of trustees also will take place at the luncheon, along with presentation of community service and general excellence plaques to winning weekly newspapers.

Afternoon sessions Friday will be devoted to questions to be considered at roundtable discussion groups.

The program for Saturday will include a breakfast program featuring United Press International awards to Ohio State's football All-Americans, Bob Ferguson and Mike Ingram.

To Vote On Levy

AMELIA, Ohio (AP)—Voters in the West Clermont School District get a third chance Feb. 20 to vote on an 8-mill operating levy on which the future operation of the area's schools may depend. The levy has been defeated in two previous elections.

Trotsky Widow Dies

PARIS (AP) — Natalia Sedov Trotsky, 79, widow of Leon Trotsky, the Russian revolutionary leader, died Tuesday. Mrs. Trotsky, who had been seriously ill for some time, was born in Russia and met Trotsky in 1902 in Paris. They were married shortly afterward and from that time her life was mostly a series of exile homes. Trotsky was slain in Mexico in 1940.

Speaker At Rotary Urges More-Informed Citizens

The need for a more-informed citizenry—men and women who will exercise their rights in government and acquire information on the personal background of their legislators — was underscored by Sidney C. Porter Jr. at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

The club vice president appealed to fellow members to "become well informed on the work of our legislators and to evaluate their efforts in answers to questions offered by letters."

"Keep in mind that we must be well informed on all levels of government to function properly as good citizens," Porter declared.

"How many of us know the backgrounds of our state representatives," he questioned. "Are they suited for the job?" he asked.

Porter said an awareness and understanding of the factors which influence the federal government's decisions will help to straighten America's sagging financial posture.

He cited the John Birch Society and other right wing groups as typical of such organizations that influence decisions of federal legislators, school boards, political leaders and churches.

He repeated a part of the Jaycee creed of "Economic justice can thus be won by freemen through free enterprise."

"There is a lot of meaning in this. Men have to be free to operate free enterprise," Porter said.

He mentioned two study courses sponsored by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce as valuable to those interested in practical politics and economics.

Porter attended a course offered by the local Chamber and commented that "It tends to give a little different perspective as to what you as an individual should be doing."

Citizens cannot shirk their duties of working toward good government if they want to leave as a heritage to their children a good, strong background of finance, management and economics, Porter asserted.

"I appeal to your good sense of government, be well informed, write your representatives and ask for questions. Their answers will help you to evaluate their thoughts. And they need your guidance," Porter said.

Porter presided in the absence of Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, who is visiting in California.

George VanHorn reminded members that the club will sponsor four junior students from East Liverpool, Chester, Newell and Beaver Local to the annual World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati March 30-31.

6 Area Students Tour With Band

Six area students at Youngstown University are on tour this week with the university's concert band in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

They include Kay Wakefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Wakefield, 945 McKinnon Ave., East Liverpool; Cassandra Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nelson, Joseph Commarata, son of Mrs. Anna Commarata, John Creaturo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Creaturo, and Sam D'Angelo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam D'Angelo, all of Wellsville, and Alpheus Bartholow, son of Raymond Bartholow of Leetonia.

The band will give the final concert of its tour Friday night at 8 at the Stambaugh Auditorium at Youngstown when Rafael Mendez, prominent trumpet player, will be guest artist.

Secretaries Discuss Bylaws Amendments

Amendments to the bylaws were discussed at the meeting of the Executive Board of the East Liverpool Area Chapter of the National Secretaries Association Monday night at the YMCA.

Mrs. Dorothy Dick is chairman of the bylaws committee. Miss Susan Graff, president, presided.

Mrs. Clara Lowers gave the ways and means report and Mrs. June Chisler covered the program area.

A change was announced for the dinner meeting Feb. 6 at Travelers Hotel. Instead of a speaker, the group will discuss chapter policies.

Man's Faithful Friend

BLANCHARD, Okla. (AP) — When a bird dog died here, many townfolk turned out for the funeral. The dog was so good, they said, that when he was bringing back a quail and saw another he would stop and come to point.

CPA Group To Hold Membership Drive

Plans for a membership drive were discussed at the meeting of the Parental Group of the Columbiana County Affiliate of the Cerebral Palsy Association Monday night in the clinic rooms of the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Mrs. William White, president, conducted business. Mrs. Donald Doland read the minutes and Mrs. Nathan Weinbren, the financial report.

The group will hold private card parties at homes during February to raise funds for the purchase of braces and crutches and will also sell Easter candy.

Tentative plans were outlined for a turkey dinner and bazaar in the fall.

Mothers Of Scouts Set Sale At Chester

Plans for a home products sale were discussed at a meeting of the mothers auxiliary of Chester Boy Scout Troop 26 Monday night with Mrs. Ralph Brewer of George St.

Orders are to be in by Feb. 19. Proceeds will be used for camping equipment for the troop. Next meeting is Feb. 19 with Mrs. Paul Pattison of Louisiana Ave.

'Institute' Set By Dairymen

LISBON — Improved dairy farm operations will be discussed at the Columbiana - Mahoning County Dairy Institute to be held Wednesday at the Christian Church at Salem.

The event, sponsored by the Columbiana - Mahoning County Dairy Committee and the Co-operative Extension Service, will begin at 10 a. m. with a Civil Defense film.

The morning program will include talks by John Parker, Ashtabula County extension agent, discussing the farmer's share of the milk dollar, and W. J. Tysnik of Ohio State University, speaking on forage analysis and dairy feeding, grain feeding and digestion efficiency.

Lunch will be served at noon. The afternoon program will include reports on artificial breeding, and W. J. Brakel, Ohio State professor of dairy science, speaking on breeding for production and marketing of milk on a solid non-fat basis.

Tysnik will continue his talk on dairy feeding and Cyril Moore of the Ohio Holstein Association will speak on herd analysis.

Rep. Harsha Hits At Selection Of Tax Center Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's Rep. William H. Harsha expressed indignation when he learned that a $6 million Internal Revenue Service center—with an eventual $6 million annual payroll—will be built on the "wrong" side of the Ohio River.

The center was awarded to Covington, Ky., Tuesday.

Harsha, Republican from Portsmouth, accused the Kennedy administration of playing power politics and backing down on promises. Harsha wanted the five-state automatic data processing center in Clermont County in his 6th District.

"This was a golden opportunity for this administration to prove . . . it was interested in helping depressed areas," Harsha said. "But instead, this maneuver proved once again that words and deeds in this administration are not necessarily related. . . ."

Clermont County, on the western fringes of the Cincinnati area, is classed by federal officials as a depressed area. The Covington area is not.

Rep. Brent Spence, D-Ky., whose district gets the plum, retorted: "Ohio has two Democratic senators and a Democratic governor. How can there be any political considerations about it?"

The 88-year-old Kentuckian said he is sure the site was chosen "purely on its merits."

French Tricolor Flown Opposing Algeria Liberty

ALGIERS (AP) — The French tricolor was flown today throughout Algiers' European areas in a massive demonstration of opposition to Algerian independence.

The flag display was ordered by the European Secret Army Organization, which also called for a 75-minute general strike late this afternoon and told the European population to turn off the lights in their homes for the last 15 minutes. The strike was expected to paralyze the city.

The Secret Army Organization used the occasion of the anniversary of the 1960 settlers' uprising to demonstrate anew its hold on the European population and its determination to keep Algeria French.

In sharp contrast to the European flag display, the walls and windows of Moslem quarters were bare.

Police halted traffic on the city's main streets in expectation of disorders. Troop patrols deployed through the city and army helicopters hovered overhead.

'Institute' Set By Dairymen

LISBON — Improved dairy farm operations will be discussed at the Columbiana - Mahoning County Dairy Institute to be held Wednesday at the Christian Church at Salem.

The event, sponsored by the Columbiana - Mahoning County Dairy Committee and the Co-operative Extension Service, will begin at 10 a. m. with a Civil Defense film.

The morning program will include talks by John Parker, Ashtabula County extension agent, discussing the farmer's share of the milk dollar, and W. J. Tysnik of Ohio State University, speaking on forage analysis and dairy feeding, grain feeding and digestion efficiency.

Lunch will be served at noon. The afternoon program will include reports on artificial breeding, and W. J. Brakel, Ohio State professor of dairy science, speaking on breeding for production and marketing of milk on a solid non-fat basis.

Tysnik will continue his talk on dairy feeding and Cyril Moore of the Ohio Holstein Association will speak on herd analysis.

Rep. Harsha Hits At Selection Of Tax Center Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's Rep. William H. Harsha expressed indignation when he learned that a $6 million Internal Revenue Service center—with an eventual $6 million annual payroll—will be built on the "wrong" side of the Ohio River.

The center was awarded to Covington, Ky., Tuesday.

Harsha, Republican from Portsmouth, accused the Kennedy administration of playing power politics and backing down on promises. Harsha wanted the five-state automatic data processing center in Clermont County in his 6th District.

1,900 See Midland Nip Monaca In Overtime Duel, 49-46

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Leopards Knot It At Final Buzzer; Lead Section 8; Streak Hits 16

By ANDY NUZZO

The Midland Leopards ran into a rough band of Monaca Indians on the warpath, but quelled their uprising to take a thrilling 49-46 overtime victory before some 1,900 fans at Midland Tuesday night.

The victory moved the Leopards into undisputed first place in Section 8. It was the seventh victory in a row for Midland in section play and their 16th consecutive win of the season. Monaca absorbed its first defeat in section play against six wins as the first half schedule came to an end.

Monaca exploded for 22 points to 13 for Midland in the third stanza and had every Midland rooter up in arms. In that third quarter, the Indians hit on 10 of 16 shots for a fantastic 62 per cent.

★ ★ ★

MONACA held a 36-31 lead at the conclusion of the third quarter and Jack Lang canned a jumper at the outset of the final stanza to give the Indians their biggest lead of the night, 38-31.

Hank Kuzma immediately sent his charges into a full-court press that effectively bottled up the Indian attack while Midland outscored them, 9-1, to take a 40-39 lead with 4:06 left.

Lang then converted two free throws and tapped in a rebound, and Gail Davis added a free throw to push Monaca back in front, 44-40, with 2:03 left on the clock.

With 1:27 remaining, Al Aloi sank two charity tosses to cut the Monaca lead to 44-42.

—:—

THE LEOPARDS regained possession and started to stall for the final shot. This strategy paid off when Sam Forester took a pass from Earl Vaughn and sank a lay-up at the final buzzer to knot the score at 44-44 and send the game into a three - minute overtime.

In the overtime period, Vaughn contributed four of the five points scored by the Leopards.

Vaughn exchanged lay - up shots with Joe Dettore and then swished a jumper from the key to give the Leopards the lead for good.

Aloi led the Leopards, meshing 19 points on six fielders and seven of nine free throws. He also played a fine game on the boards.

RICH Lake added nine points and Vaughn sank eight key markers.

Lake played another fine floor game with his ball - hawking and Vaughn played an all-around good game.

Midland's two big men, Sam Forester and Bill Sallis, were hampered by fouls. They collected three apiece in the first half. Sallis sat out most of the third period with four fouls and he finally fouled out with 2:32 remaining in the contest. With Sallis on the bench in the third quarter, Midland's board strength was weakened.

Center Sam Peshut led the Indian attack, collecting 18 points on six fielders and six of nine free throws. He garnered 12 of the 14 points scored by Monaca in the first half.

The Leopards popped 18 of 54 field goal attempts for 33 per cent. Monaca hit on 17 of 55 field goal attempts for 31 per cent.

MIDLAND led in rebounds, pulling down 47 compared to Monaca's 31. Forester led the way with 12, followed by Aloi, who pulled down 11 strays. Sam Peshut grabbed 11 for Monaca.

Midland jumped off to a 3-0 lead only to have Peshut drop in four free throws to give Monaca the lead, 4-3. The Leopards then put on a nine-point scoring drive to take a 12-4 lead with 1:44 left in the initial period.

Midland led at the end of the first period, 12-6, and hung on for an 18-14 halftime lead before Otto Pritchard's Indians went on the warpath in that high - scoring third period.

The Indians came out and struck with six straight points to take a 20-18 lead. They moved it out to 28-23 with a little over two minutes left in the quarter.

VAUGHN then sank a spectacular reverse-lay-up and added a free throw to pull the Leopards out of danger and close Monaca's lead to 28-26.

The Indians managed to build their lead to five points three more times only to have the Leopards put out the fire with that full-court press in the final period.

In the preliminary, Phil Tridico, substituting for Midland's ailing reserve coach, Ed Olkowski, directed the Leopard reserves to a 45-40 triumph over Monaca.

Rod Alston and Henry Slappy had 11 points apiece and Ray Hoppa had 10 to lead the Midland reserves.

Friday night Midland plays host to Pittsburgh Central Catholic in a non-league contest.

THE SUIT COAT had already been shed and the necktie loosened quite a bit on Midland coach Hank Kuzma who is shown barking orders to his team in the final two minutes of Tuesday night's Section 8 struggle at Midland which the Leopards won in a thrilling overtime battle, 49-46.

Former LA Cagers Top ABL Teams

By The Associated Press

A couple of players whose best efforts couldn't keep the Los Angeles Jets in the American Basketball League apparently are just what a couple of the surviving clubs needed.

Bill Spivey and Dan Swartz, assigned to the Hawaii Chiefs and New York Tapers after the Los Angeles club gave up for lack of attendance, made notably successful debuts with their new teams Tuesday night. Each led the way to his team's first victory of the second half of the ABL season.

Swartz teamed up with another New York newcomer, Roger Taylor, and paced the Tapers to a 129-123 victory over the Pittsburgh Rens at Commack, N.Y. Swartz scored 31 points and Taylor, acquired from Cleveland for Bob Keller, dropped in 27 as the Tapers outscored the Rens in each of the first three quarters. Connie Hawkins, as usual, led the Rens with 41 points.

Spivey spurred the Chiefs in a strong finish that brought a 106-100 decision over Cleveland in Honolulu.

3 Spark Win For E. Junior

Three starters gained the double figures as East Junior High stormed past Wellsville, 53-26, Tuesday at the East End gym.

Bob Maltarich and Frank Taylor pumped in 12 markers each and Tom Prentice added 10 to give Coach Dom Cascio's team its big push.

The victory was East's fifth in eight games and was practically claimed at halftime when the Panthers showed a 22-12 margin.

McLean led all scorers with 13 points.

East Junior returns to action on its home court next Tuesday against Lisbon in a contest to start at 4:45 p. m.

Lucas Will Turn Pro, Mikan Says

NEW YORK (AP)—George Mikan, a former great himself, hailed Ohio State's Jerry Lucas as one of the outstanding basketball players of all time, and a cinch to turn professional.

Lucas, a two-time All-America and star of the champion Olympic team in 1960, has indicated in the past that he may enter business after he graduates in June and pass up pro ball.

The Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association, who already have two of the NBA's best in Oscar Robertson (Lucas' teammate on the Olympic squad) and Jack Twyman, are eager to pay Jerry a fortune to play with them.

"Will he turn pro?" said Mikan in repeating a question—"There's no question in my mind that he will. He's already gotten himself an agent in the guy that handles golfer Jack Nicklaus. If you're not going to play for money what do you need an agent for?"

Mikan, now 37, was picked as the greatest basketball player of the half century in an Associated Press poll in 1950. He first starred at DePaul and then with the Minneapolis Lakers. He quit playing in 1954 after hanging up many scoring records. Mikan, a lawyer in Minneapolis, was interviewed while in New York this week.

Beaver Local Matmen 'Strangle' Carrollton

Beaver Local, East Liverpool's wrestling opponent Thursday at Memorial Auditorium, warmed up with a 36-3 walloping of Carrollton Tuesday night at the Carroll County seat.

The Beavers turned the match into a rout with 10 victories in 11 bouts. Coach Jack O'Rourke's team now shows a 7-2 mark.

Falls were turned in by Farnum Shasteen (112) in 1:38, Carl Hoppel (145) in 2:30 and Dave Stacey (165) in 5:05.

All the decisions picked up by the Beavers were of a one-sided variety and recorded by Jim Obney (103), John Cook (120), Francis Possage (133), Larry Yost (138), Gary Bookman (154) Roy Carter (175) and Keith Berger (heavyweight).

Lester McKenzie, Beaver Local's 127-pounder, lost the only match on a 3-1 decision to Black.

The results follow:

103 — Obney (BL) decisioned Smith (C) 6-1.

112 — Shasteen (BL) pinned Roberts (C) 1:38.

120 — Cook (BL) decisioned McCort (C) 3-0.

127 — Black (C) decisioned McKenzie (BL) 3-1.

133 — Possage (BL) decisioned Worley (C) 9-1.

138 — Yost (BL) decisioned Hicks (C) 14-2.

145 — Hoppel (BL) pinned Dayton (C) 2:30.

154 — Bookman (BL) decisioned Miller (C) 6-0.

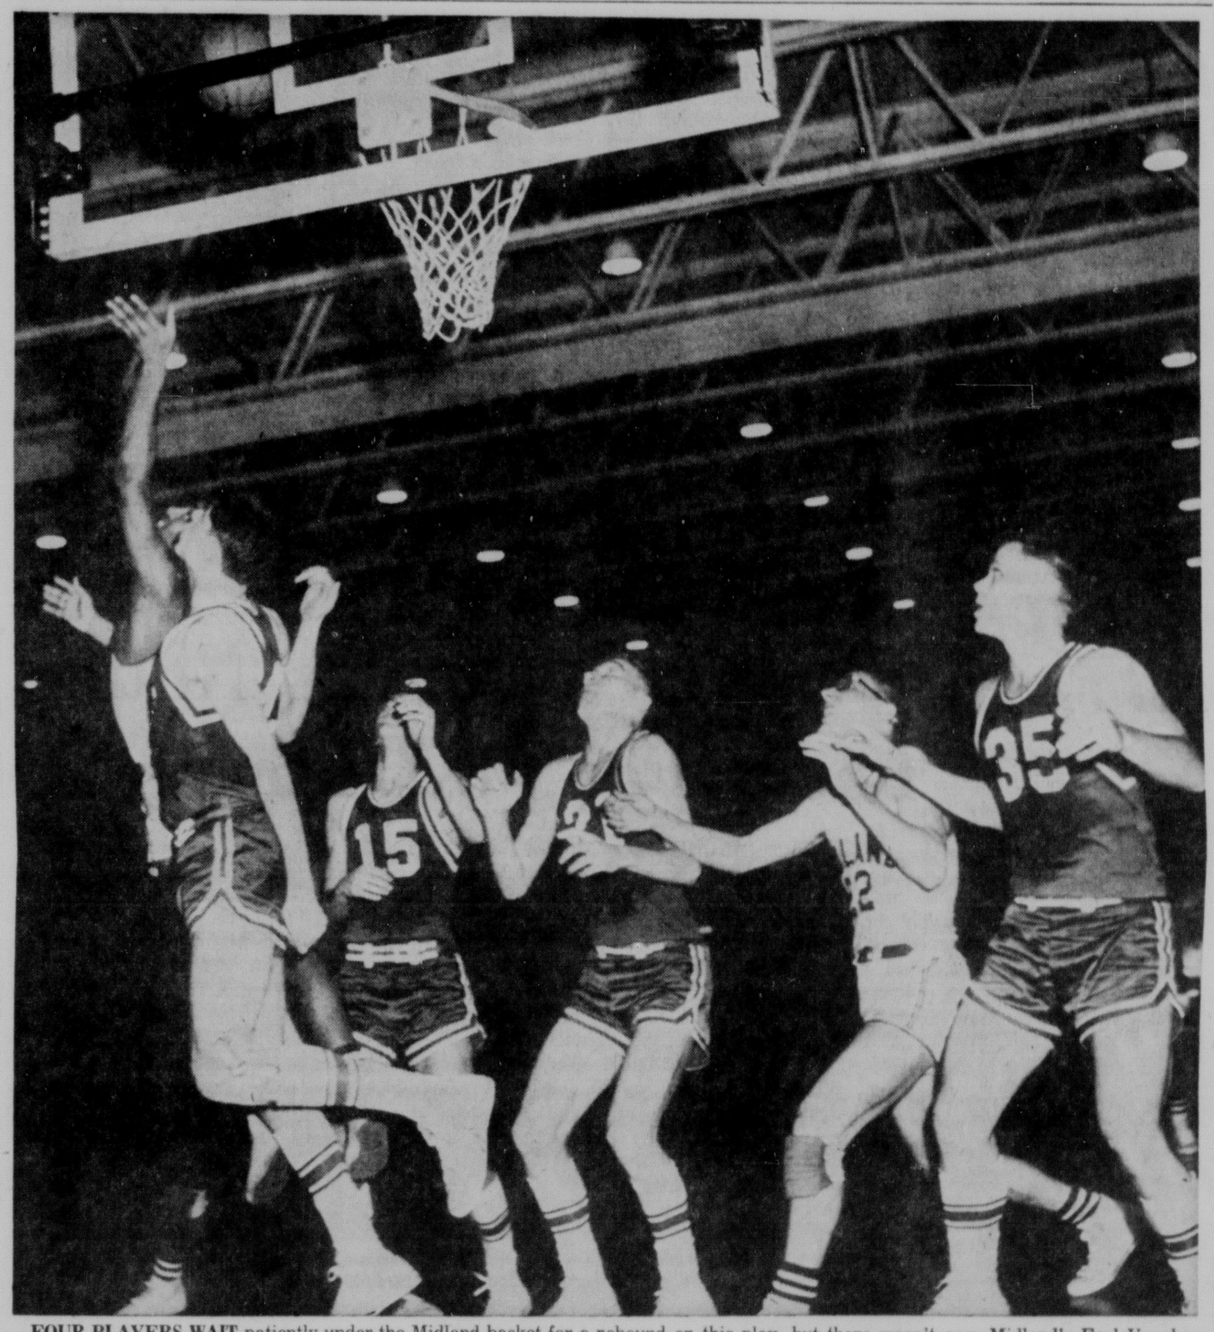
165 — Stacey (BL) pinned Baxter (C) 5:05.

175 — Carter (BL) decisioned Boggess (C) 6-2.

Heavyweight — Berger (BL) decisioned Rees (C) 4-1.

First nationally televised National Football League championship game was the 1951 meeting in which the Los Angeles Rams beat the Cleveland Browns, 24-17, at Los Angeles. Telecasting rights were $75,000.

Beavers Bow To Youngstown East, 55-44



FOUR PLAYERS WAIT patiently under the Midland basket for a rebound on this play, but there wasn't any. Midland's Earl Vaughn, (extreme left) with hand up in air nearly touching the banking board, flipped the ball over his head and into the basket for a key field goal in the late stages of Tuesday night's crucial Section 8 battle between the Leopards and Monaca on the Midland floor. The ball is shown in the upper left hand corner of the picture. Attempting to guard Vaughn is Monaca's Sam Peshut while waiting for the rebound are, left-to-right Joe Dettore (15) and Gail Davis (23) of Monaca, Midland's Al Aloi (22) and Monaca's John Lang (35).

Spurt In 2nd Half Builds Visitors' Edge

Tied at halftime, 26-26, Youngstown East turned in a second half victory over Beaver Local Tuesday night at Williamsport by winding up on top 55-44.

Coach Tom McCall's Beavers now showing a 3-8 mark had the best of the going in the early stages of the contest. The fast-starting Beaver Local five jumped off to a 16-10 lead in the first quarter, but East found the range to pull even, 26-26, at intermission.

With Gary Brown and Theo Lolakis leading the way, the Youngstown squad went into a 42-36 lead in the next eight minutes and carried the six-point margin into the fourth period.

Brown and Lolakis were the big thorns in the Beavers' side with 18 and 16 points respectively.

Scoring for Beaver Local were John Baker and Rich Aliulis, who both pumped in 14 points.

Beaver Local goes on the road Friday night seeking its fourth win of the campaign at Toronto, a team that already owns one victory over the Beavers.

Youngstown's reserve squad nipped Beaver Local, 34-32, in the preliminary.

McGuffey Joint On Top, 52-46

South Side's Defensive Play Almost Turns Tide

McGuffey Joint, holding second place in the Section 15 standings, has been running up high scores on all opponents this season, but not Tuesday night when South Side's defensive forces were out in full strength. However, not quite enough as the Rams bowed, 52-46, at McGuffey.

Coach Dave Nichol's team played a slow, deliberate type game and combined its good defensive into a 7-4 lead at the first quarter mark. The Rams trailed only 14-10 in the low scoring first half, but fell behind, 35-24, at the end of the third period.

South Side made a determined bid in the final eight minutes, but fell short. The Rams are 2-5 in Section play while McGuffey Joint is 6-1, losing only to league-leading Fort Cherry.

Dale Ashcroft was the only South Sider in the double figures with 15 while McGuffey showed three in that category. Leading the way was Tom Day with 17 while Ed Kilgore added 13 and Terry McCrery 12.

1,900 See Midland Nip Monaca In Overtime Duel, 49-46

Leopards Knot It At Final Buzzer; Lead Section 8; Streak Hits 16

By ANDY NUZZO

The Midland Leopards ran into a rough band of Monaca Indians on the warpath, but quelled their uprising to take a thrilling 49-46 overtime victory before some 1,900 fans at Midland Tuesday night.

The victory moved the Leopards into undisputed first place in Section 8. It was the seventh victory in a row for Midland in section play and their 16th consecutive win of the season. Monaca absorbed its first defeat in section play against six wins as the first half schedule came to an end.

Monaca exploded for 22 points to 13 for Midland in the third stanza and had every Midland rooter up in arms. In that third quarter, the Indians hit on 10 of 16 shots for a fantastic 62 per cent.

MONACA held a 36-31 lead at the conclusion of the third quarter and Jack Lang canned a jumper at the outset of the final stanza to give the Indians their biggest lead of the night, 38-31.

Hank Kuzma immediately sent his charges into a full-court press that effectively bottled up the Indian attack while Midland outscored them, 9-1, to take a 40-39 lead with 4:06 left.

Lang then converted two free throws and tapped in a rebound, and Gail Davis added a free throw to push Monaca back in front, 44-40, with 2:03 left on the clock.

With 1:27 remaining, Al Aloi sank two charity tosses to cut the Monaca lead to 44-42.

—:—

THE LEOPARDS regained possession and started to stall for the final shot. This strategy paid off when Sam Forester took a pass from Earl Vaughn and sank a lay-up at the final buzzer to knot the score at 44-44 and send the game into a three - minute overtime.

In the overtime period, Vaughn contributed four of the five points scored by the Leopards.

Vaughn exchanged lay - up shots with Joe Dettore and then swished a jumper from the key to give the Leopards the lead for good.

Aloi led the Leopards, meshing 19 points on six fielders and seven of nine free throws. He also played a fine game on the boards.

—:—

RICH Lake added nine points and Vaughn sank eight key markers.

Lake played another fine floor game with his ball - hawking and Vaughn played an all-around good game.

Midland's two big men, Sam Forester and Bill Sallis, were hampered by fouls. They collected three apiece in the first half. Sallis sat out most of the third period with four fouls and he finally fouled out with 2:32 remaining in the contest. With Sallis on the bench in the third quarter, Midland's board strength was weakened.

Center Sam Peshut led the Indian attack, collecting 18 points on six fielders and six of nine free throws. He garnered 12 of the 14 points scored by Monaca in the first half.

The Leopards popped 18 of 54 field goal attempts for 33 per cent. Monaca hit on 17 of 55 field goal attempts for 31 per cent.

MIDLAND led in rebounds, pulling down 47 compared to Monaca's 31. Forester led the way with 12, followed by Aloi, who pulled down 11 strays. Sam Peshut grabbed 11 for Monaca.

Midland jumped off to a 3-0 lead only to have Peshut drop in four free throws to give Monaca the lead, 4-3. The Leopards then put on a nine-point scoring drive to take a 12-4 lead with 1:44 left in the initial period.

Midland led at the end of the first period, 12-6, and hung on for an 18-14 halftime lead before Otto Pritchard's Indians went on the warpath in that high - scoring third period.

The Indians came out and struck with six straight points to take a 20-18 lead. They moved it out to 28-23 with a little over two minutes left in the quarter.

VAUGHN then sank a spectacular reverse-lay-up and added a free throw to pull the Leopards out of danger and close Monaca's lead to 28-26.

The Indians managed to build their lead to five points three more times only to have the Leopards put out the fire with that full-court press in the final period.

In the preliminary, Phil Tridico, substituting for Midland's ailing reserve coach, Ed Olkowski, directed the Leopard reserves to a 45-40 triumph over Monaca.

Rod Alston and Henry Slappy had 11 points apiece and Ray Hoppa had 10 to lead the Midland reserves.

Friday night Midland plays host to Pittsburgh Central Catholic in a non-league contest.

Former LA Cagers Top ABL Teams

By The Associated Press

A couple of players whose best efforts couldn't keep the Los Angeles Jets in the American Basketball League apparently are just what a couple of the surviving clubs needed.

Bill Spivey and Dan Swartz, assigned to the Hawaii Chiefs and New York Tapers after the Los Angeles club gave up for lack of attendance, made notably successful debuts with their new teams Tuesday night. Each led the way to his team's first victory of the second half of the ABL season.

Swartz teamed up with another New York newcomer, Roger Taylor, and paced the Tapers to a 129-123 victory over the Pittsburgh Rens at Commack, N.Y. Swartz scored 31 points and Taylor, acquired from Cleveland for Bob Keller, dropped in 27 as the Tapers outscored the Rens in each of the first three quarters. Connie Hawkins, as usual, led the Rens with 41 points.

Spivey spurred the Chiefs in a strong finish that brought a 106-100 decision over Cleveland in Honolulu.

3 Spark Win For E. Junior

Three starters gained the double figures as East Junior High stormed past Wellsville, 53-26, Tuesday at the East End gym.

Bob Maltarich and Frank Taylor pumped in 12 markers each and Tom Prentice added 10 to give Coach Dom Cascio's team its big push.

The victory was East's fifth in eight games and was practically claimed at halftime when the Panthers showed a 22-12 margin.

McLean led all scorers with 13 points.

East Junior returns to action on its home court next Tuesday against Lisbon in a contest to start at 4:45 p. m.

Beavers Bow To Youngstown East, 55-44

FOUR PLAYERS WAIT patiently under the Midland basket for a rebound on this play, but there wasn't any. Midland's Earl Vaughn, (extreme left) with hand up in air nearly touching the banking board, flipped the ball over his head and into the basket for a key field goal in the late stages of Tuesday night's crucial Section 8 battle between the Leopards and Monaca on the Midland floor. The ball is shown in the upper left hand corner of the picture. Attempting to guard Vaughn is Monaca's Sam Peshut while waiting for the rebound are, left-to-right Joe Dettore (15) and Gail Davis (23) of Monaca, Midland's Al Aloi (22) and Monaca's John Lang (35).

Spurt In 2nd Half Builds Visitors' Edge

Tied at halftime, 26-26, Youngstown East turned in a second half victory over Beaver Local Tuesday night at Williamsport by winding up on top 55-44.

Coach Tom McCall's Beavers now showing a 3-8 mark had the best of the going in the early stages of the contest. The fast-starting Beaver Local five jumped off to a 16-10 lead in the first quarter, but East found the range to pull even, 26-26, at intermission.

With Gary Brown and Theo Lolakis leading the way, the Youngstown squad went into a 42-36 lead in the next eight minutes and carried the six-point margin into the fourth period.

Brown and Lolakis were the big thorns in the Beavers' side with 18 and 16 points respectively.

Scoring for Beaver Local were John Baker and Rich Aliulis, who both pumped in 14 points.

Beaver Local goes on the road Friday night seeking its fourth win of the campaign at Toronto, a team that already owns one victory over the Beavers.

Youngstown's reserve squad nipped Beaver Local, 34-32, in the preliminary.

Lucas Will Turn Pro, Mikan Says

NEW YORK (AP)—George Mikan, a former great himself, hailed Ohio State's Jerry Lucas as one of the outstanding basketball players of all time, and a cinch to turn professional.

Lucas, a two-time All-America and star of the champion Olympic team in 1960, has indicated in the past that he may enter business after he graduates in June and pass up pro ball.

The Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association, who already have two of the NBA's best in Oscar Robertson (Lucas' teammate on the Olympic squad) and Jack Twyman, are eager to pay Jerry a fortune to play with them.

"Will he turn pro?" said Mikan in repeating a question—"There's no question in my mind that he will. He's already gotten himself an agent in the guy that handles golfer Jack Nicklaus. If you're not going to play for money what do you need an agent for?"

Mikan, now 37, was picked as the greatest basketball player of the half century in an Associated Press poll in 1950. He first starred at DePaul and then with the Minneapolis Lakers. He quit playing in 1954 after hanging up many scoring records. Mikan, a lawyer in Minneapolis, was interviewed while in New York this week.

Beaver Local Matmen 'Strangle' Carrollton

Beaver Local, East Liverpool's wrestling opponent Thursday at Memorial Auditorium, warmed up with a 36-3 walloping of Carrollton Tuesday night at the Carroll County seat.

The Beavers turned the match into a rout with 10 victories in 11 bouts. Coach Jack O'Rourke's team now shows a 7-2 mark.

Falls were turned in by Farnum Shasteen (112) in 1:38, Carl Hoppel (145) in 2:30 and Dave Stacey (165) in 5:05.

All the decisions picked up by the Beavers were of a one-sided variety and recorded by Jim Obney (103), John Cook (120), Francis Possage (133), Larry Yost (138), Gary Bookman (154) Roy Carter (175) and Keith Berger (heavyweight).

Lester McKenzie, Beaver Local's 127-pounder, lost the only match on a 3-1 decision to Black.

McGuffey Joint On Top, 52-46

South Side's Defensive Play Almost Turns Tide

McGuffey Joint, holding second place in the Section 15 standings, has been running up high scores on all opponents this season, but not Tuesday night when South Side's defensive forces were out in full strength. However, not quite enough as the Rams bowed, 52-46, at McGuffey.

Coach Dave Nichol's team played a slow, deliberate type game and combined its good defensive into a 7-4 lead at the first quarter mark. The Rams trailed only 14-10 in the low scoring first half, but fell behind, 35-24, at the end of the third period.

South Side made a determined bid in the final eight minutes, but fell short. The Rams are 2-5 in Section play while McGuffey Joint is 6-1, losing only to league-leading Fort Cherry.

Dale Ashcroft was the only South Sider in the double figures with 15 while McGuffey showed three in that category. Leading the way was Tom Day with 17 while Ed Kilgore added 13 and Terry McCrery 12.

Newell Tops Raiders For 8th; Chester Routs Salineville

Staley Is Handcuffed But Not Teammates In 52-46 Win

New Cumberland's Jim Burskey turned in a neat defensive job of stopping Newell's great scorer Mick Staley, but the Raiders couldn't stop Staley's teammates in dropping a 52-46 decision to the visiting Vikings.

Staley, who is second in the district scoring race, went into Tuesday's game at New Cumberland carrying a 24.4 average. While the other four members of the New Cumberland team played a zone defense, Burskey was ordered, by his coach John Kuzio, to play Staley man-for-man.

Burskey did it and the strategy turned out fine as Staley was held to only three field goals and a total of eight points.

But other members of the Newell squad, for example, Jim Johnson, Jim Reed and Dave Bell, all finished in the double figures. Johnson led the way with 14, Reed added 13 and Bell dropped in 11.

New Cumberland led, 17-13, at the end of the first quarter, but fell behind, 26-21, at halftime and trailed, 39-29, at the end of three periods.

Ken Freshwater's 15 points paced New Cumberland while Gary Nardo added 13 to the attack.

The victory gives Coach John Robison's Newell five and 8-4 record while New Cumberland dropped its 10th game in 14 starts.

The Vikings return to action Saturday night when Farmington visits the Wells High gym.

New Cumberland captured the reserve game, 70-58.

Hutch Says Reds Team To Beat In '62 Season

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson says his Reds will be the team to beat in the National League this year. But he predicts Milwaukee, San Francisco and Los Angeles will be in the thick of the race.

Hutchinson, whose Reds won their first National League pennant in 20 years last season, thinks the Chicago Cubs will emerge as a league power within three or four years.

"We feel that we have improved our ball club during the winter with the addition of three pitchers (Dave Hillman, Dave Sisler and Moe Drabowsky) and feel that we have added a real good defensive outfielder in Marty Keough," he said.

Hutchinson scoffed at critics who called the Reds lucky for capturing the flag. ". . . You don't play 154 games and win the championship accidentally. We had to be the best team in the league."

He spoke at a press-radio - TV conference.

Ohio Conference Has Split With M-A Foes

By The Associated Press

The smaller-school Ohio Conference managed a split with Mid-American Conference teams in the only two skirmishes on Tuesday night's Ohio college basketball card.

Ohio University had too many guns for Muskingum. The Bobcats won 83-68 at Athens. But Akron picked on Mid-Am tailender Kent State for an exciting 71-70 decision at Kent.

Bobby Greene of Akron, capping a 25-point effort, sank two free throws with 43 seconds left to sink Kent. The lead changed hands four times in the last four minutes. Tyler Saunders scored 20 points for the Flashes as they fell for the 11th time in 13 games while the Zippers were lifting their record to 9-3.

All five Ohio U. starters scored in double figures, led by Dave Katz' 20, although Coach Jim Snyder substituted freely against Muskingum. The Bobcats led by only 41-34 at the half but soon pulled away. Jim Burson led the losers' pointmaking with 18.

Writers Unanimously Put Robinson, Feller In Baseball's Hall Of Fame

BOSTON (AP) — Jackie Robinson, first Negro to play in the major leagues, today is the first of his race ever elected to baseball's highest honor—its Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

The graying former Brooklyn Dodgers infielder was enshrined Tuesday along with Bob Feller, the quiet farm boy from Iowa who blazed a fast ball through the American League for nearly 20 years.

Both won election to the hall the first time they were eligible, a five-year retirement from baseball being mandatory. It was the first time the Baseball Writers of America had named anyone on their first eligible shot since the original five — Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson, Honus Wagner and Christy Mathewson—were tapped in the first election, in 1936.

Candidates needed 75 per cent of the 160 votes cast. Feller, now an insurance executive in Cleveland, received 150 votes.

Robinson, vice president of a restaurant and coffee company, got 124 votes, four more than the minimum needed.

"It's a once in a lifetime thrill," said Robinson at his Stamford, Conn., home. "It's hard to describe my feelings fully at this time. I am pleased and honored. My family is so excited no one wants to eat."

Feller, typically, was less emotional but nevertheless just as thrilled.

"Naturally, I'm happy about it," he said. "But now it's almost as if I had nothing to look forward to—except going to Cooperstown this summer. I thought I might have to wait longer. Joe DiMaggio had to go around a couple of times. But then maybe the competition was rougher then."

Robinson broke baseball's color line in 1947. Branch Rickey, then general manager of the Dodgers, had startled the baseball world the year before when he signed Jackie to a Brooklyn farm contract. Robinson, who had been an outstanding football player for UCLA, was with the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League at the time. He spent one year of seasoning at Montreal, leading the International League in batting and fielding and then joined Brooklyn as a second baseman.

BOB FELLER
From The Iowa Cornfields.

JACKIE ROBINSON
First Negro In Majors.

Quiet, hard working and always both an offensive and defensive threat, Robinson flirted with the .300 mark his first two seasons and batted a lusty .342 in 1949 to lead the National League.

His fielding and baserunning always were joys to behold. In one season he committed only seven errors, still the major league record, he participated in 137 double plays that same season, 1951, setting a National League mark.

Jackie was the most feared baserunner around in the decade from the late '40s to the late '50s. Once he stole home in a World Series game.

"I think it was recognition purely on merit," Rickey said of his protege's selection to the Hall of Fame. "It is well deserved.

"I think it also means a lot to our whole country. We are in serious disrepute in some of our international relations, and I think this will help a lot. All of our people should be very happy."

Feller was a 17-year-old farm boy who had sharpened his eye by throwing at a bullseye painted on a barn when he arrived in the majors in 1936. He was what the game needed—a blazing fastball pitcher who packed in the crowds.

Twenty years later—with four years out for Navy service during World War II in his pitching prime—Rapid Robert Feller had compiled 266 victories.

Among those wins were three no-hitters, a dozen one-hitters. Only two other pitchers had three no-hit games. No other ever tossed 12 one-hit jobs.

As exciting as Feller's low-hit games were, his strikeouts were even more dramatic. He struck out 2,581 batters, including 15 in his first major league starting job.

"Feller must be ranked among the top five pitchers I ever faced," says American League President Joe Cronin. "Everybody talked about his fast ball but he had a tremendous curve."

Six times Feller won 20 or more games. His high came in 19 when he notched 27 triumphs. He set the modern mark of 18 strikeouts in a nine-inning game against Detroit, Oct. 2, 1938, though Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers since has tied the record. Feller's 348 strikeouts in 1946 still stands as a major league mark.

The two baseball greats were the first elected to the Hall of Fame by the writers in their biennial polls since 1956 when Cronin and Hank Greenberg were chosen. Billy Hamilton and Max Carey were elected last year by a special "Old Timers" committee.

St. John's Serves Notice, Looks For Post-Season Bid

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

St. John's University, consistently one of the nation's leading independent major college basketball powers, once again seems destined for a postseason tournament bid.

The New York Redmen polished off touring Canisius of Buffalo 81-68 Tuesday night for their fifth straight victory and 11th in 14 games. LeRoy Ellis, St. John's 6-10 center, produced most of the scoring punch with 31 points, 21 in the first half. The swift senior also snared 15 rebounds.

The Redmen have appeared in 15 National Invitation tournaments and three times have been selected for at-large berths in the NCAA championships.

With most of the schools taking midyear examinations, action was again sparse in college basketball circles Tuesday night. In games involving major teams, Wisconsin outclassed North Dakota State by 102-50, Auburn throttled Georgia Tech 52-40, Virginia Tech subdued Tennessee 83-73, Chicago Loyola rolled over New Orleans Loyola 96-73, Georgia humbled Georgia Southern 70-58, Ohio University whipped Muskingum 83-68, Akron nipped Kent State 71-70, and Tennessee Tech turned back Middle Tennessee 61-58.

Ellis' 31-point scoring output for St. John's, his season's high, gave him a career total of 1,009, and he became the seventh Redman player to reach the 1,000-point mark.

Wisconsin of the Big Ten ended a two-week layoff in boosting its record to 9-3 at the expense of nonleague foe North Dakota State. Ron Jackson, who will be ineligible in the second half of the season, was high for the Badgers, who led at the half 51-27.

Auburn's shuffle offense clicked in the second half against Georgia Tech, and the Tigers recorded their ninth victory in 14 outings, a game that does not count in the SEC standings. Auburn overcame a 25-23 halftime disadvantage, while limiting the cold-shooting Yellow Jackets to only 15 points after the intermission. Layton Johns of Auburn garnered scoring honors with 15 points.

Virginia Tech switched successfully from a zone to a man-to-man defense for the third straight game, and the maneuver again worked against Tennessee. The victory was the Gobblers' 29th in a row at home and lifted their record to 9-4. Lee Melear provided VPI's scoring impetus with 22 points, and Howie Pardue contributed 21 as the Gobblers led at halftime 41-32. Orb Bowling led the Vols with 18.

Chicago Loyola coasted to an easy victory over host New Orleans Loyola, racing to a commanding 61-31 bulge at the half. Jerry Harkness set the scoring tempo for the Chicagoans with 29 points, and sophomores Les Hunter and Vic Rouse chipped in with 24 points apiece. The Ramblers' record is 11-2.

Foss Says AFL Set For Game With NFL

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League again has thrown down the gauntlett to the older National Football League.

On the basis of a banner year in signing rookies and improved television money, Foss said the young AFL would be ready for championship contention with the NFL this fall.

"We're ready for a pro championship game with the National Football League right now," Foss said Tuesday. And with another year of competition, he said, the AFL will be equal to the NFL, top to bottom.

Cold Rollers Win Rolloff At Midland

The Cold Rollers captured the first half playoff in the Crucible Departmental Bowling League with a 2,604-2,575 victory over Cold Strip Office on the Riviera Lanes.

A 944 total in the second game spelled the difference for the first half champs.

D. Webb's 222 and 567 series led the Rollers while R. Webb showed a 202 game and a 558 series.

Chisler's 195 game and 505 series were high for the losing team.

Olympic Champion Wins YMCA Award

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rafer Johnson, winner of the decathlon event in the 1960 Olympics, today received the National YMCA sports award for his contributions to sports, world brotherhood and the YMCA.

Johnson, of Kingsburg, Calif., recently completed a special mission for the government's Peace Corps.

Johnson developed his sports career through YMCA programs.

Georgia Tech To Drop LSU, Crimson Tide

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Tech plans to stop playing Alabama and LSU in football after the 1964 season, but Coach Bobby Dodd denies that the Yellow Jackets are trying to soften their schedule.

He said Tuesday a new series with Florida will replace the Alabama rivalry and announced Tech would play the Gators here and at Jacksonville in alternate years. However, Florida coach and athletic director Ray Graves said Tuesday night no final decision has been reached on the site of the games in Florida.

"It is merely a part of a long-range adjustment in our football scheduling," Dodd explained, and Tech President Edwin D. Harrison concurred. Alabama and LSU are football powers in the Southeastern Conference.

Tridico Nets 27 Points, Smith 21 As Tuttle's Team Gains 4th

Chester, sparked by a combined 48-point performance from Jim Tridico and Jerry Smith, spanked Salineville, 79-55, Tuesday night on the Chester High court.

Winless Salineville, which fell for the 10th straight time this season, kept pace for the first half, but a 25-point third period knocked Coach Al Girone's Indians out of the running.

Meanwhile, Coach Max Tuttle's boys pulled their record to 4-8.

Tridico, a junior, appeared fully recovered from a tonsillectomy last month as he turned in his best high school performance with a 27-point night.

Chester's high point man fired in 10 points in the first half and then led the third and fourth quarter barrage with 17 markers. While Tridico scored from inside and on jump shots from around the foul line, Smith provided the Panthers with an outside punch and wound up with 21 markers.

Although the Panthers won, they became another of the many teams that failed to stop Jack Baker, Salineville's outstanding scorer who ranks among the top point makers in the district.

Baker's total last night was 25, giving him 187 for 10 games.

Chester held the upperhand of 18-12 at the end of the first quarter, but couldn't gain much of an advantage by halftime which ended 34-29. The big third quarter led to a 59-39 advantage when the period ended.

Blaine Pinney, a consistent scorer for Chester in the past, ran into foul trouble and didn't see much action as he was limited to three points.

Chester's reserves won the preliminary, 35-31.

Frisco's Spot Where Player Began Streak

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — This was the week a year ago when South Africa's Gary Player started the surge that won him more money in 1961 than any other golfer collected.

Lightly regarded at the start of the 1961 San Francisco International Open, Player came from four strokes off the pace on a final day to shoot a six-under-par 65 for a 272 total winning the $9,000 first prize.

He shoots over the same Harding Park course starting Thursday in the $50,000 tournament. So far this year, he hasn't been pleased with his scores and didn't shoot well enough in the Bing Crosby even to reach the finals this week at Pebble Beach, Calif.

So he came here early for some practice, and Tuesday finished with a pair of birdies for a one-under-par 70.

"The course was playing very heavy after the rain and snow, but the weather conditions were beautiful," he commented. He added he was putting very nicely compared with his recent work on the greens.

After his San Francisco victory, Player went on to become the first non-U.S. golfer to win the Masters title, and his $64,540.65 was the highest seasonal winnings for any golfer last year.

Today he will play in the pro-amateur preliminary as the pros get in their final pretournament work.

A field of 149 pros and 10 amateurs are set to compete in the 72-hole tournament over Harding, a municipal course measuring 6,672 yards.

Newell Tops Raiders For 8th; Chester Routs Salineville

Staley Is Handcuffed But Not Teammates In 52-46 Win

New Cumberland's Jim Burskey turned in a neat defensive job of stopping Newell's great scorer Mick Staley, but the Raiders couldn't stop Staley's teammates in dropping a 52-46 decision to the visiting Vikings.

Staley, who is second in the district scoring race, went into Tuesday's game at New Cumberland carrying a 24.4 average. While the other four members of the New Cumberland team played a zone defense, Burskey was ordered, by his coach John Kuzio, to play Staley man-for-man.

Burskey did it and the strategy turned out fine as Staley was held to only three field goals and a total of eight points.

But other members of the Newell squad, for example, Jim Johnson, Jim Reed and Dave Bell, all finished in the double figures. Johnson led the way with 14, Reed added 13 and Bell dropped in 11.

New Cumberland led, 17-13, at the end of the first quarter, but fell behind, 26-21, at halftime and trailed, 39-29, at the end of three periods.

Ken Freshwater's 15 points paced New Cumberland while Gary Nardo added 13 to the attack.

The victory gives Coach John Robison's Newell five and 8-4 record while New Cumberland dropped its 10th game in 14 starts.

The Vikings return to action Saturday night when Farmington visits the Wells High gym.

New Cumberland captured the reserve game, 70-58.

Hutch Says Reds Team To Beat In '62 Season

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson says his Reds will be the team to beat in the National League this year. But he predicts Milwaukee, San Francisco and Los Angeles will be in the thick of the race.

Hutchinson, whose Reds won their first National League pennant in 20 years last season, thinks the Chicago Cubs will emerge as a league power within three or four years.

"We feel that we have improved our ball club during the winter with the addition of three pitchers (Dave Hillman, Dave Sisler and Moe Drabowsky) and feel that we have added a real good defensive outfielder in Marty Keough," he said.

Hutchinson scoffed at critics who called the Reds lucky for capturing the flag. ". . . You don't play 154 games and win the championship accidentally. We had to be the best team in the league."

He spoke at a press-radio - TV conference.

Ohio Conference Has Split With M-A Foes

By The Associated Press

The smaller-school Ohio Conference managed a split with Mid-American Conference teams in the only two skirmishes on Tuesday night's Ohio college basketball card.

Ohio University had too many guns for Muskingum. The Bobcats won 83-68 at Athens. But Akron picked on Mid-Am tailender Kent State for an exciting 71-70 decision at Kent.

Bobby Greene of Akron, capping a 25-point effort, sank two free throws with 43 seconds left to sink Kent. The lead changed hands four times in the last four minutes. Tyler Saunders scored 20 points for the Flashes as they fell for the 11th time in 13 games while the Zippers were lifting their record to 9-3.

All five Ohio U. starters scored in double figures, led by Dave Katz' 20, although Coach Jim Snyder substituted freely against Muskingum. The Bobcats led by only 41-34 at the half but soon pulled away. Jim Burson led the losers' pointmaking with 18.

Writers Unanimously Put Robinson, Feller In Baseball's Hall Of Fame

BOSTON (AP) — Jackie Robinson, first Negro to play in the major leagues, today is the first of his race ever elected to baseball's highest honor—its Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

The graying former Brooklyn Dodgers infielder was enshrined Tuesday along with Bob Feller, the quiet farm boy from Iowa who blazed a fast ball through the American League for nearly 20 years.

Both won election to the hall the first time they were eligible, a five-year retirement from baseball being mandatory. It was the first time the Baseball Writers of America had named anyone on their first eligible shot since the original five — Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson, Honus Wagner and Christy Mathewson—were tapped in the first election, in 1936.

Candidates needed 75 per cent of the 160 votes cast. Feller, now an insurance executive in Cleveland, received 150 votes.

Robinson, vice president of a restaurant and coffee company, got 124 votes, four more than the minimum needed.

"It's a once in a lifetime thrill," said Robinson at his Stamford, Conn., home. "It's hard to describe my feelings fully at this time. I am pleased and honored. My family is so excited no one wants to eat."

Feller, typically, was less emotional but nevertheless just as thrilled.

"Naturally, I'm happy about it," he said. "But now it's almost as if I had nothing to look forward to—except going to Cooperstown this summer. I thought I might have to wait longer. Joe DiMaggio had to go around a couple of times. But then maybe the competition was rougher then."

Robinson broke baseball's color line in 1947. Branch Rickey, then general manager of the Dodgers, had startled the baseball world the year before when he signed Jackie to a Brooklyn farm contract. Robinson, who had been an outstanding football player for UCLA, was with the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League at the time. He spent one year of seasoning at Montreal, leading the International League in batting and fielding and then joined Brooklyn as a second baseman.

BOB FELLER
From The Iowa Cornfields.

JACKIE ROBINSON
First Negro In Majors.

Quiet, hard working and always both an offensive and defensive threat, Robinson flirted with the .300 mark his first two seasons and batted a lusty .342 in 1949 to lead the National League.

His fielding and baserunning always were joys to behold. In one season he committed only seven errors, still the major league record, he participated in 137 double plays that same season, 1951, setting a National League mark.

Jackie was the most feared baserunner around in the decade from the late '40s to the late '50s. Once he stole home in a World Series game.

"I think it was recognition purely on merit," Rickey said of his protege's selection to the Hall of Fame. "It is well deserved.

"I think it also means a lot to our whole country. We are in serious disrepute in some of our international relations, and I think this will help a lot. All of our people should be very happy."

Feller was a 17-year-old farm boy who had sharpened his eye by throwing at a bullseye painted on a barn when he arrived in the majors in 1936. He was what the game needed—a blazing fastball pitcher who packed in the crowds.

Twenty years later—with four years out for Navy service during World War II in his pitching prime—Rapid Robert Feller had compiled 266 victories.

Among those wins were three no-hitters, a dozen one-hitters. Only two other pitchers had three no-hit games. No other ever tossed 12 one-hit jobs.

As exciting as Feller's low-hit games were, his strikeouts were even more dramatic. He struck out 2,581 batters, including 15 in his first major league starting job.

"Feller must be ranked among the top five pitchers I ever faced," says American League President Joe Cronin. "Everybody talked about his fast ball but he had a tremendous curve."

Six times Feller won 20 or more games. His high came in 19 when he notched 27 triumphs. He set the modern mark of 18 strikeouts in a nine-inning game against Detroit, Oct. 2, 1938, though Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers since has tied the record. Feller's 348 strikeouts in 1946 still stands as a major league mark.

The two baseball greats were the first elected to the Hall of Fame by the writers in their biennial polls since 1956 when Cronin and Hank Greenberg were chosen. Billy Hamilton and Max Carey were elected last year by a special "Old Timers" committee.

St. John's Serves Notice, Looks For Post-Season Bid

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

St. John's University, consistently one of the nation's leading independent major college basketball powers, once again seems destined for a postseason tournament bid.

The New York Redmen polished off touring Canisius of Buffalo 81-68 Tuesday night for their fifth straight victory and 11th in 14 games. LeRoy Ellis, St. John's 6-10 center, produced most of the scoring punch with 31 points, 21 in the first half. The swift senior also snared 15 rebounds.

The Redmen have appeared in 15 National Invitation tournaments and three times have been selected for at-large berths in the NCAA championships.

With most of the schools taking midyear examinations, action was again sparse in college basketball circles Tuesday night. In games involving major teams, Wisconsin outclassed North Dakota State by 102-50, Auburn throttled Georgia Tech 52-40, Virginia Tech subdued Tennessee 83-73, Chicago Loyola rolled over New Orleans Loyola 96-73, Georgia humbled Georgia Southern 70-58, Ohio University whipped Muskingum 83-68, Akron nipped Kent State 71-70, and Tennessee Tech turned back Middle Tennessee 61-58.

Ellis' 31-point scoring output for St. John's, his season's high, gave him a career total of 1,009, and he became the seventh Redman player to reach the 1,000-point mark.

Wisconsin of the Big Ten ended a two-week layoff in boosting its record to 9-3 at the expense of nonleague foe North Dakota State. Ron Jackson, who will be ineligible in the second half of the season, was high for the Badgers, who led at the half 51-27.

Auburn's shuffle offense clicked in the second half against Georgia Tech, and the Tigers recorded their ninth victory in 14 outings, a game that does not count in the SEC standings. Auburn overcame a 25-23 halftime disadvantage, while limiting the cold-shooting Yellow Jackets to only 15 points after the intermission. Layton Johns of Auburn garnered scoring honors with 15 points.

Virginia Tech switched successfully from a zone to a man-to-man defense for the third straight game, and the maneuver again worked against Tennessee. The victory was the Gobblers' 29th in a row at home and lifted their record to 9-4. Lee Melear provided VPI's scoring impetus with 22 points, and Howie Pardue contributed 21 as the Gobblers led at halftime 41-32. Orb Bowling led the Vols with 18.

Chicago Loyola coasted to an easy victory over host New Orleans Loyola, racing to a commanding 61-31 bulge at the half. Jerry Harkness set the scoring tempo for the Chicagoans with 29 points, and sophomores Les Hunter and Vic Rouse chipped in with 24 points apiece. The Ramblers' record is 11-2.

Olympic Champion Wins YMCA Award

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rafer Johnson, winner of the decathlon event in the 1960 Olympics, today received the National YMCA sports award for his contributions to sports, world brotherhood and the YMCA.

Johnson, of Kingsburg, Calif., recently completed a special mission for the government's Peace Corps.

Johnson developed his sports career through YMCA programs.

Georgia Tech To Drop LSU, Crimson Tide

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Tech plans to stop playing Alabama and LSU in football after the 1964 season, but Coach Bobby Dodd denies that the Yellow Jackets are trying to soften their schedule.

He said Tuesday a new series with Florida will replace the Alabama rivalry and announced Tech would play the Gators here and at Jacksonville in alternate years. However, Florida coach and athletic director Ray Graves said Tuesday night no final decision has been reached on the site of the games in Florida.

"It is merely a part of a long-range adjustment in our football scheduling," Dodd explained, and Tech President Edwin D. Harrison concurred. Alabama and LSU are football powers in the Southeastern Conference.

Tridico Nets 27 Points, Smith 21 As Tuttle's Team Gains 4th

Chester, sparked by a combined 48-point performance from Jim Tridico and Jerry Smith, spanked Salineville, 79-55, Tuesday night on the Chester High court.

Winless Salineville, which fell for the 10th straight time this season, kept pace for the first half, but a 25-point third period knocked Coach Al Girone's Indians out of the running.

Meanwhile, Coach Max Tuttle's boys pulled their record to 4-8.

Tridico, a junior, appeared fully recovered from a tonsillectomy last month as he turned in his best high school performance with a 27-point night.

Chester's high point man fired in 10 points in the first half and then led the third and fourth quarter barrage with 17 markers. While Tridico scored from inside and on jump shots from around the foul line, Smith provided the Panthers with an outside punch and wound up with 21 markers.

Although the Panthers won, they became another of the many teams that failed to stop Jack Baker, Salineville's outstanding scorer who ranks among the top point makers in the district.

Baker's total last night was 25, giving him 187 for 10 games.

Chester held the upperhand of 18-12 at the end of the first quarter, but couldn't gain much of an advantage by halftime which ended 34-29. The big third quarter led to a 59-39 advantage when the period ended.

Blaine Pinney, a consistent scorer for Chester in the past, ran into foul trouble and didn't see much action as he was limited to three points.

Chester's reserves won the preliminary, 35-31.

Frisco's Spot Where Player Began Streak

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — This was the week a year ago when South Africa's Gary Player started the surge that won him more money in 1961 than any other golfer collected.

Lightly regarded at the start of the 1961 San Francisco International Open, Player came from four strokes off the pace on a final day to shoot a six-under-par 65 for a 272 total winning the $9,000 first prize.

He shoots over the same Harding Park course starting Thursday in the $50,000 tournament. So far this year, he hasn't been pleased with his scores and didn't shoot well enough in the Bing Crosby even to reach the finals this week at Pebble Beach, Calif.

So he came here early for some practice, and Tuesday finished with a pair of birdies for a one-under-par 70.

"The course was playing very heavy after the rain and snow, but the weather conditions were beautiful," he commented. He added he was putting very nicely compared with his recent work on the greens.

After his San Francisco victory, Player went on to become the first non-U.S. golfer to win the Masters title, and his $64,540.65 was the highest seasonal winnings for any golfer last year.

Today he will play in the pro-amateur preliminary as the pros get in their final pretournament work.

A field of 149 pros and 10 amateurs are set to compete in the 72-hole tournament over Harding, a municipal course measuring 6,672 yards.

Saturday night I happened to be with a group of men when a hunter came in and pulled a grouse out of his coat. I was surprised to learn how few of the group knew what it was.

Grouse hunters seem to be in an exclusive group. They not only recognize one of the most sporting birds to hunt, but one which is tops as a table delicacy. This most elusive of all game birds takes off so fast that the hunter has no time to aim, but simply point and pull.

THERE ARE a good many grouse in the southern hills of Columbiana County, but this is one bird that not only tests the marksman's skill but also his knowledge.

You have to learn the locality, study the habitat, understand the weather conditions that have a lot to do with their feeding habits and the type of cover they seek, according to the weather.

If you happen to be a squirrel hunter, no doubt you have flushed coveys of grouse during the squirrel season while the brood is intact and then returned to the spot after the grouse season opened and wonder what happened to them.

Bare tree limbs and the tracking snows we have had recently help the nimrod locate his hiding spot and not only do you hear the roar of the "thunderbird" but you can get a fast look at him.

Then is when "seasoning" in a hunter counts. You simply have no time to become startled. Instead your instant reaction should be to touch off the gun safety, get into firing position, point and pull. And you have to be able to shoot quick and accurately. Otherwise you can waste a box of shells and go home emptyhanded.

THIS TYPE of hunting has no appeal to the "meat hunter". And there are other hunters who simply admit that grouse hunting is too fast for their reflexes, or who simply declare: "I'm a lousy shot". In that case, keep trying. Once you bag your first grouse the interest will increase and once you graduate up to the grouse hunting class with a little experience and training you become a "big boy" and a member of the exclusive class of hunters.

Not only that, the open season on grouse began Oct. 16, 1961, and it does not end until Feb. 24, 1962. Look at the long season to pursue one of America's finest game birds and how much sport there is to it during the winter months.

Beaver Local PTA To Award Scholarship Fund Of $250

Establishment of a $250 scholarship fund was given approval at a meeting of the Beaver Local Public School Parent - Teacher Association Monday night.

The scholarship is to be awarded in May to a Beaver Local High School graduate interested in entering the teaching field. Mrs. Adolph Brant heads the scholarship committee, which includes Arthur Doak of Oakmont and Earl Cope of Rogers.

George VanHorne, executive head of the district, spoke on the school improvement program, and said work on planned new additions to schools would get under way March 1.

A nominating committee was appointed. It includes Mrs. Charlotte Smith of Cannons Mills, Mrs. Brandt, Delmar Harrold of Elkton, Cope and Mrs. Francis Brickner of West Point.

Robert Cowan, employment supervisor for the Westinghouse Electric Corp. at Beaver, spoke on the growth of the firm and screened a film.

The attendance prize was won by the fifth grade class taught by Mrs. Mary Campbell.

About 70 attended the meeting at which refreshments were served by the sixth grade mothers. Clayton Aughinbaugh, president, was in charge. The Rev. Robert Fogal of the Longs Run Presbyterian Church led devotions.

The group will meet Feb. 26 with a program on physical education. Mrs. Carol Walton is program chairman.

McElroy Gives Ruling On Child Aid Levy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy held today that a county levy for child welfare purposes could not exceed .65 of a mill.

The opinion to Franklin County Prosecutor Earl W. Allison also said a single levy for two purposes—child welfare services and the mentally retarded program — would be illegal.

McElroy added that the county could place the single question of a levy for the mentally retarded program on the May primary election ballot.

SAC Combat Crew Fires Atlas Missile

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A combat crew of the Strategic Air Command has successfully launched an Atlas intercontinental missile, the Air Force says, but few details were released.

Distance to the target area was not disclosed. The shot was called an operational training and testing exercise.

Athens Hotel To Be Ohio U. Dormitory

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — The 68-year-old Berry Hotel will close here next Sunday to become Berry Hall, a dormitory for 164 students at Ohio University.

The hotel building was purchased by the Ohio University Fund, Inc., from Fred R. Beasley, owner for the past 28 years. The building will become a dormitory on Feb. 5, after renovations.

Tax Cut Conceivable, Commerce Chief Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges says a tax cut is "entirely conceivable" if the United States can increase its production by 4 per cent in the next year.

Hodges was asked at a news conference Tuesday whether a cut in the 52 per cent corporate income tax would help the United States maintain industrial leadership over the Soviet Union.

He said if annual U.S. production rises by 4 per cent, instead of the 2½ per cent average annual increase of recent years, "We could cut taxes not only corporate but personal."

Nixon Praises Groups In Communism Fight

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon says the individual American, working through voluntary organizations, will provide the great differential in the struggle against communism.

The former vice president, now a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, praised what he called nongovernmental institutions in a speech Tuesday night at the annual installation banquet of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce.

He described as nongovernmental institutions the churches, the press, philanthropic organizations and trade associations.

Explorers Club Honors Member For Effigy Find

Jim Monte of Wellsville was honored for the most outstanding find in 1961 at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night at the home of H. A. Dawson of Boring Ln., president.

Monte discovered a tiny effigy made of clay while excavating an Indian rock shelter on the Ollie Campbell farm off Route 267 near Glenmoor. He was presented a plate commemorating Wellsville's 155th anniversary celebration in 1950.

Richard S. Thompson made the presentation. Dawson screened slides of Indian camp and village sites and shelters found by the club the past year. Harry R. Cline gave the final report on the Campbell shelter.

Thompson, secretary, reported on an excursion made Sunday of the Tri-State area to show Vincent R. Mrozoski, secretary treasurer of the Society for Pennsylvania Archaeology, the rock shelters and sites discovered by the club.

Jim Woodrow and Harry M. Cline, members of the exhibits committee, reported they have made an effort to bring together representative archaic artifacts from the local area to illustrate the theme of the next meeting Feb. 5 at Cline's home.

Guests included Myers D. Campbell, Howard F. Bell and Mitchell Zack, officers of Panhandle Chapter 1 of the West Virginia Archaeological Society, and Richard D. Johnson and Russell Blystone.

The club is preparing a second news letter which it plans to issue in the spring.

Joint Soviet-U.S. Motion Picture Due

NEW YORK (AP)— Plans are under way to produce a joint Soviet-American motion picture.

Producer Lester Cowan announced Tuesday that both American and Russian actors would be in the cast and scenes would be filmed in both countries.

Valparaiso, Chile, is the chief seaport on the western coast of South America.

Man, Wife Killed As Car Rams Truck

CINCINNATI (AP)—A man and his wife were killed today when their automobile crashed into the side of a tractor-trailer.

The dead are Claude M. Sparks, 44, and his wife, Juanita, 38, both of Cincinnati. Their bodies were pinned in the wreckage for almost an hour.

Police said witnesses reported the tractor - trailer, driven by Robert C. Deters, 32, of Cincinnati had pulled into the street from a loading depot. They said the Sparks' car was traveling at high speed and rammed under the trailer.

Only five Vice Presidents have served two complete terms in office — John Adams, Daniel Tompkins, Thomas Marshall, John Garner and Richard Nixon.

AN OPEN LETTER!

MIKE TURK, Inc.
CHEVROLET — BUICK — CORVAIR — CADILLAC
Sixth and Walnut Streets East Liverpool, Ohio

TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS:

We here at Mike Turk's are overly proud of the fact that our 1962 Buick Special, equipped with the first V6 in the automotive industry has been chosen the car of the year for 1962 by Motor Trend Magazine.

Some of the comments published about this award winning car are as follows;

Buick - - - scored another bombshell first - - - the V-6 - - - 1962's most important automotive advancement.

We have test driven the V-6 for over 2000 miles; has all the characteristics of a V-8.

Plenty of go power from a standing start right through 70 - - - 90.

Best of all, V-6 averaged over 28 mpg on the level highways, 25 in the hills, 23 to 24 in the city.

We could go on and fill a page with comments like this, but we would rather you'd see for yourself. We humbly apologize for not having these cars available to show and demonstrate to you during our new car announcement period—this was due to a tremendous demand on the part of Buick dealers throughout the country and the automobile strike. Both were situations beyond our control, so please forgive us.

We now have a complete selection of the Buick line in all models, Le Sabre, Invicta, Electra 225, Skylark, Buick Special V-8's, and a complete selection of models equipped with the award winning, gas saving V-6. We invite you all to come in and get behind the wheel of any of our 1962 Buicks and see for yourselves why, when better automobiles are built, Buick will build them. A complete selection is available for immediate delivery.

We are all looking forward to seeing you and serving you in the immediate future. MIKE TURK, President

Saturday night I happened to be with a group of men when a hunter came in and pulled a grouse out of his coat. I was surprised to learn how few of the group knew what it was.

Grouse hunters seem to be in an exclusive group. They not only recognize one of the most sporting birds to hunt, but one which is tops as a table delicacy. This most elusive of all game birds takes off so fast that the hunter has no time to aim, but simply point and pull.

THERE ARE a good many grouse in the southern hills of Columbiana County, but this is one bird that not only tests the marksman's skill but also his knowledge.

You have to learn the locality, study the habitat, understand the weather conditions that have a lot to do with their feeding habits and the type of cover they seek, according to the weather.

If you happen to be a squirrel hunter, no doubt you have flushed coveys of grouse during the squirrel season while the brood is intact and then returned to the spot after the grouse season opened and wonder what happened to them.

Bare tree limbs and the tracking snows we have had recently help the nimrod locate his hiding spot and not only do you hear the roar of the "thunderbird" but you can get a fast look at him.

Then is when "seasoning" in a hunter counts. You simply have no time to become startled. Instead your instant reaction should be to touch off the gun safety, get into firing position, point and pull. And you have to be able to shoot quick and accurately. Otherwise you can waste a box of shells and go home emptyhanded.

THIS TYPE of hunting has no appeal to the "meat hunter". And there are other hunters who simply admit that grouse hunting is too fast for their reflexes, or who simply declare: "I'm a lousy shot". In that case, keep trying. Once you bag your first grouse the interest will increase and once you graduate up to the grouse hunting class with a little experience and training you become a "big boy" and a member of the exclusive class of hunters.

Not only that, the open season on grouse began Oct. 16, 1961, and it does not end until Feb. 24, 1962. Look at the long season to pursue one of America's finest game birds and how much sport there is to it during the winter months.

Beaver Local PTA To Award Scholarship Fund Of $250

Establishment of a $250 scholarship fund was given approval at a meeting of the Beaver Local Public School Parent - Teacher Association Monday night.

The scholarship is to be awarded in May to a Beaver Local High School graduate interested in entering the teaching field. Mrs. Adolph Brant heads the scholarship committee, which includes Arthur Doak of Oakmont and Earl Cope of Rogers.

George VanHorne, executive head of the district, spoke on the school improvement program, and said work on planned new additions to schools would get under way March 1.

A nominating committee was appointed. It includes Mrs. Charlotte Smith of Cannons Mills, Mrs. Brandt, Delmar Harrold of Elkton, Cope and Mrs. Francis Brickner of West Point.

Robert Cowan, employment supervisor for the Westinghouse Electric Corp. at Beaver, spoke on the growth of the firm and screened a film.

The attendance prize was won by the fifth grade class taught by Mrs. Mary Campbell.

About 70 attended the meeting at which refreshments were served by the sixth grade mothers. Clayton Aughinbaugh, president, was in charge. The Rev. Robert Fogal of the Longs Run Presbyterian Church led devotions.

The group will meet Feb. 26 with a program on physical education. Mrs. Carol Walton is program chairman.

McElroy Gives Ruling On Child Aid Levy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy held today that a county levy for child welfare purposes could not exceed .65 of a mill.

The opinion to Franklin County Prosecutor Earl W. Allison also said a single levy for two purposes—child welfare services and the mentally retarded program — would be illegal.

McElroy added that the county could place the single question of a levy for the mentally retarded program on the May primary election ballot.

SAC Combat Crew Fires Atlas Missile

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A combat crew of the Strategic Air Command has successfully launched an Atlas intercontinental missile, the Air Force says, but few details were released.

Distance to the target area was not disclosed. The shot was called an operational training and testing exercise.

Athens Hotel To Be Ohio U. Dormitory

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — The 68-year-old Berry Hotel will close here next Sunday to become Berry Hall, a dormitory for 164 students at Ohio University.

The hotel building was purchased by the Ohio University Fund, Inc., from Fred R. Beasley, owner for the past 28 years. The building will become a dormitory on Feb. 5, after renovations.

Tax Cut Conceivable, Commerce Chief Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges says a tax cut is "entirely conceivable" if the United States can increase its production by 4 per cent in the next year.

Hodges was asked at a news conference Tuesday whether a cut in the 52 per cent corporate income tax would help the United States maintain industrial leadership over the Soviet Union.

He said if annual U.S. production rises by 4 per cent, instead of the 2½ per cent average annual increase of recent years, "We could cut taxes not only corporate but personal."

Nixon Praises Groups In Communism Fight

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon says the individual American, working through voluntary organizations, will provide the great differential in the struggle against communism.

The former vice president, now a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, praised what he called nongovernmental institutions in a speech Tuesday night at the annual installation banquet of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce.

He described as nongovernmental institutions the churches, the press, philanthropic organizations and trade associations.

Rhodes Will Direct Easter Seal Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes has been named chairman of the Ohio Easter Seal campaign.

Four-year-old Mark Seifarth of Youngstown was selected as the Easter Seal Child for 1962. The campaign will be conducted March 15-April 22.

In ancient mythology, Queen Hippolyta ruled over the Amazons.

Explorers Club Honors Member For Effigy Find

Jim Monte of Wellsville was honored for the most outstanding find in 1961 at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night at the home of H. A. Dawson of Boring Ln., president.

Monte discovered a tiny effigy made of clay while excavating an Indian rock shelter on the Ollie Campbell farm off Route 267 near Glenmoor. He was presented a plate commemorating Wellsville's 155th anniversary celebration in 1950.

Richard S. Thompson made the presentation. Dawson screened slides of Indian camp and village sites and shelters found by the club the past year. Harry R. Cline gave the final report on the Campbell shelter.

Thompson, secretary, reported on an excursion made Sunday of the Tri-State area to show Vincent R. Mrozoski, secretary treasurer of the Society for Pennsylvania Archaeology, the rock shelters and sites discovered by the club.

Jim Woodrow and Harry M. Cline, members of the exhibits committee, reported they have made an effort to bring together representative archaic artifacts from the local area to illustrate the theme of the next meeting Feb. 5 at Cline's home.

Guests included Myers D. Campbell, Howard F. Bell and Mitchell Zack, officers of Panhandle Chapter 1 of the West Virginia Archaeological Society, and Richard D. Johnson and Russell Blystone.

The club is preparing a second news letter which it plans to issue in the spring.

Joint Soviet-U.S. Motion Picture Due

NEW YORK (AP)— Plans are under way to produce a joint Soviet-American motion picture.

Producer Lester Cowan announced Tuesday that both American and Russian actors would be in the cast and scenes would be filmed in both countries.

Valparaiso, Chile, is the chief seaport on the western coast of South America.

Man, Wife Killed As Car Rams Truck

CINCINNATI (AP)—A man and his wife were killed today when their automobile crashed into the side of a tractor-trailer.

The dead are Claude M. Sparks, 44, and his wife, Juanita, 38, both of Cincinnati. Their bodies were pinned in the wreckage for almost an hour.

Police said witnesses reported the tractor - trailer, driven by Robert C. Deters, 32, of Cincinnati had pulled into the street from a loading depot. They said the Sparks' car was traveling at high speed and rammed under the trailer.

Only five Vice Presidents have served two complete terms in office — John Adams, Daniel Tompkins, Thomas Marshall, John Garner and Richard Nixon.

AN OPEN LETTER!

MIKE TURK, Inc.
CHEVROLET — BUICK — CORVAIR — CADILLAC
Sixth and Walnut Streets East Liverpool, Ohio

TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS:

We here at Mike Turk's are overly proud of the fact that our 1962 Buick Special, equipped with the first V6 in the automotive industry has been chosen the car of the year for 1962 by Motor Trend Magazine.

Some of the comments published about this award winning car are as follows;

Buick - - - scored another bombshell first - - - the V-6 - - - 1962's most important automotive advancement.

We have test driven the V-6 for over 2000 miles; has all the characteristics of a V-8.

Plenty of go power from a standing start right through 70 - - - 90.

Best of all, V-6 averaged over 28 mpg on the level highways, 25 in the hills, 23 to 24 in the city.

We could go on and fill a page with comments like this, but we would rather you'd see for yourself. We humbly apologize for not having these cars available to show and demonstrate to you during our new car announcement period—this was due to a tremendous demand on the part of Buick dealers throughout the country and the automobile strike. Both were situations beyond our control, so please forgive us.

We now have a complete selection of the Buick line in all models, Le Sabre, Invicta, Electra 225, Skylark, Buick Special V-8's, and a complete selection of models equipped with the award winning, gas saving V-6. We invite you all to come in and get behind the wheel of any of our 1962 Buicks and see for yourselves why, when better automobiles are built, Buick will build them. A complete selection is available for immediate delivery.

We are all looking forward to seeing you and serving you in the immediate future. MIKE TURK, President

Court Begins Hearing For Drink Charge

A lengthy hearing was under way this morning in Municipal Court on the first of two charges filed by police against a waitress accused of permitting a minor to consume beer and intoxicating liquor on the premises of a downtown tavern.

The defendant is Mrs. Betty Sendling, 722 Dresden Ave., a waitress at Gene's Bar on E. 6th St. The charges were filed by Patrolman E. R. Furgason as the outgrowth of investigation of a theft case Dec. 28 in which a youth, 19, and his 17 - year - old companion were taken into custody.

Mrs. Sendling is accused of permitting the 17-year-old to consume beer and part of a bottle of champagne which he and the 19-year-old admitted they stole at City Market and took to the tavern to be cooled.

The charges are being tried separately, based on a ruling made yesterday by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a motion by Atty. Ben H. Berman, defense counsel. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark is prosecuting.

As the case opened this morning, the judge ruled that the first charge to be tried would be the one alleging consumption of champagne. The second hearing will follow. Mrs. Sendling pleaded not guilty at arraignment Jan. 11.

The prosecution's principal witness is Gerald Lee Kent, 19, of Hoppels Corners, who testified he now is a prisoner in County Jail on theft charges involving the champagne and other items which he and the 17-year-old admitted stealing.

When Kent and the juvenile told police they had consumed beer and the stolen champagne in the tavern, it touched off an investigation that led to filing of the charges being tried today.

Kent testified he and the juvenile entered the tavern about 2 or 2:30 p. m. on Dec. 28. He started to testify about a purchase of beer, but was interrupted by an objection of defense counsel, who pointed out the first case covered only the alleged consumption of "intoxicating liquor" — the champagne.

Then, Kent related, he and the juvenile went to City Market and stole the bottle of champagne. They returned to Gene's Bar and requested the waitress to put it on ice to cool, which she did, he related.

After waiting 30 to 45 minutes, Kent related, he went to Mrs. Sendling and asked her for the champagne. She gave it to him, he testified, and he opened the bottle and poured three glasses—on for himself, one for the 17-year-old and one for a third youth whose name he does not know.

"Then Betty said: 'Don't I get any of that?' and I poured a glass for her and the other waitress," Kent testified. He said he later poured a glass of champagne for an airman who walked into the tavern.

"Did anyone working in the tavern ask your age?" the solicitor asked.

"No sir, they did not," Kent replied.

Kent was returned from County Jail to testify. The 17-year-old, who had been on leave from a psychiatric center to which he was referred from the Boys' Industrial School, later was sent to the Massillon State Hospital, police said.

The two were arrested after an unsuccessful attempt to steal a second bottle of champagne at the A. & P. Super-market, police said

Health Board Clears Restaurant's License

LISBON — A 1962 restaurant license has been issued to Gaughn's Restaurant on Routes 7 and 14 near Columbiana by the Columbiana County Health Board after the manager complied with health regulations, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Jack Jones, the manager, made application for a license Jan. 16, after the board authorized Sanitarian Harry Stockdale to close the restaurant until health regulations had been complied with.

Stockdale made another inspection Friday and found that his orders had been complied with and the license was issued Dr. Palmer said.

Motorist Faces Court In Fatality

LISBON — Charges of speeding and driving left of center will be filed against Wayne Hillyer, 32, of Hanoverton, driver of a car which smashed into a Hanoverton tavern Friday, killing Earl McIntosh of New Garden, a patron.

Assistant Prosecutor Joseph Barronzzi said today the charges will be filed in County Judge James MacDonald's court against Hillyer, who has been discharged from Youngstown South Side Hospital where he was a patient with a fractured jaw suffered in the crash.

Mr. McIntosh, 45, was killed when Hillyer's car crashed through the wall of the tavern, injuring the victim's wife, Mary Margaret, and two others.

Barronzzi said evidence in the case will also be presented for consideration by the Grand Jury as part of the policy to have the panel study all fatalities in which an offense has been committed.

County Officials Correct Report On Home Closing

The closing of the Kyes Memorial Children's Receiving Home at East Palestine early this month was not ordered specifically to provide funds for operation of the retarded children's classes at Elkton, county officials explained today.

In a Review story Tuesday, the closing of the home was attributed directly to the need for funds for the operation of the classes.

However, Welfare Department officials said the department was compelled to trim operations because of a cutback in operating funds under the new county budget, and the closing of the home was decided upon because it was adjudged the most expendable operation.

The funds provided by suspending the home at East Palestine enabled continued operations elsewhere in the department, including the Elkton school project, it was said in clarification.

The commissioners have authorized a two-tenths of a mill levy to be placed on the May 8 primary ballot for funds for the retarded children's classes.

Safety Belts Offered For 2 Police Cruisers

The city has accepted an offer of a pair of free safety belts for the front seats of each of its two cruisers now in operation. Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi said today.

As a safety move, Warren Downing, manager of the Goodyear Service Store on Walnut St., offered to install the seat belts free of charge, the chief said. They will be provided for the driver's seat as well as for the occupant of the other half of the front seat, the chief related.

The company also has offered to provide premium quality blowout proof tires for any new police cruisers purchased in the future, the chief related. When a new cruiser is acquired, the firm will remove the factory tires and replace them with the premium quality tires at no charge, he said.

Court Hears Job Dispute

Arguments were given this morning in the mandamus action in the Ohio Supreme Court to force James T. Welch, director of state personnel, to pay withheld wages of the late Mrs. Edna Helman of Lisbon for work as a microfilm operator.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and Atty. Howard M. Cole, who is assisting in the case, appeared before the court at Columbus.

Mrs. Helman and three of her Republicans were hired Feb. 1, 1961, to replace four Democrats serving as microfilm photostat and switchboard operators and dog license clerk and were never paid.

Auditor Kenneth Bell refused to honor the payroll as both the chairman of commissioners and Welch have to sign the vouchers of the four employes.

Commissioner Walter Hunston refused to sign the Democratic payroll and Welch the GOP payroll, so no one was paid.

The Democrats claim they were under Civil Service by virtue of a non - competitive examination and were entitled to the jobs from which they allege they were discharged illegally.

Brokaw and Cole represented the two GOP commissioners, Hunston of East Palestine and Galen Greenisen of Salem, before the State Supreme Court Jan. 16, on the 7th District Court of Appeals ruling that the democrats were discharged illegally and a ruling in that case and today's is expected on both, Brokaw said.

Mrs. Helman died after the case was taken to the high court and it is now being processed on behalf of her estate.

Court Begins Hearing For Drink Charge

A lengthy hearing was under way this morning in Municipal Court on the first of two charges filed by police against a waitress accused of permitting a minor to consume beer and intoxicating liquor on the premises of a downtown tavern.

The defendant is Mrs. Betty Sendling, 722 Dresden Ave., a waitress at Gene's Bar on E. 6th St. The charges were filed by Patrolman E. R. Furgason as the outgrowth of investigation of a theft case Dec. 28 in which a youth, 19, and his 17 - year - old companion were taken into custody.

Mrs. Sendling is accused of permitting the 17-year-old to consume beer and part of a bottle of champagne which he and the 19-year-old admitted they stole at City Market and took to the tavern to be cooled.

The charges are being tried separately, based on a ruling made yesterday by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a motion by Atty. Ben H. Berman, defense counsel. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark is prosecuting.

As the case opened this morning, the judge ruled that the first charge to be tried would be the one alleging consumption of champagne. The second hearing will follow. Mrs. Sendling pleaded not guilty at arraignment Jan. 11.

The prosecution's principal witness is Gerald Lee Kent, 19, of Hoppels Corners, who testified he now is a prisoner in County Jail on theft charges involving the champagne and other items which he and the 17-year-old admitted stealing.

When Kent and the juvenile told police they had consumed beer and the stolen champagne in the tavern, it touched off an investigation that led to filing of the charges being tried today.

Kent testified he and the juvenile entered the tavern about 2 or 2:30 p. m. on Dec. 28. He started to testify about a purchase of beer, but was interrupted by an objection of defense counsel, who pointed out the first case covered only the alleged consumption of "intoxicating liquor" — the champagne.

Then, Kent related, he and the juvenile went to City Market and stole the bottle of champagne. They returned to Gene's Bar and requested the waitress to put it on ice to cool, which she did, he related.

After waiting 30 to 45 minutes, Kent related, he went to Mrs. Sendling and asked her for the champagne. She gave it to him, he testified, and he opened the bottle and poured three glasses—on for himself, one for the 17-year-old and one for a third youth whose name he does not know.

"Then Betty said: 'Don't I get any of that?' and I poured a glass for her and the other waitress," Kent testified. He said he later poured a glass of champagne for an airman who walked into the tavern.

"Did anyone working in the tavern ask your age?" the solicitor asked.

"No sir, they did not," Kent replied.

Kent was returned from County Jail to testify. The 17-year-old, who had been on leave from a psychiatric center to which he was referred from the Boys' Industrial School, later was sent to the Massillon State Hospital, police said.

The two were arrested after an unsuccessful attempt to steal a second bottle of champagne at the A. & P. Super-market, police said

Health Board Clears Restaurant's License

LISBON — A 1962 restaurant license has been issued to Gaughn's Restaurant on Routes 7 and 14 near Columbiana by the Columbiana County Health Board after the manager complied with health regulations, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Jack Jones, the manager, made application for a license Jan. 16, after the board authorized Sanitarian Harry Stockdale to close the restaurant until health regulations had been complied with.

Stockdale made another inspection Friday and found that his orders had been complied with and the license was issued Dr. Palmer said.

Motorist Faces Court In Fatality

LISBON — Charges of speeding and driving left of center will be filed against Wayne Hillyer, 32, of Hanoverton, driver of a car which smashed into a Hanoverton tavern Friday, killing Earl McIntosh of New Garden, a patron.

Assistant Prosecutor Joseph Barronzzi said today the charges will be filed in County Judge James MacDonald's court against Hillyer, who has been discharged from Youngstown South Side Hospital where he was a patient with a fractured jaw suffered in the crash.

Mr. McIntosh, 45, was killed when Hillyer's car crashed through the wall of the tavern, injuring the victim's wife, Mary Margaret, and two others.

Barronzzi said evidence in the case will also be presented for consideration by the Grand Jury as part of the policy to have the panel study all fatalities in which an offense has been committed.

County Officials Correct Report On Home Closing

The closing of the Kyes Memorial Children's Receiving Home at East Palestine early this month was not ordered specifically to provide funds for operation of the retarded children's classes at Elkton, county officials explained today.

In a Review story Tuesday, the closing of the home was attributed directly to the need for funds for the operation of the classes.

However, Welfare Department officials said the department was compelled to trim operations because of a cutback in operating funds under the new county budget, and the closing of the home was decided upon because it was adjudged the most expendable operation.

The funds provided by suspending the home at East Palestine enabled continued operations elsewhere in the department, including the Elkton school project, it was said in clarification.

The commissioners have authorized a two-tenths of a mill levy to be placed on the May 8 primary ballot for funds for the retarded children's classes.

Safety Belts Offered For 2 Police Cruisers

The city has accepted an offer of a pair of free safety belts for the front seats of each of its two cruisers now in operation. Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi said today.

As a safety move, Warren Downing, manager of the Goodyear Service Store on Walnut St., offered to install the seat belts free of charge, the chief said. They will be provided for the driver's seat as well as for the occupant of the other half of the front seat, the chief related.

The company also has offered to provide premium quality blowout proof tires for any new police cruisers purchased in the future, the chief related. When a new cruiser is acquired, the firm will remove the factory tires and replace them with the premium quality tires at no charge, he said.

Court Hears Job Dispute

Arguments were given this morning in the mandamus action in the Ohio Supreme Court to force James T. Welch, director of state personnel, to pay withheld wages of the late Mrs. Edna Helman of Lisbon for work as a microfilm operator.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and Atty. Howard M. Cole, who is assisting in the case, appeared before the court at Columbus.

Mrs. Helman and three of her Republicans were hired Feb. 1, 1961, to replace four Democrats serving as microfilm photostat and switchboard operators and dog license clerk and were never paid.

Auditor Kenneth Bell refused to honor the payroll as both the chairman of commissioners and Welch have to sign the vouchers of the four employes.

Commissioner Walter Hunston refused to sign the Democratic payroll and Welch the GOP payroll, so no one was paid.

The Democrats claim they were under Civil Service by virtue of a non - competitive examination and were entitled to the jobs from which they allege they were discharged illegally.

Brokaw and Cole represented the two GOP commissioners, Hunston of East Palestine and Galen Greenisen of Salem, before the State Supreme Court Jan. 16, on the 7th District Court of Appeals ruling that the democrats were discharged illegally and a ruling in that case and today's is expected on both, Brokaw said.

Mrs. Helman died after the case was taken to the high court and it is now being processed on behalf of her estate.

Film Glamour Trancends TV Glitter

Hal Humphrey

Most of the TV stars live in casual ranch-type homes in San Fernando Valley or Sherman Oaks. They're nice, but one can still smell the varnish. In Beverly Hills there's a city ordinance against smells.

-:-

MISS DUNNE (you notice I'd never call her just Irene) is to star in next Sunday's "Theater" in a drama which was rumored to be a pilot film for a proposed TV serise with Miss Dunne as a lady politician. It's on Channel 8 at 9 p.m.)

"They wanted it to be," she said, "but believe me, it's not a pilot for a series. When I was at the Revue Studios filming this show, I felt so sorry for all those people who were there doing series and knowing they were unable to do their best. It just can't be done every week, can it?"

It struck Miss Dunne and me that herein may lie one reason why it's tougher to be a TV star and still be as glamourous as a big movie star.

"I THINK of the lonely lives they must lead," she adds. "They are so busy with the series that they have no time to do anything else.

"And those commercials! I don't want to downgrade television, but having to do commercials doesn't really do anything for a star, do you think?"

Miss Dunne learned 'way back in 1952, when she was hostessing the old "Playhouse of Stars," that even when a star doesn't pitch the sponsor's product directly, he or she can be smeared by it.

"Many of my fans were very unhappy about my being associated with a beer, and wrote to tell me so," she recalls.

-:-

THERE ARE OTHER reasons why a movie star can walk into one of Hollywood's or New York's most chic restaurants and electrify the jaded clientele, while a TV star might have trouble catching the maitre d's eye.

In Miss Dunne's opinion, it was the care and feeding by the big movie studios which helped glamorize the stars she grew up with.

"I don't think acting had too much to do with it, either. There was my dear friend Gary Cooper, who lived just down the street. Now I don't think he was any better actor in the last picture he made than in the first, but he had something — it was that star quality.

"THEN DON'T FORGET that each studio had coaches who were working constantly to make us stars," says Miss Dunne, remembering a little girl named Elizabeth Taylor who worked with her in "The White Cliffs of Dover" (1944).

Do you suppose Elizabeth Taylor would have been the glamour queen she is today, if she had got her start in one of TV's family situation comedies? I didn't even bother to ask Miss Dunne that one.

"Remember now," Miss Dunne cautions, "I'm not talking about Loretta Young or Jane Wyman or Barbara Stanwyck. They were stars long before they went on TV. In fact, I remember Loretta's sitting on the floor in front of the TV set right in this room, and watching me on 'Playhouse.' Do you suppose it gave her an idea?

"I REALLY BELIEVE," she continues, "that TV stars born of TV will have to get better, or they're not going to stay. Most movie stars had great staying power, because they were good at what they did."

Miss Dunne made her movie debut in "Cimarron," which won an Academy "Oscar." That was in 1932. For staying power, she hasn't done too badly, either.

Firm Plans New Building

A 100-year-old three-story brick home at 430 Walnut St. is being razed to clear the way for a new building that will be the future home of the Quality Stamp Co. and the Steno-Aid Office Supplies & Equipment Co., operated by Lundy Price and his son, Woodrow Price.

The Prices acquired the residential property from Thomas Robinson, 418 Walnut St. Occupying a lot 42-x-100, it is known as the old Robinson Homestead.

The Prices' business now is located at 325 E. 2nd St., a site to which it was moved six years ago when the building it formerly occupied on E. 5th St. was razed in preparation of a parking lot for the Moore Furniture Co.

The Prices expect to erect a concrete block building about 30x-60 feet on the site on Walnut near E. 5th St. But the building job is not scheduled for about three years, as the lease on the present location has four more years to run.

Exact plans have not been worked out for the new building, but it may be a two-story structure. In the meantime, the future site of the new building may be used as a parking lot.

The company specializes in rubber stamps and office supplies. Quality Stamp Co. was founded in 1905. Clarence Price, brother of Lundy Price, was one of the organizers, along with Harvey Phelps.

The business was located in the Old Opera House Building on E. 6th St. before moving to the E. 5th St. location. It occupied the E. 5th St. building from 1914 until it moved to E. 2nd St. six years ago.

Father In Dayton Kills Son With Paring Knife

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Cecil Albert Grillot Jr., 15, lay dead on the kitchen floor of his home, with 20 wounds in his throat.

Cecil Albert Grillot Sr. went to a neighbor's home, asked to use the telephone, called police and told them to come and get him—he had slain his son.

Police arrived to find the boy had been killed with a paring knife. Cuts on his hands indicated he had struggled to fight off the attack.

The slaying took place Tuesday afternoon, not long after Grillot's wife had left the two-room, second-floor downtown apartment, police said.

The elder Grillot, 46, was held for investigation of homicide. He told detectives at first that he didn't know why he had killed Cecil Jr.—his only child. Later, officers reported, Grillot told them he considered the boy "a misfit, with no goals in life" and that he had decided to "put him out of his misery."

Boys Are Quizzed In Teacher Stabbing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A junior high school corridor was the scene where a teacher was stabbed with a switchblade knife Tuesday. Arthur Fograscher, 32, was in fair condition in a hospital after the incident at Franklin Junior High.

Police were questioning several boys from nearby East High School whom the teacher had ordered out of the Franklin building earlier.

Lower Prices Slated On Drug Store Items

CINCINNATI (AP) — Some 20,000 members of AFL-CIO unions in greater Cincinnati will be able to buy drug store articles at lower prices in about five weeks.

A union-supported pharmacy is scheduled to open here about March 1, says Richard Daggett, public relations director for the Toledo-based Union Drug Plan.

Bermuda, which was settled by the English in 1611, is the oldest self-governing British colonial possession.

Pastor Urges Leadership

The assertion of valid leadership in community life throughout the nation was urged by the Rev. Donald Vogel at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at the City Hall auditorium.

Rev. Vogel of the First United Presbyterian Church, a lieutenant commander in the Navy Reserve, discussed a recent leadership seminar held by the Navy at Washington which he attended.

The minister said he learned two lessons from the seminar.

"We must be leaders at all times, even at times of low ebb in our community and personal lives.

"And we must be leaders when those who follow ask questions we cannot answer."

Rev. Vogel said the missions of the community are not as clear in this age as they were 50 years ago. "The days of romantic victors have passed; the time for victories in the area of human values in the atomic age has arrived," he concluded.

About 27 attended the meeting at which Russell Davis reported five or six members will attend a meeting of the East Liverpool Kiwanis Club Thursday for an inter-club session.

Jeffery Oyster and Jim Boyd of the Key Club were guests. Lee Adams was program chairman. Paul Finley, president, was in charge.

Elyria's Council Asks Woman Not To Move Away

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—City Council has asked Mrs. Arthur Ely, formally, not to move away from Elyria.

Council passed a resolution Tuesday night, and Gerald Martin, who figured in the dispute that caused Mrs. Ely to threaten to leave town, said it was "the first time in the 60 years I have lived here that Council ever passed a resolution asking anyone or any industry to stay."

The dispute involved the body of Mrs. Ely's husband, the last member of a family which founded Elyria. Until three weeks ago, Mrs. Ely kept his casket above ground, stored in a room at the Ridgeview Cemetery mausoleum. She had said the body was being kept there until a proper burial site could be prepared. Construction of a mausoleum was delayed because of a problem involving the Ely estate.

When protests mounted, she had the casket moved but declined to say where. Martin had led the fight to have the Ely casket buried or removed.

Cites Anti-Trust Decision

Senate Passage Of Bill Would Cut Dupont Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a measure that would cut millions of dollars from the tax bill of Du Pont stockholders in the event they receive $3.5 billion in General Motors stock from an antitrust decision.

Senate passage late Tuesday, after a week of debate and months of maneuvers, completed congressional action on the legislation. The House passed it last September. President Kennedy's approval was considered certain.

The Supreme Court has ruled that Du Pont's possession of 63 million shares of G. M. violates antitrust laws and that the chemical firm must dispose of it.

Du Pont said it would prefer to do this by distributing the shares to its stockholders but could not because of the heavy taxes under present law, which would require the recipients to pay on the full value of the G. M. stock at regular income tax rates.

The tax relief measure would permit them to pay at capital gains rates—half the normal income levy up to a 25 per cent maximum—and only on the difference between what they paid for Du Pont and what the G. M. now is worth.

This means an estimated two-thirds of the 200,000 Du Pont stockholders would not have to pay a tax on recipt of the stock.

The bill would reduce the taxes on such a distribution from more than $1 billion to about $470 million.

120-Day Delay Plan Offered Seniors Signing In Marines

Sgt. Robert J. Barnes, local Marine Corps recruiter, announced today the corps' 120-day delay program will be available to East Liverpool High School seniors this year.

He also announced the enlistment of a Wellsville youth under the special delay program.

George W. Hall, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd D. Hall, 807 Buckeye Ave., enlisted Jan. 19 and selected March 1 as the date to depart for his training. He will be sent to Parris Island, S. C., for recruit training, and receive four weeks of advance training at Camp Lejeune, N. C. He is a 1959 graduate of Wellsville High School and is employed by the State Highway Department in Columbus.

Under the delay program, high school seniors may work off part of their military obligation while completing their senior year, Sgt. Barnes said.

"Seniors who take advantage of this program during the months of February or March remain in school, while their military obligation ticks away, and depart for training after graduation," he said.

Sgt. Barnes said the program has two distinct features — promotional and financial. While in school, the recruit is building his time for promotion. When he does depart for training, he starts with an automatic pay raise given to all Marines who have completed four months of service, Sgt. Barnes said.

The recruit remains completely inactive during the four-month delay period, and will depart for his training on a pre-determined date and not be caught or delayed during a large influx of enlistments that normally occur during the summer months, Sgt. Barnes reported.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Sgt. Barnes on the third floor of City Hall each Tuesday or Friday between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. or by calling FU. 6-6181 for an appointment.

Film Glamour Trancends TV Glitter

Hal Humphrey

Most of the TV stars live in casual ranch-type homes in San Fernando Valley or Sherman Oaks. They're nice, but one can still smell the varnish. In Beverly Hills there's a city ordinance against smells.

-:-

MISS DUNNE (you notice I'd never call her just Irene) is to star in next Sunday's "Theater" in a drama which was rumored to be a pilot film for a proposed TV serise with Miss Dunne as a lady politician. It's on Channel 8 at 9 p.m.)

"They wanted it to be," she said, "but believe me, it's not a pilot for a series. When I was at the Revue Studios filming this show, I felt so sorry for all those people who were there doing series and knowing they were unable to do their best. It just can't be done every week, can it?"

It struck Miss Dunne and me that herein may lie one reason why it's tougher to be a TV star and still be as glamourous as a big movie star.

-:-

"I THINK of the lonely lives they must lead," she adds. "They are so busy with the series that they have no time to do anything else.

"And those commercials! I don't want to downgrade television, but having to do commercials doesn't really do anything for a star, do you think?"

Miss Dunne learned 'way back in 1952, when she was hostessing the old "Playhouse of Stars," that even when a star doesn't pitch the sponsor's product directly, he or she can be smeared by it.

"Many of my fans were very unhappy about my being associated with a beer, and wrote to tell me so," she recalls.

-:-

THERE ARE OTHER reasons why a movie star can walk into one of Hollywood's or New York's most chic restaurants and electrify the jaded clientele, while a TV star might have trouble catching the maitre d's eye.

In Miss Dunne's opinion, it was the care and feeding by the big movie studios which helped glamorize the stars she grew up with.

"I don't think acting had too much to do with it, either. There was my dear friend Gary Cooper, who lived just down the street. Now I don't think he was any better actor in the last picture he made than in the first, but he had something — it was that star quality.

-:-

"THEN DON'T FORGET that each studio had coaches who were working constantly to make us stars," says Miss Dunne, remembering a little girl named Elizabeth Taylor who worked with her in "The White Cliffs of Dover" (1944).

Do you suppose Elizabeth Taylor would have been the glamour queen she is today, if she had got her start in one of TV's family situation comedies? I didn't even bother to ask Miss Dunne that one.

"Remember now," Miss Dunne cautions, "I'm not talking about Loretta Young or Jane Wyman or Barbara Stanwyck. They were stars long before they went on TV. In fact, I remember Loretta's sitting on the floor in front of the TV set right in this room, and watching me on 'Playhouse.' Do you suppose it gave her an idea?

-:-

"I REALLY BELIEVE," she continues, "that TV stars born of TV will have to get better, or they're not going to stay. Most movie stars had great staying power, because they were good at what they did."

Miss Dunne made her movie debut in "Cimarron," which won an Academy "Oscar." That was in 1932. For staying power, she hasn't done too badly, either.

Firm Plans New Building

A 100-year-old three-story brick home at 430 Walnut St. is being razed to clear the way for a new building that will be the future home of the Quality Stamp Co. and the Steno-Aid Office Supplies & Equipment Co., operated by Lundy Price and his son, Woodrow Price.

The Prices acquired the residential property from Thomas Robinson, 418 Walnut St. Occupying a lot 42-x-100, it is known as the old Robinson Homestead.

The Prices' business now is located at 325 E. 2nd St., a site to which it was moved six years ago when the building it formerly occupied on E. 5th St. was razed in preparation of a parking lot for the Moore Furniture Co.

The Prices expect to erect a concrete block building about 30x-60 feet on the site on Walnut near E. 5th St. But the building job is not scheduled for about three years, as the lease on the present location has four more years to run.

Exact plans have not been worked out for the new building, but it may be a two-story structure. In the meantime, the future site of the new building may be used as a parking lot.

The company specializes in rubber stamps and office supplies. Quality Stamp Co. was founded in 1905. Clarence Price, brother of Lundy Price, was one of the organizers, along with Harvey Phelps.

The business was located in the Old Opera House Building on E. 6th St. before moving to the E. 5th St. location. It occupied the E. 5th St. building from 1914 until it moved to E. 2nd St. six years ago.

Father In Dayton Kills Son With Paring Knife

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Cecil Albert Grillot Jr., 15, lay dead on the kitchen floor of his home, with 20 wounds in his throat.

Cecil Albert Grillot Sr. went to a neighbor's home, asked to use the telephone, called police and told them to come and get him—he had slain his son.

Police arrived to find the boy had been killed with a paring knife. Cuts on his hands indicated he had struggled to fight off the attack.

The slaying took place Tuesday afternoon, not long after Grillot's wife had left the two-room, second-floor downtown apartment, police said.

The elder Grillot, 46, was held for investigation of homicide. He told detectives at first that he didn't know why he had killed Cecil Jr.—his only child. Later, officers reported, Grillot told them he considered the boy "a misfit, with no goals in life" and that he had decided to "put him out of his misery."

Police were questioning several boys from nearby East High School whom the teacher had ordered out of the Franklin building earlier.

Lower Prices Slated On Drug Store Items

CINCINNATI (AP) — Some 20,000 members of AFL-CIO unions in greater Cincinnati will be able to buy drug store articles at lower prices in about five weeks.

A union-supported pharmacy is scheduled to open here about March 1, says Richard Daggett, public relations director for the Toledo-based Union Drug Plan.

Cites Anti-Trust Decision

Senate Passage Of Bill Would Cut Dupont Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a measure that would cut millions of dollars from the tax bill of Du Pont stockholders in the event they receive $3.5 billion in General Motors stock from an antitrust decision.

Senate passage late Tuesday, after a week of debate and months of maneuvers, completed congressional action on the legislation. The House passed it last September. President Kennedy's approval was considered certain.

The Supreme Court has ruled that Du Pont's possession of 63 million shares of G. M. violates antitrust laws and that the chemical firm must dispose of it.

Du Pont said it would prefer to do this by distributing the shares to its stockholders but could not because of the heavy taxes under present law, which would require the recipients to pay on the full value of the G. M. stock at regular income tax rates.

The tax relief measure would permit them to pay at capital gains rates—half the normal income levy up to a 25 per cent maximum—and only on the difference between what they paid for Du Pont and what the G. M. now is worth.

This means an estimated two-thirds of the 200,000 Du Pont stockholders would not have to pay a tax on recipt of the stock.

The bill would reduce the taxes on such a distribution from more than $1 billion to about $470 million.

120-Day Delay Plan Offered Seniors Signing In Marines

Sgt. Robert J. Barnes, local Marine Corps recruiter, announced today the corps' 120-day delay program will be available to East Liverpool High School seniors this year.

He also announced the enlistment of a Wellsville youth under the special delay program.

George W. Hall, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd D. Hall, 807 Buckeye Ave., enlisted Jan. 19 and selected March 1 as the date to depart for his training. He will be sent to Parris Island, S. C., for recruit training, and receive four weeks of advance training at Camp Lejeune, N. C. He is a 1959 graduate of Wellsville High School and is employed by the State Highway Department in Columbus.

Under the delay program, high school seniors may work off part of their military obligation while completing their senior year, Sgt. Barnes said.

"Seniors who take advantage of this program during the months of February or March remain in school, while their military obligation ticks away, and depart for training after graduation," he said.

Sgt. Barnes said the program has two distinct features — promotional and financial. While in school, the recruit is building his time for promotion. When he does depart for training, he starts with an automatic pay raise given to all Marines who have completed four months of service, Sgt. Barnes said.

The recruit remains completely inactive during the four-month delay period, and will depart for his training on a pre-determined date and not be caught or delayed during a large influx of enlistments that normally occur during the summer months, Sgt. Barnes reported.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Sgt. Barnes on the third floor of City Hall each Tuesday or Friday between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. or by calling FU. 6-6181 for an appointment.

Summitville Family Vacations In Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Elvy Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Thompson and children of Summitville are vacationing in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pitts and daughter of near Leetonia visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Pitts.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Pitts visited in Salem Friday.

The family of Mrs. Harry Rogers held a party at her home Saturday night in observance of her birthday anniversary.

Pastor Urges Leadership

The assertion of valid leadership in community life throughout the nation was urged by the Rev. Donald Vogel at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at the City Hall auditorium.

Rev. Vogel of the First United Presbyterian Church, a lieutenant commander in the Navy Reserve, discussed a recent leadership seminar held by the Navy at Washington which he attended.

The minister said he learned two lessons from the seminar.

"We must be leaders at all times, even at times of low ebb in our community and personal lives.

"And we must be leaders when those who follow ask questions we cannot answer."

Rev. Vogel said the missions of the community are not as clear in this age as they were 50 years ago. "The days of romantic victors have passed; the time for victories in the area of human values in the atomic age has arrived," he concluded.

About 27 attended the meeting at which Russell Davis reported five or six members will attend a meeting of the East Liverpool Kiwanis Club Thursday for an inter-club session.

Jeffery Oyster and Jim Boyd of the Key Club were guests. Lee Adams was program chairman. Paul Finley, president, was in charge.

Elyria's Council Asks Woman Not To Move Away

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—City Council has asked Mrs. Arthur Ely, formally, not to move away from Elyria.

Council passed a resolution Tuesday night, and Gerald Martin, who figured in the dispute that caused Mrs. Ely to threaten to leave town, said it was "the first time in the 60 years I have lived here that Council ever passed a resolution asking anyone or any industry to stay."

The dispute involved the body of Mrs. Ely's husband, the last member of a family which founded Elyria. Until three weeks ago, Mrs. Ely kept his casket above ground, stored in a room at the Ridgeview Cemetery mausoleum. She had said the body was being kept there until a proper burial site could be prepared. Construction of a mausoleum was delayed because of a problem involving the Ely estate.

When protests mounted, she had the casket moved but declined to say where. Martin had led the fight to have the Ely casket buried or removed.

2 Seamen Visit Irondale Homes

Seamen Charles E. Leffler and Robert R. Rees, of Traverse City, Mich., were weekend guests of Mrs. Charles Leffler and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicholson of Irondale. They are stationed at Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. John Hart of Irondale and Mrs. Aaron Roach of Wellsville attended funeral services Sunday in Philadelphia for John Ingram.

Randy Frampton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Frampton, is ill with mumps.

Mrs. Minnie Downard is able to be out after an illness of two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shepherd of East Liverpool have named their new daughter, Lee Anna. The mother is the former Dorothy Dallas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Dallas of Irondale.

U.N. Expected To Approve Plan Favoring Angola

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. delegates predicted today the General Assembly will give overwhelming approval to an Asian-African resolution calling on Portugal to end harsh rule in Angola and start the West African colony on the road to independence.

The resolution was submitted Tuesday with 40 sponsors and was expected to poll as many as 85 favorable votes in the 104-nation assembly, well over the two-thirds needed for approval.

The draft was assured support from the 51 members of the Asian-African bloc, the 9-nation Soviet bloc and many of the 20 Latin-American states.

The United States, Britain and France have given no indication how they will vote on the proposal, which asks all member states to deny Portugal—a NATO member—any support that could be used against the Angolans.

A U.S. spokesman said the resolution had been sent to Washington for study and that U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson would announce the American position Thursday. Observers predicted he would support the Asian-African draft.

The French and British were still studying the draft.

NLRB Upholds Ruling Of Unfair Practices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has upheld its trial examiner in a finding of unfair labor practices by the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, Inc., at Ashville, Ohio.

The NLRB order instructs Farm Bureau to recognize and bargain with the United Steelworkers as representative of production and maintenance workers at the co-op's Ashville plant.

Farm Bureau had filed exception to the examiner's finding of last Nov. 6 that truck drivers, machine operators and baggers at the alfalfa processing facility could organize as a labor union. Management claimed they were agricultural workers, despite NLRB certification last August of an election that brought the workers into the United Steelworkers.

Clevelander Rejected On Immigrant Visa

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The immigrant visa for Mervin Gold, 31, of Cleveland has been rejected by Israeli officials.

Gold, who arrived in Israel last October, is reported wanted in the United States for questioning in connection with the use of stolen Canadian bonds as collateral.

Seeks Ohio Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Catherine R. Dobbs, former mayor of Barberton, said Tuesday she will seek the Democratic nomination for secretary of state in the May primary, and is circulating petitions for a place on the ballot. Mrs. Dobbs, who completed three terms as mayor of Barberton Jan. 1., served in the Ohio Senate in 1949-50.

U.N. Expected To Approve Plan Favoring Angola

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. delegates predicted today the General Assembly will give overwhelming approval to an Asian-African resolution calling on Portugal to end harsh rule in Angola and start the West African colony on the road to independence.

The resolution was submitted Tuesday with 40 sponsors and was expected to poll as many as 85 favorable votes in the 104-nation assembly, well over the two-thirds needed for approval.

The draft was assured support from the 51 members of the Asian-African bloc, the 9-nation Soviet bloc and many of the 20 Latin-American states.

The United States, Britain and France have given no indication how they will vote on the proposal, which asks all member states to deny Portugal—a NATO member—any support that could be used against the Angolans.

A U.S. spokesman said the resolution had been sent to Washington for study and that U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson would announce the American position Thursday. Observers predicted he would support the Asian-African draft.

The French and British were still studying the draft.

NLRB Upholds Ruling Of Unfair Practices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has upheld its trial examiner in a finding of unfair labor practices by the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, Inc., at Ashville, Ohio.

The NLRB order instructs Farm Bureau to recognize and bargain with the United Steelworkers as representative of production and maintenance workers at the co-op's Ashville plant.

Farm Bureau had filed exception to the examiner's finding of last Nov. 6 that truck drivers, machine operators and baggers at the alfalfa processing facility could organize as a labor union. Management claimed they were agricultural workers, despite NLRB certification last August of an election that brought the workers into the United Steelworkers.

Clevelander Rejected On Immigrant Visa

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The immigrant visa for Mervin Gold, 31, of Cleveland has been rejected by Israeli officials.

Gold, who arrived in Israel last October, is reported wanted in the United States for questioning in connection with the use of stolen Canadian bonds as collateral.

Seeks Ohio Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Catherine R. Dobbs, former mayor of Barberton, said Tuesday she will seek the Democratic nomination for secretary of state in the May primary, and is circulating petitions for a place on the ballot. Mrs. Dobbs, who completed three terms as mayor of Barberton Jan. 1., served in the Ohio Senate in 1949-50.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NUMBER 40, 1961

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 148 OF THE CODE OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, PROVIDING FOR OPERATION OF ROLLERSKATING RINKS ON SUNDAY.

Whereas, Section 148 of the Code of the City of East Liverpool provides that there shall be no rollerskating rink operation on Sunday and,

Whereas, it is now considered by Council that limited operation of such should be permitted.

Now therefore

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL STATE OF OHIO.

Section 1. That section 148 of the Code of the City of East Liverpool be amended, which amended section shall read as follows:

Section 148. ROLLERSKATING RINKS - OPERATION ON SUNDAY.

It shall be unlawful for any person, being the owner, licencee or keeper or being in charge of any rollerskating rink located within the corporate limits of the city or of any building or other place or premises where rollerskating is permitted within the corporate limits of the city, to allow or permit, directly or indirectly, such rollerskating rink, building, place or premises to be open on Sunday before the hour of 1:30 P.M. or after the hour of 5:30 P.M., official City time, for the purpose of rollerskating or to permit, directly or indirectly, rollerskating in such rink, building, place or premises on Sunday, before or after said hours.

Section 2. The penalty for violation of said section 148 shall be as provided in Section 149 of the Code of this City.

Section 3. That existing section 148 of the Code of the City of East Liverpool, and any ordinance or parts of ordinance inconsistent herewith be, and the same are, hereby repealed.

Section 4. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed this 7th day of December, 1961.

CHARLES N. EDWARDS
President of Council

EDNA M. SWEENEY
Acting Clerk of Council

This is to certify that the foregoing Ordinance was presented to the Mayor for approval on December 8, 1961, was returned to Council without his signature January 9, 1962.

NOTICE

In the Probate Court
State of Ohio, Columbiana County, ss.

In Re: Estate of Virginia Moore Rush, Deceased
To Whom It May Concern:

Notice is hereby given that on the 18th day of January, 1962, Lawrence A. Rush, Executor of the last will and testament of Virginia Moore Rush deceased, late of the District of Grant, County of Hancock, State of West Virginia, filed in the Court an authenticated copy of the letters testamentary granted him by the County Court, Hancock County, State of West Virginia, and that all creditors having claims against said estate should present them to this Court within six months after the filing of said letters, or be forever barred from asserting any liens against the real estate of the decedent situated in the State of Ohio.

LOUIS TOBIN
Probate Judge

E. L. Review: Jan. 24, 31; Feb. 7, 1962.

LEGAL NOTICES

LEGAL NOTICE

The unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, administrators, executors and assigns of Raymond Baker, deceased, will take notice that The First National Bank of East Liverpool, at East Liverpool, Ohio, Administrator of the estate of Raymond Baker, deceased, on the 24th day of November, 1961, filed its petition in the Probate Court of Columbiana County, State of Ohio, where same is designated as Case No. 57335 A, Docket 63, Page 152, for a determination of heirship in said estate. The prayer in said petition is that the Court determine who are the heirs of said decedent entitled by law to inherit said estate according to the statues in such cases made and provided and for other relief.

The persons above named will further take notice that they have been made parties defendant to said petition and that they are required to answer the same on or before the 20th day of February, 1962, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF EAST LIVERPOOL, at EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, Administrator of the estate of Raymond Baker, deceased.

Francis H. Lang, Attorney for petitioner.

E. L. Review: Dec. 27, 1961; Jan. 3, 10, 17, 24, 31, 1962.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

3 CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation to Father Cunningham, Dawson Funeral Home, Nurses at City Hospital. Special thanks to Margaret Boch, The Milliron Co., Dr. Michaels and all who helped in any way with flowers and kindnesses during illness and death of my beloved husband, Lou Pollitt.

Elizabeth Whalen Pollitt

I wish to express my thanks to wonderful friends, neighbors and relatives who sent flowers, cards of sympathy, and helped me in so many ways, in the sudden loss of my beloved husband Simon Williams. A special thanks to Rev. Paul J. Dippolito, pallbearers and the Arner Funeral Home.

Helen Williams

Junior Editors Quiz on BASEBALL

QUESTION: How many baseballs are used in one season by the major leagues?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: If you've ever seen a major league baseball game at the ballpark or on television, you know that new balls are constantly being brought into play. You'll see the umpire examine a ball that may have been foul-tipped, and then throw in a new one. The used ones are not discarded but are used for batting practice. The exact number of balls actually used would be a bit difficult to determine, since there would be no accuarte way to do this except to have someone at every game do nothing but count the balls used in the game. The best estimate—based on information from the ball clubs — is that in the 1961 season there were about 68,000 balls used. This would average out to 48 balls a game. Each ball, incidentally, sells at a retail price of $3.25. This amounts to a bill of $161,000. But this is only a minor matter to the major leagues.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find out how a baseball is made and the standards of size and weight that must be kept for professional baseball.

★ ★ ★

David Porter of Rock Hill, S. C., wins $10 for this question. Mail your question on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review. If duplicate questions are received, NEA Newsfeatures will select the winner.

Bakery Union Rejects Hoffa

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Bakery & Confectionery Workers Union (B&C) convention has turned down three proposals concerning the independent union's future—including a personal invitation from James R. Hoffa that they merge with his Teamsters Union.

Now the 365 delegates to the union's 26th convention turn their attention to a proposal from an anti - administration group which wants to return to the AFL-CIO. Drafted by the Local Unions reunification Committee (LURC), the fourth proposal calls for negotiations with the AFL-CIO American Bakery and Confectionery Workers (ABC) "for the purpose of effectuating merger and unification."

Backers of the proposal said it probably will be introduced Thursday.

The delegates voted 1,797 to 837 Tuesday against accepting the invitation Hoffa extended in an address at the opening session Monday. The delegates represent 135 B&C locals in 50 states and Canada.

Also voted down by nearly two to one was a resolution that the B&C continue as an independent, and an administration-drafted proposal calling for return to the AFL-CIO.

The LURC joined the pro-Teamsters element in voting against that resolution. LURC spokesmen said they favored going in with the ABC but opposed the resolution in the form in which the administration proposed it. They said the language of the resolution suggested absorption of the B & C by the AFL-CIO group on terms set forth by George Meany, AFL-CIO president.

In Civic Music Series

Operatic Quartet To Sing Sunday

The San Francisco Operatic Quartet will appear at Westgate School on Sunday afternoon at 3 for the third in the series presented by the Tri-State Civic Music Association.

The group is composed of Catherine Paul, soprano; Donna Peterson, contralto; Kenneth Wohn, tenor, and Richard Frock, baritone. Each has achieved distinction as a solo artist, sponsors said.

Under the direction of its founder, Maestro Nino Comel, the quartet is currently in its seventh season of extensive tours in the United States and Canada.

Comel obtained his Ph.D. in music in his native Italy and, after an active career as a conductor, came to this country as one of the directors of the former Columbia Grand Opera Co. He has been responsible for the brilliant career of several nationally and internationally known opera and concert artists. As a composer he has to his credit a "Symphony In A Major," a comic opera, numerous songs and has also translated many operas into English.

The program will include old favorites, solo and ensemble pieces and seldom - performed operas. Certain portions will appeal to children, sponsors said.

30 Attend Job's Daughters' Meeting At Lisbon Temple

Over 30 attended the meeting of Bethel 48, Job's Daughters, Monday evening at the Lisbon Masonic Temple with Suzanne Tulbure, honored queen, presiding. It was the first regular meeting for the new officers following recent installation.

Dates were announced for inspections of neighboring bethels and they may be obtained from the honored queen.

Next meeting is Feb. 12.

Past Officers Meet

Misses Helen and Nellie Gillis of N. Beaver St. were hostesses Monday night for the Past Noble Grands Club of the Rebekah Lodge. Fifteen were present.

Mrs. George Moser, president, conducted brief business and Mrs. Ray Beers was in charge of a social time, including games. The hostesses served refreshments.

Next meeting is Feb. 26 with Mrs. Lloyd Hanna of W. Pine St.

The Coterie program Monday night was presented by Mrs. Leo Capehart, hostess, at her home on N. Market St.

The program on "Beauty Culture" concerned student training and requirements. Mrs. Capehart demonstrated hair styling with Miss Grace Todd, a member, and Mrs. George Hayes and Mrs. Earl Apple, guests, as models.

Hostess Serves Lunch

The hostess served lunch during the social period. Next meeting is Feb. 5 with Mrs. A. G. Marshall of Sunset Dr.

Two tables of 500 were in play when Mrs. Ross Carnes of N. Beaver St. entertained the Victory Club Monday night. Mrs. Ted James was a guest.

Prizes went to Mrs. John Chillik and Mrs. Francis Gunn. Lunch followed.

Mrs. Robert Stacey of N. Jefferson St. will receive the club Feb. 6.

The Past Templers Club met Monday night with Mrs. Gertrude Chamberlain of W. Maple St. and Mrs. William Carlisle as co-hostess.

Game Prizes Given

Prizes at games were won by Mrs. Brice Barton and Miss Bertha Webber. Lunch followed.

Next meeting is Feb. 26 with Mrs. Margaret Farmer of N. Jefferson St. Miss Webber will be associate hostess.

The Monday club met in the afternoon with Mrs. Dallas Hepburn of E. High St. for duplicate bridge.

Guests were Mrs. Erva Firestone, Mrs. Lodge Riddle and Mrs. Frank Low.

Mrs. Firestone will be hostess next week.

Club Plays Tripoli

Tripoli was the diversion when the Carenaught Club met with Mrs. Forest McClintock of S. Lincoln Ave. Monday night.

Mrs. Russell Harsh was a guest and with Mrs. Walter Cope were awarded prizes. Lunch followed.

Next meeting Feb. 26 will be a coverdish dinner at the home of Mrs. Arthur Morris of Prospect St.

Sens. Young, Lausche Differ On Roll Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Senators Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche, both Democrats, were on opposing sides of another Senate roll call vote Tuesday.

Young voted with the majority, which defeated a motion, 67-25, to send the Du Pont tax bill back to the Finance Committee. Lausche voted with the minority, in favor of the motion.

Future Plans Outlined

Cherokee District Scout Head Reviews Activities

A resume of scouting activities the past year in the Cherokee District and plans for future events were outlined today by Robert Gray of Chester, district executive.

The year ended with the largest number of units and members ever recorded. The district now includes 53 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Posts serving a total of 1,340 boys.

Seventy - five per cent of the units have trained leaders and assistants. Plans call for the addition of 12 new units. An organizer has been assigned to help with each.

Tom Snow is district chairman. Eugene Seeley, 800 Lotus Ave., Chester, district commissioner, said there are 16 neighborhood commissioners on his staff. They serve the units and aid with any problems.

Don Ramsey is chairman of the organization and extension committee. Frank Rossi, district vice chairman, said a "Together" dinner will be held May 1 at the First Christian Church in Wellsville for the prospective sponsors of new units being planned. More than 100 are expected to attend. The sponsors will be introduced to the various representatives.

A membership contest was held last year among the units, Gray said. The winner was Troop 43, sponsored by the Pleasant Heights Parent-Teacher Association, with 19 new members. Don Wolf is the scoutmaster. One of the boys will receive a free week at summer camp.

Troop 20 of the Covenant Presbyterian Church at Wellsville was second with 14 new members and Explorer Post 7 of St. Aloysius Catholic Church was next with five. Cub Pack 30 of the First Methodist Church at Chester won the award in cubbing with 12 new members.

Boy Scout Week will be observed Feb. 7-14. Milton Reese is chairman of the local observance plans. Various displays will be placed in store windows.

Boy Scout Sunday will be observed Feb. 11 and all boys will attend church services in uniform. A group of scouts will present the program Sunday evening at the Wellsville Central Methodist Church.

Gray said the annual Blue and Gold banquets will be held during February.

The Spring Camporall will be in May at Hammond Park in Wellsville. Some 600 scouts from Columbiana Council are expected.

Gray said a record number have registered for the summer session at Camp Twin Spruce at Leesville Lake. Thirteen district troops already have signed and only seven camp sites and dates are open.

Bill Rayburn, camping and activities chairman, said all the camps held during 1961 had record attendance.

2 Killed In Crash

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — Lendon Souder, 19, of Brunswick and Mrs. Louis Zednik, 64, of Cleveland were killed Tuesday in a truck-car collision at the intersection of Ohio 303 and Medina County Road 17 near Brunswick. Two other persons were injured, one critically.

Pickets Go To Sea, Torpedo Firm's Bid

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Pickets went to sea Tuesday to torpedo efforts of a company being struck.

Local 65 of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers launched two union members in boats.

They cruised around a dredge and finally threw cold water on a job by the Jeffersonville Boat and Machine Co.

No one would operate the dredge.

The Louisville Water Co., which hired the dredge to clean intake valves in the Ohio River, reported it had to hire another company.

In Civic Music Series

Operatic Quartet To Sing Sunday

The San Francisco Operatic Quartet will appear at Westgate School on Sunday afternoon at 3 for the third in the series presented by the Tri-State Civic Music Association.

The group is composed of Catherine Paul, soprano; Donna Peterson, contralto; Kenneth Wohn, tenor, and Richard Frock, baritone. Each has achieved distinction as a solo artist, sponsors said.

Under the direction of its founder, Maestro Nino Comel, the quartet is currently in its seventh season of extensive tours in the United States and Canada.

Comel obtained his Ph.D. in music in his native Italy and, after an active career as a conductor, came to this country as one of the directors of the former Columbia Grand Opera Co. He has been responsible for the brilliant career of several nationally and internationally known opera and concert artists. As a composer he has to his credit a "Symphony In A Major," a comic opera, numerous songs and has also translated many operas into English.

The program will include old favorites, solo and ensemble pieces and seldom - performed operas. Certain portions will appeal to children, sponsors said.

30 Attend Job's Daughters' Meeting At Lisbon Temple

Over 30 attended the meeting of Bethel 48, Job's Daughters, Monday evening at the Lisbon Masonic Temple with Suzanne Tulbure, honored queen, presiding. It was the first regular meeting for the new officers following recent installation.

Dates were announced for inspections of neighboring bethels and they may be obtained from the honored queen.

Sens. Young, Lausche Differ On Roll Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Senators Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche, both Democrats, were on opposing sides of another Senate roll call vote Tuesday.

Young voted with the majority, which defeated a motion, 67-25, to send the Du Pont tax bill back to the Finance Committee. Lausche voted with the minority, in favor of the motion.

Future Plans Outlined

Cherokee District Scout Head Reviews Activities

A resume of scouting activities the past year in the Cherokee District and plans for future events were outlined today by Robert Gray of Chester, district executive.

The year ended with the largest number of units and members ever recorded. The district now includes 53 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Posts serving a total of 1,340 boys.

Seventy - five per cent of the units have trained leaders and assistants. Plans call for the addition of 12 new units. An organizer has been assigned to help with each.

Tom Snow is district chairman. Eugene Seeley, 800 Lotus Ave., Chester, district commissioner, said there are 16 neighborhood commissioners on his staff. They serve the units and aid with any problems.

Don Ramsey is chairman of the organization and extension committee. Frank Rossi, district vice chairman, said a "Together" dinner will be held May 1 at the First Christian Church in Wellsville for the prospective sponsors of new units being planned. More than 100 are expected to attend. The sponsors will be introduced to the various representatives.

A membership contest was held last year among the units, Gray said. The winner was Troop 43, sponsored by the Pleasant Heights Parent-Teacher Association, with 19 new members. Don Wolf is the scoutmaster. One of the boys will receive a free week at summer camp.

Troop 20 of the Covenant Presbyterian Church at Wellsville was second with 14 new members and Explorer Post 7 of St. Aloysius Catholic Church was next with five. Cub Pack 30 of the First Methodist Church at Chester won the award in cubbing with 12 new members.

Boy Scout Week will be observed Feb. 7-14. Milton Reese is chairman of the local observance plans. Various displays will be placed in store windows.

Boy Scout Sunday will be observed Feb. 11 and all boys will attend church services in uniform. A group of scouts will present the program Sunday evening at the Wellsville Central Methodist Church.

Gray said the annual Blue and Gold banquets will be held during February.

The Spring Camporall will be in May at Hammond Park in Wellsville. Some 600 scouts from Columbiana Council are expected.

Gray said a record number have registered for the summer session at Camp Twin Spruce at Leesville Lake. Thirteen district troops already have signed and only seven camp sites and dates are open.

Bill Rayburn, camping and activities chairman, said all the camps held during 1961 had record attendance.

Pickets Go To Sea, Torpedo Firm's Bid

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Pickets went to sea Tuesday to torpedo efforts of a company being struck.

Local 65 of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers launched two union members in boats.

They cruised around a dredge and finally threw cold water on a job by the Jeffersonville Boat and Machine Co.

No one would operate the dredge.

The Louisville Water Co., which hired the dredge to clean intake valves in the Ohio River, reported it had to hire another company.
